FIRE QUESTIONS AT LOESCH ON SAVING CHICAGO

Veteran Quizzer Is Quizzed in Club.

...lessons in "effective citizenship" were taught last night by Frank J. Loesch, 76 year old president of the Chicago crime commission, member of President Hoover's crime commission, and first assistant state's attorney of Cook county.

"Am is his brother's keeper whether he wants to be or not," he told an audience in the City club composed of members of many civic clubs and with a considerable representation of youth, whom he advised:

"First know your government; then support it."

"Advise yourselves of what is going on in your community," he abjured them, "then take measures to correct the evils.

Calls for Vigorous Action.

"Assert yourselves. Don't be quiet. Do it temperately until the point is reached where you ought to do it intemperately, and then do it intemperately, but don't neglect to act effectively with the conditions that cause us to be known all over the United States as practically a bankrupt city with a floating debt of over two hundred million dollars.

"Such bad business conditions have been allowed to grow against our interests because we haven't been alive to our duty. Work together, because we can't accomplish much singly. Our local government is more important to you than the national government.

"The most negligent people are the intelligent people. You can't win an election with hurrahs. Get out and find out what is going on, and then do your part. Every person has some influence. Use it. A good and a strong word may effect a good deed. No one person is interested in all the problems of the community, but if you have some knowledge you can put it to work where it will do the most good."

Veteran Quizzer Quizzed.

The veteran leader for honesty in government as well as in the everyday affairs of life, who was introduced as "a man whose mere presence is an inspiration to courage," then set up an impromptu school in political economy when questions began to fly at him from the audience. For the next half hour it was question and answer. And here are the high reliefs:

Q.—Is it true that about 50 per cent of public money goes for graft and if so what should be done about it? A.—Nothing is like blacksmithing; if the public gets 50 per cent this year he wants 75 per cent next year. He never stops. I doubt if there was ever so low a moral tone in government as British history relates of the period between 1790 and 1830 and yet today a public official in England who steals a dollar is disgraced. There is a lesson for us.

Suspects Big Business.

Q.—Is it true that at times great big business has combined with vice and corrupt influences to run elections? A.—That's been my suspicion.

Q.—Would conditions be as they are now if it were not for the active partnership with crime of a few of our most notable and most wealthy citizens? A.—That would be my deduction. I suspect that special interest at times have played into the hands of criminals to our detriment. The alliance of crime and politics exists but it is not as strong as formerly. However, it must be broken if we are to be honest.

Q.—Must we accept the condition of graft or what are we to do about it? A.—THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE spent about a quarter million of its own money to get the city hall experts and recovered $2,000,000 for the people, and there won't be many more expert fees like that. I have also instituted a suit to recover some of the sanitary district's millions.

Teach the Decalogue.

Q.—What can the schools do to inculcate the proper ideals in young people? A.—Teach the ten commandments.

Q.—Has not the time come when principles of honesty, integrity and patriotism should be in the curriculum? A.—I have thought so.

Q.—What redress have we when the city authorities do not remove the refuse from our alleys? A.—Go to the State's attorney and have him indict the public official whose duty it is to remove the refuse.

Q.—I am a high school student and we learn the principles of making graft in high school. We could show you but won't do so because we would

BOAT UPSETS AS HE FISHES ON POCONO ESTATE

It is believed Mr. Mitten met his death shortly after five o'clock this morning. His watch had stopped at 5:10.

Mr. Mitten was known as an early riser. His son, Dr. A. A. Mitten, usually called him from Philadelphia each morning to discuss business affairs. He called three times today and, getting no answer, told the servants to investigate.

Discover Overturned Boat.

Search about the place was made and Mr. Mitten's secretary discovered the overturned boat about 150 feet from the shore of Log Tavern pond. It is presumed Mr. Mitten had risen early to go fishing.

The estate, known as "Sunnyland," is eleven miles west of Milford. It contains 4,000 acres. As soon as word of the drowning was received in Milford Coroner J. Henry Ludwig of Poke county went to the estate. The body had been recovered and Coroner Ludwig announced that death was due to accidental drowning.

Mr. Mitten was president of Mitten Management, Inc., which operates the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company system, the Inter-Railway company of Buffalo and the Yellow Cab company of Philadelphia.

His Triumphs in Chicago.

Mr. Mitten came to this city in 1911 after his triumphs in the management of the Chicago City Railroad company.

Mr. Mitten's arrival was at a time when the affairs of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company were at a low ebb. E. T. Stotesbury, who had undertaken the financing of the corporation to relieve it from its many embarrassments, largely was instrumental in inducing Mr. Mitten to relinquish his Chicago connection, admitting that in planning to lift Philadelphia Rapid Transit from its difficulties he had been guided by his faith in "one of the best street railway men in the country."

Five years was the period allotted by Mr. Mitten for the rehabilitation of the company, in which a free hand had been given him for the carrying out of his own policies.

Pensions for Employés.

One of the first steps he took had to do with the personnel of the working force, and this resulted in the formation of the "Coöperative Welfare association" of the transit company. This body pensions employés who, through ailment or age, have to retire; it insures the lives of its members; it provides also for those who, through the vicissitudes of life, need aid; it includes a saving fund in which a majority of the 10,000 or 11,000 members are said to be saving an average of $10 a week.

A proof of the loyalty of the men to their chief was given in 1920 when Mr. Mitten was making a fight to retain a 5 cent fare with elimination of the prevailing free transfer and exchange systems, thereby alienating the bankers and some others who had been backing the management, who contended that Mitten's proposition spelled disaster, and they sought to wrest control from him.

Men Back Him with Million.

The coöperative association made an offer of $1,000,000, the members' savings for years, to sustain Mr. Mitten. Much affected by the offer, Mr. Mitten declined it, telling the men that the money was their own and not a Philadelphia Rapid Transit fund.

This "Mitten coöperative plan," as it was called, made employés stockholders of the company, some 30,000 shares being held by them in 1922; gave them representation in the board of directors, and raised the wages of the men to about as high as those of any street car employés in the country.

In 1884, when he was 19, Mr. Mitten started his railway career as a telegraph operator and joint agent for the Chicago and Indiana railway, which afterwards merged into the Chicago and Eastern Railroad company. With this company and the Big Four

HARRY J. RIDINGS' WIDOW BECOMES BRIDE OF YOUTH

Mrs. Louise Brown Ridings, widow of Harry J. Ridings, theater manager, was married last Saturday in St. Chrysostom's church to William Arthur Thurnau, a recent graduate of the University of Michigan. The former Mrs. Ridings is 33 years old and her husband is 21.

Reports of the wedding were confirmed last night by young Thurnau's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Thurnau, 6832 Wayne avenue. The elder Thurnau, an advertising executive, is reported to have opposed the match on account of his son's youth and supposed inability to support a wife.

The whereabouts of the couple were something of a mystery. At young Thurnau's apartment, 211 East Delaware place, a girl who identified herself as "Mrs. Ridings' daughter" declared she had heard nothing of the wedding and did not know where her mother or Mr. Thurnau could be found. Thurnau's mother said she knew nothing of her son's plans or his present whereabouts.

Cheer Dawes at Home of His Ancestors

BY WAVERLEY ROOT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SUDBURY, England, Oct. 1.—In the person of Ambassador Dawes of the United States, this city today fêted the return of the stone mason. William Dawes, who left the town 300 years ago to found the American family of which Ambassador Dawes is his direct descendant.

Gen. Dawes was made an honorary freeman of the borough of Sudbury, an honor which has not been accorded to any one in the last 21 years and granted to only 14 others. All but two of those others were residents of Sudbury or veterans of wars.

Just about three times the town's police force was called out to keep the streets clear for the car, in which Gen. Dawes and Mrs. Dawes motored from London.

Dawes Accepts Scroll.

Within the council chamber of the town hall, Gen. Dawes occupied the stand with the village dignitaries in their fullest dress. A score of cameras and movie and talkie apparatus ground away. Mayor E. P. Fitzgerald of Sudbury conferred the freedom of the town on Gen. Dawes and presented him with a scroll.

The scroll, with its 500 year old seal, was inclosed in a handsomely carved coffer with the Sudbury arms on one side and a sailing ship on the other. The lady mayoress presented Mrs. Dawes with a handmade cushion, made in Sudbury and a model Stuart room with miniature furniture of the period.

After the ceremony every one lined up to parade to lunch. The firemen were closely followed by the town crier, and mace bearers, who preceded Mayor Fitzgerald and Gen. Dawes. Then came Mrs. Dawes, escorted by dignitaries, and surviving members of the English branch of the Dawes family. Aldermen of Sudbury followed, sporting purple robes and brand new cocked hats, with the magistrates wearing their wigs and robes. The lord lieutenant of Suffolk county, Bishop Bury Stedmunds, and the visiting mayors made the bravest show of all in scarlet robes with fur collars and chains of office.

Dawes Takes Sip of Wine.

The luncheon was served in the town's armory. After the meal Gen. Dawes pulled out his underslung pipe, but was soon interrupted to take part in the ceremony of drinking wine from Sudbury's ancient loving cup at the end of a proposal of a toast by Lieut. Sir T. Courtenay T. Warner, Bart., Gen. Dawes also took a sip, repeating the time honored formula. The ceremony was repeated by the lady mayoress and Mrs. Dawes while the guests applauded.

Gen. Dawes carefully avoided any reference to current events in his speech. Beginning his address with reference to his Sudbury ancestor and the so-called "Suffolk migration" under Gov. John Winthrop of Massachusetts, which left its mark in that state by names derived from Suffolk county, Gen. Dawes told his listeners that an English Dawes and an American Dawes fought on opposite sides in the revolution. The rest of the ambassador's speech contained an expression of confidence that England will regain its old prosperity.

Shown Baptismal Record.

After addressing the school children, Gen. Dawes visited the British legion, St. Gregory's church, where the baptismal record of Matthew, son of Jacob Dawes, born in 1593, was shown him. A flying visit to the house where England's great painter, Thomas Gainsborough, was born, preceded a reception and tea.

Lake Shore Club Also Is Blast Target

A powerful dynamite bomb was exploded early this morning at the door of the third floor apartment at 7109 South Shore drive, the home of Austin [Five Yards] McCarty, former star on the University of Chicago football eleven, and his father, Charles H. McCarty, a partner in the brokerage house of Stein, Alstrin & Co.

The explosion blew in the doors of several apartments and shattered many windows in the building, according to the police. It wrecked the stairs leading to the third floor. The damage was estimated at $2,500 by Lieut. Edward Goggin of Grand Crossing police.

Follows Lake Shore Club Bomb.

The blast occurred only a few hours after bombers had hurled a bundle of explosives through a window of the Lake Shore Athletic club at 850 Lake Shore drive. The police did not believe there was a connection between the two bombings.

The McCarty home is in the heart of the south shore residential district, half a block south of the extensive grounds of the South Shore Country club. Residents of the district for several blocks around were aroused from their sleep by the explosion.

The elder McCarty and his son both were in bed when the blast occurred and heard no one enter the building or climb to the third floor corridor where the bomb was placed, they told Lieut. Goggin. Neither of them was injured. Mrs. McCarty was away from home on a visit.

Other Tenants Aroused.

The occupants of fifteen other apartments in the building were swarming about the wreckage when the police arrived on the scene. None of them had seen the bombers arrive or depart.

The apartment across from the McCarty home is vacant. Both Mr. McCarty and his son said the bomb seemed to be directed at them, but neither could advance any motive for it. The police at first believed it might have been placed by agents of bucket shop racketeers, who have been under fire of reputable brokerage concerns, but Mr. McCarty declared he had given no testimony on such matters to the police or the state's attorney.

Austin McCarty, who played full back on Coach Stagg's eleven before his graduation from the University of Chicago, is now sales manager of the Commercial Credit Trust, 230 South Clark street.

BOMB LAKE SHORE A. C.

The Lake Shore Athletic club at 850 Lake Shore drive was the target last night of a dynamite bomb which exploded with a terrific detonation, blowing out a large window and part of the wall and landing in the swimming pool of the club, one story below the street level.

Members and guests throughout the building were furnished with a momentary scare and several men in the locker rooms next to the pool were staggered by the force of the explosion.

Women Guests Startled.

A score of women were in the main lobby and in the lounge when the explosion came, shaking the building. Several of them screamed, but Fred Gunning and Richard Miller, room clerks, quickly calmed their fears.

The bomb was thrown from a small automobile which was driven slowly up to the club from the west in Chestnut street. It exploded with a spurt of flame as it struck the window ledge and tore its way through. The automobile speeded around the corner and north on Lake Shore drive.

Watchman Sees Bombers' Car.

Cornelius Donovan, a watchman stationed at the back door of the club on the Chestnut street side, saw the car approach and the missile thrown. He ran to a taxicab waiting near by and pointed out the car to the driver, who made an attempt to follow it. Early this morning he had not reported the result of his chase.

The bomb was thrown at exactly 10:23 p. m., according to H. L. Baumgartner, a broker, who was in the men's locker room next to the swimming pool at the time.

"The pool closes at 9 o'clock, but the lights were still on, and I decided to take a few minutes' plunge," Mr. Baumgartner said. "I had just stepped out from under a shower and was pushing open the door leading to the pool when the explosion came. It almost knocked me off my feet."

Police Hurry to Scene.

Capt. John Ryan of the East Chicago avenue police station and a force of detectives rushed at once to the club. They arrived within ten minutes after the explosion. They found members, guests, and employés in a state of excitement, fearing another crash.

Capt. Ryan, examining the room in

Doubting Senators Suppress It.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—William B. Shearer sprung another international sensation today before the senate investigating committee when he attributed to Sir William Wiseman, chief British propagandist in the United States during the world war, and reputed head of the British secret service here after the peace treaty, the authorship of a purported secret British document which Shearer claimed played an important part in shaping the American naval policy in the senate.

Shearer, propagandist for American shipbuilders at the Geneva naval limitation conference, said the disclosures of the document swung a senate majority behind the 15 cruiser bill in the last session. The document was suddenly withdrawn from evidence after an attack on its authenticity by Senator Henry J. Allen [Rep., Kas.]. It was explained that the committee would consider its contents further.

Paper Bristles with Hate.

Nothwithstanding the committee's explanation "for the record," it was generally understood that the refusal to make public the text of the "secret document" as well as the adjournment subject to call of the chair were based on a desire to avoid possible embarrassing incidents or testimony during the presence in this country of Ramsay MacDonald, the British prime minister, who will arrive in New York on Friday.

The document, alleged to have been addressed to David Lloyd George, is said to be "saturated with hostility to the United States," and the committee by its action sought, it was said, to prevent the publication of any documents or testimony furnished by Shearer to bolster up his theory of British hatred of the United States.

To Summon Wiseman.

It became known later that the committee will call for Sir William, now a partner of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., New York investment bankers, when the investigation is resumed next week. In addition, other witnesses are expected to come from Paris and London, not only to deny the authenticity of the document but also to produce new evidence of Shearer's activities in Geneva and other European cities before and during the naval conference.

Sir William, advised in New York of Shearer's testimony and the production of the document, immediately denounced it as a "clumsy, absurd forgery," and denied that he had any knowledge of it until portions of it appeared in a New York newspaper under Shearer's name.

"I understand," Sir William telegraphed to Senator S. M. Shortridge [Rep., Cal.], chairman of the committee, "that William B. Shearer has handed to the committee of the senate which is now investigating his activities what purports to be a copy of a letter to Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, under date of June 10, 1919, and on which my name appears in a manner calculated to infer authorship of the document to me.

An Old Fake, He Says.

"Without having had opportunity to see the document submitted to your committee, I assume that it is the so-called secret document, extracts from which have already appeared over the signature of Shearer, January and February of this year, in a newspaper called the Gaelic American, in New York. I wish to record my formal denial that I either wrote or caused the document to be written, or had any knowledge of it until some time after its supposed date, when a small pamphlet purporting to be a copy of it was brought to my attention.

"If it is the document which I assume it is your committee will appreciate from the document itself that it is a clumsy, absurd forgery. On its purported date I was not in New York, but was at the Paris peace conference."

Shearer, unabashed by the knowledge that Senator Allen had in his hand an opinion of A. C. Merrill, a navy department expert, that the document is spurious, continued to insist that it was recognized as genuine by high navy department officials, including the chiefs of the navy intelligence department. Shearer declared that the document, stolen from the files of the British consulate general in New York by a former British secret service agent, was given to him by a Judge Summers of Los Angeles.

Senate Votes to Expose All Lobbies Before Congress

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—An investigation of all lobbies operating in congress was authorized today by the senate in adopting the resolution of Senator T. H. Caraway [Dem., Ark.]

Under the terms of an amendment adopted at the instance of Senator Caraway, the inquiry will be made by the judiciary committee or any subcommittee thereof instead of by a select committee as originally provided.

By this change the Democrats and radical Republicans are assured of control of the investigating committee. The judiciary committee is controlled by the Democrats and radical Republicans and is headed by Senator George W. Norris [Rep., Neb.], a radical.

Had the inquiry been committed to a select committee, Vice President Curtis probably would have appointed a majority of regular Republicans.

With the investigation in the hands of the radicals the prospect is that the inquiry will bear down hard on the lobbying operations of business groups and lightly on those of the pacifists and radicals. A limit of $10,000 was placed on the expense of the inquiry.

The Caraway resolution recites that it is charged "that the lobbyists, located in and around Washington, filch from the American public more money under a false claim that they can influence legislation than the legislative branch of this government costs the taxpayers," and declares that "the lobby interests seek by all means to capitalize for themselves every interest and every sentiment of the American publican which can be made to yield an unclean dollar for their greedy pockets."

The resolution instructs the investigating committee "to inquire into the activities of these lobbying associations and lobbyists, to ascertain of what their activities consist, how much and from whom they obtain their revenues, how much of these moneys they expend and for what purpose and in what manner," and "what effort they put forth to affect legislation."

Cal., who, in turn, had received it from an American secret service man.

A photostatic copy of the document made, Shearer asserted, by the navy department, was furnished to the then Senator James A. Reed [Dem., Mo.] in the midst of 15 cruiser bill fight and was the basis of the Missouri senator's famous speech denouncing pacifistic opposition to the bill. That speech, Shearer contended, won the day for the bill.

Grilled by Senator Allen, Shearer admitted that he has never filed an income tax return on the $51,230 he admits receiving from the three ship building companies involved in the investigation—the New York Shipbuilding company, the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation and the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock company.

Just "Expenses," He Explains.

Shearer contended that the money was advanced by the shippers to defray expenses of his activities at Geneva and elsewhere and that he was required only to report "earnings," which, he pointed out, he is trying to collect in a suit for $250,000 against the three companies. Senator Allen intimated that the treasury department is already investigating Shearer's admitted failure to file any income returns for several years.

The first clash of the day's session came when Shearer, reiterating his story of how the shipbuilders "fired" him after the Geneva conference at the instance of the then Secretary of State Kellogg, declared he pleaded with them to pay no attention to "nervous Nelly."

"What! You referred to the secretary of state in that disrespectful way?" interrupted Senator Shortridge.

"Certainly," replied Shearer. "Everybody did."

The former secretary of state, Shearer has charged, forced the shipbuilders to end his services under a threat to press a pending government claim for $15,000,000 against the Bethlehem Steel corporation growing out of war contracts.

DENIES SHOOTING THREATS

Shearer emphatically denied that as reported in a memorandum of alleged statements prepared by C. L. Bardo, president of the New York Shipbuilding company, he ever threatened to shoot S. W. Wakeman, vice president of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding company, "like a dog in the street" or had sought to blackmail Bardo's company.

"There was no row," asserted Shearer, who admitted he protested vigorously when Bardo notified him that the Bethlehem company was "through."

"There was no gun play," continued Shearer. "I do not carry a gun. There is no record I ever shot any man or ever shot at any man. I categorically deny Bardo's statements. I am not a blackmailer. I do not have a record as a blackmailer. If that is the charge they are raising against me we may have a bigger suit."

Allen Begins Quiz.

"You stated in your testimony in response to Senator Robinson that you went to Geneva to assist the naval delegation?" asked Senator Allen.

"Quite so," responded Shearer.

Q.—What did you do to assist the naval delegation? A.—I got out the facts and figures which they were not permitted to give out.

Q.—Did they know you were thus assisting them? A.—Yes.

Q.—How did they know you were assisting them? A.—They read the papers every day with the different things in my handouts printed in them.

Q.—What communication did you have with these naval officers who knew you were there to assist them? A.—I met and talked to every naval officer, other than Admiral Jones.

Q.—What is your definite recollection as to the course of the conversations? A.—Purely friendly, discussing navies, discussing problems, discussing the situations that would arise.

Q.—Did you tell these naval officers you had been sent there as the employé of the Council of American Shipbuilders to help them? A.—Certainly not.

ASKED NO QUESTIONS

Q.—But they knew you were there to help them? A.—Naturally. They knew my record in naval matters, and I have always helped them.

Q.—And you are saying now that they knew you were there to help them; they knew you were there living in impressive style and doing all of this work; they were glad to associate with you, but did not know who was paying you? A.—They did not ask me. They are not inquisitive.

Q.—They were satisfied to have your help? A.—Evidently.

Q.—And they accepted your help? A.—Evidently.

Q.—You say that you do not claim that you saved the shipping industry? A.—I said that as the result of the failure of the Geneva conference there was a new cruiser program by the congress.

Q.—In your testimony yesterday you remarked that it was unfortunate that the naval conference failed. A.—I think it is unfortunate. It would have saved this present conference if it had succeeded there.

He Talks Big Money.

Q.—But the result of the conference was such that you are entitled to a balance on account of $250,000. How much would your balance have been if it had succeeded? A.—Well, I would have continued on in the interest of the merchant marine.

Q.—Do you remember the letter you wrote to Mr. Bardo, in which you say, "assuming that your memory and conscience are as clear as mine, you will recall prior to March 17, 1927, I represented you and others in the three cruiser fight in the 69th congress. Further, that on the result of that success, I was to go out and get more business." Just what did you mean by that? A.—Educating the people as to the necessity of naval parity, educating the people as to the necessity of a merchant marine.

Q.—Now, to go out and get more business. This was the introduction to your endeavors at Geneva? A.—Yes.

Q.—You were going to Geneva to get more business? A.—I was going to get a treaty of parity or no treaty.

Q.—And in that plea you are calling attention to the fact that as the result of the failure of the Geneva conference a shipbuilding program aggregating more than $700,000,000 is now before them? A.—That was Mr. Coolidge's bill.

Q.—Yes; you are taking credit for the fact that that is before them. A.—I am taking credit for exactly what I did.

CLASHES WITH ALLEN

Senator Robinson quizzed Shearer about the use of some of the latter's merchant marine and adequate navy articles by the Republican national committee publicity bureau, of which Senator Allen was chief during the last presidential campaign. Shearer replied that he wrote an open letter in answer to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's attack on President Hoover's acceptance speech, and that the letter, as well as one article, "Sea Power," were sent out by Shearer to a large mailing list supplied by Laird Archer, Senator Allen's assistant.

According to Shearer, Archer introduced him to Senator Allen, and the latter, after praising his articles, told Shearer, the latter testified, "You ought to be out speaking."

"I believe you have said in your testimony that I once suggested that you ought to go out and make speeches," said Senator Allen.

"You know it!" agreed Shearer.

"I do not know it," countered the senator.

"Well, you must have known it."

"Did you go out and make speeches?"

"No."

Q.—Did they not take you? A.—No, they did not.

Q.—I hoped they would. I was trying to shake you off, because I did not want you around publicity headquarters. A.—Why did you not say so?

Q.—Because I wanted to be polite. A.—You were trying to fool me, like we were trying to fool the simple Irish?

Allen Grills Some More.

Senator Allen resumed:

Q.—Had it been indicated to you that Mr. Bardo's memory and conscience had become dimmed a trifle? A.—Well, his conscience had. After he heard this terrible story that I was a Prussian officer and a German spy, he said his conscience troubled him. But I said to him, "I hope your conscience will not trouble you so much that you will not build any of the cruisers."

MYSTERIOUS "BLUE BOOK"

Q.—Definitely, what were you to do at Geneva? A.—As I said before, I had the possible plan of each of the countries that were to take part in the tri-power conference.

Q.—Did the ship building companies know that you had this confidential information? A.—Oh, yes.

Q.—Where did you get it? A.—It was sent to me to the Hotel Grosvenor, 10th street and 5th avenue, New York City, in a large franked envelope.

Q.—Do you know who sent it? A.—No, sir.

Q.—But you accepted it as being official and undeniably correct? A.—Oh, quite. Yes. I know. I am familiar enough with the navy to know what is right and what is wrong.

Q.—Did you not know it was sent to you by the navy? A.—Oh, yes; it was in their envelope.

Saw "Newspaper Boys."

Q.—You said, "I sailed for France, March 19, 1927, renewed my contacts in Paris." What contacts in Paris? A.—The contacts with the newspaper boys. I called on Mr. James immediately. He was the head of the New York Times in Paris. I believe he is in London.

Q.—So those were just publicity contacts? A.—O, certainly, sir.

Q.—There seems to be a conflict in your testimony here as to whether you worked for the collapse of the conference or merely enjoyed the event when it occurred. Which was it? A.—Which was that, the preparatory conference?

Q.—No; I am talking now about the Geneva conference—the limitation of armaments conference—the tri-power conference. A.—I said what every one said there who was an American: "I am glad the show is over."

Calls It U. S. Victory.

Q.—But you said that it was the first conference America ever won. What do you mean by her winning a conference? A.—Well, we did not lose it. Great Britain did not win. It is the first conference that we did not lose.

Q.—You regarded yourself as the victor—and quoted one of the letters— A.—I regarded the entire American naval delegation and the United States as victors. It had nothing to do with me.

Q.—In this letter to Messrs. Palen, Wakeman, and Bardo, on March 10, 1928, you say: "The European press recognized and acknowledged the effect of my campaign, referring to it as 'the triumph of the theses of William B. Shearer, the American.'" A.—That is exactly what they say.

Q.—You were modestly backing away from it a moment ago. A.—No. I said that was what the press of Geneva said.

Q.—When you were outlining the service you were to perform for them, did they suggest this trip to Italy? A.—They never suggested anything, knowing that I knew my way about, and knowing that the Geneva conference had failed, and knowing, naturally, that there would be a new lineup, which was ultimately proven. I would go to Italy. This was my own idea, but thoroughly approved by them.

Q.—You went there with the consciousness that you were working for them? A.—O, yes; and I may add that Capt. Hepburn, who was chief of naval intelligence prior to his going over there — now Admiral Hepburn—telegraphed the embassy in Rome that I would be there. I was received by Ambassador Fletcher and our naval attaché. We discussed fully the Mediterreanean situation.

Q.—This was all in pursuance of your instructions to go out and get more business? A.—Purusance to the plan I have consistently followed for years, to see that we got a treaty sooner or later.

His Activities for Hearst.

Q.—Who has been bearing the expense of this mass of propaganda material that has been going out since they separated you from the pay roll? A.—Mr. W. R. Hearst.

Q.—Tell us the particulars of that engagement. A.—The former national commander of the American Legion, Commander Spafford, formerly of the United States navy, wrote a letter to John Thomas Taylor, who is the attorney representing the Legion here, saying, "You had better get Bill Shearer down there to post the new commander, McNutt, who is to make a speech at the Mayflower hotel before the Sojourners."

With that letter I came down to Washington and I entered Commander McNutt's apartment and was with him until 3 in the morning, educating him, we will say, or posting him, or whatever you wish. Therefore, I was pronounced by the national commander of the American Legion as the best posted man in the United States on national defense. I have the letter.

ABRUPTLY DISMISSED

When I returned to New York, I called up Mr. Willicomb, Mr. Hearst's private secretary and said I had received a letter from Commander McNutt expressing himself not only for the navy but opposed to the world court, and if Mr. Hearst thought it was right, I believed that the patriotic organizations would take the same stand as the American Legion.

A few days later, Mr. T. V. Ranck, Mr. Hearst's representative, telephoned and I went to see Mr. Ranck. He said, "I have a telegram from Hearst. Do you want to go ahead?" I said, "Do you want the patriotic societies organized in my name or in his?" He said, "I will send a wire and find out." The wire came back to organize them in the name of Mr. W. R. Hearst.

Q.—At what time did your employment with Mr. Hearst close? A.—The minute you called this investigating committee; all my connections—social and otherwise—closed. I found myself walking around the streets talking to myself.

Q.—What did he pay you for all this propaganda work? A.—The term of the agreement was the expenses, covering all the printing, secretary, office and so forth to amount to $2,000 a month, and I paid everything—printing, mimeographing, railroad fare, cost of going to make different speeches—in fact, all the money that is necessary to carry on the campaign.

Q.—When did you enter Mr. Hearst's employment? A.—I think it was in June.

Q.—At $2,000 a month, did you say? A.—I received, I believe, from Mr. Hearst about four or five thousand dollars. Not over that.

Quizzed on Income Tax.

Q.—Where did you make your income tax return? A.—My income tax return? I have not any income tax to pay. I have not anything. I cannot even collect what is owing me. This was all money for expenses.

Q.—You collected in January, 1926, and in 1927? A.—Not that money. That was my expense that I was paid.

Q.—All together, $58,000? A.—Yes.

Q.—And you said you did not make any income tax return? A.—No. I have not made any, because that is money that was paid me for expenses, which I have used purely to carry on their work.

Q.—Have you made a return of that? A.—Every dollar I received I spent, and more besides.

Q.—You made no return of it? A.—No, not of that. That is money passed to me for expenses.

Q.—Where do you make your income tax return? A.—Mrs. Shearer makes her income tax return at her home, Stamford, Conn.

Q.—You make no return? A.—I did not have any place of business. I was never asked for a return. I was simply spending money to carry on a publicity campaign, and when I receive my money I naturally expect to make a tax return or declaration.

HIS GENEVA CREDENTIALS

Q.—What credentials did you have in Geneva? A.—Every conference that I went to I must say was open; but on one occasion on going into a British conference I was stopped at the door and asked for my credentials, and Henry Wales, representing THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, gave me this card.

Q.—So that you went in on credentials representing the New York Daily News? A.—Appointed by Henry Wales, who was the representative of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Q.—He credited you to the Daily News? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you correspond then with the Daily News? A.—I sent to Henry Wales and other newspapers the same as I sent to the shipbuilders. Two hundred and fifty copies were mimeographed and sent out.

Q.—Mr. Bardo insisted in his testimony that his reason for entering into the general appropriation through which you were paid was his anxiety to get the trend of the conference? A.—Well, he got it.

Shearer Praises Shearer.

Q.—He then stated you never wrote him anything about the trend of the conference. A.—I sent my reports. He read the trend in the newspaper. And Wythe Williams [New York Times correspondent], if you will read his letter, thanked me for the information, and said he could not cover the conference without it. The Chicago Daily News, Mr. Decker, says the same thing. Henry Wales of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE said the same thing. The newspaper boys were very appreciative of the facts so that they could cable them to the United States.

Q.—Did you give the American delegation the benefit of these "shots," as you called them, that you gave to the press? A.—Yes. They thought the one Senator Robinson commented upon, "The Marine Follies," was the best one. And Mr. Haig, head of the research department of the shipping board, stated it was the best marine article he had read, and he was called upon to give it to the military intelligence, who had it mimeographed, and they sent it out of the country. It was the story of how we had come up with ships and then went down, from carrying 80 per cent to 90 per cent to 9 per cent.

Q.—Did you meet Wythe Williams and Mr. Wales frequently in Geneva? A.—Every day.

Q.—Tell us what was your connection with them and with Admiral Reeves. A.—Certainly. Henry Wales came to Geneva. I had had a previous letter from him in 1926. This established the contact. When Wales arrived at the 1926 or 1927 conference at Geneva, he said, "I have been ordered from Chicago to get in touch with you." He did not mention the name of Col. McCormick nor of Mr. Patterson.

Q.—Neither have I mentioned them. A.—And when he said he was ordered to get in touch, I assume it came from headquarters, Chicago. So from then on Henry Wales and myself became very good friends. Then Wythe Williams came along, and he said James, the Paris editor—at that time in command of the Paris office, although it is now in the hands of a man who has been promoted to it, and James has been placed at London —"told me to get into contact because you knew your stuff, and from now on I am ready to shoot whatever you send out."

How He Helped Them.

At the end of every conference always Wythe Williams and always Henry Wales would go to my apartment. I would lay that book in front of them, let them take their own deductions from it, plus what they heard at the conference, and write their own stories. On many occasions in the evening we would go over to La Residence, the hotel which has been mentioned, where Admiral Reeves lived. It is an enormous restaurant. We would all sit around—Admiral Reeves, Admiral Scofield, sometimes Commander Train, sometimes Commander Frost, and others, and Wales and Williams, and, one one or two occasions, Pearson edged in—never invited, I assure you. At no time would I presume to answer in front of our two greatest naval experts, whom I consider Admiral Scofield and Admiral Reeves.

Admiral Scofield at no time ever opened his mouth about what we should or should not do, and at no time did Admiral Reeves ever express himself beyond what Mr. Gibson had stated—250,000 to 300,000 tons of cruisers. I had Admiral Scofield, Admiral Reeves and Commander Frost at my house for dinner, where they could get some good plain cooking, which they could not get in a Swiss hotel.

At no time did Admiral Reeves ever say to me that he wished the conference would break, nor Admiral Scofield, nor Frost. It was not necessary for their telling me anything. I had the information there. As a matter of fact, I had a piece of information that they did not know I had. It was that the British battle fleet was 50,000 tons overtonned. When I released that story the same three naval officers came to my house and said, "Where did you get that information? We thought it was confidential. We were holding it in the safe at our headquarters."

Q.—What did you do here in 1926 to get through the three cruiser bill in the 69th congress? A.—I came here in December. I went and sat in the gallery of the house of representatives and heard Burton French of Idaho make a speech. French said that Mr. Hector Bywater, the British naval expert, had stated that the American battle fleet was superior to the British battle fleet. Then Tom Blanton of Texas got up and said, "I want to pay great tribute to that great chairman of the appropriations committee," and, as we must remember, he came onto the floor of the house and said the American naval position was good. Not one congressman got up and defended the American navy men when it was charged that they were liars.

He Promptly Attacks Madden.

Q.—What did you do? A.—I published in the newspapers and sent to every member in congress, "Is the congress going to accept the decision of Martin B. Madden, who was born in Darlington, England?"

Q.—You were doing this in pursuance of earning your $7,500? A.—I was doing it to get this three cruiser bill through.

Q.—You stated in one of your letters to your employers, "as you know, I am in possession of an amazing secret document?" A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Can you tell us about that amazing secret document? A.—I can. Here it is, signed, according to the navy department, by Sir William Wiseman, who, as everybody knows, was the head of the British secret service in the United States, the chief British spy in America, and he is now associated with Kuhn, Loeb & Co., New York City. In November, when I went to California to see Mr. Hearst, Mr. Summers approached me in the hotel.

Q.—Who was Mr. Summers? A.—He is a prominent attorney in Los Angeles, I believe. He was in the department of justice under President Harding's administration. He introduced me to Mr. Wheeler, formerly of the United States secret service, and we lunched. After the luncheon Judge Summers said, "I have a document that I shall give you that will substantiate many of your charges."

In January, 1929, when I came to Washington, the first man I ran into in the Mayflower hotel was Judge Summers, and I said to him, "Judge, where is that document you were going to give me?" He gave it to me. I read it and said, "Who is the signer?" He sent a telegram to Los Angeles to Wheeler and a telegram came back that the signer of the document was Sir William Wiseman. I said, "How did Wheeler get it?" He said he got it from Ben McLenden, who worked in the British consulate during the war with the British secret service and he extracted it from the consular general's files.

GIVES IT TO NAVY

"So I took the telegram, which I have, and tore his name off and the signature. I went to the navy department and I showed these to an admiral. He said to take them to Capt. Johnson, who was in charge of the bureau of naval intelligence. I took them into him and he read them and he said, 'Well, we have known of its existence. We are pleased to get hold of that.' He asked if he could read it through, but I told him not yet. I went to the Hotel Mayflower and I took three stenographers and gave them each so many pages. In the meantime he had detailed Capt. Powell to come to the Hotel Mayflower, and as fast as the typewritten copy came off the machine Powell would take it and read it and compare it with the document. At 7 o'clock that night Powell came to me and handed me three of these. That is one of them. That is the envelope. And I said, 'Well, if you consider this so secret, why do you give it to me?' He said, 'Well, do you object to getting it out?' That was enough, you know, for me. I then called Senator Reed at the Hotel Washington and said, 'May I come over?' He said, 'Certainly.'"

Q.—You did give this to Senator Reed? A.—Yes.

Schwab Wires a Denial.

The testimony of A. B. Homer, sales manager of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding company, in denial of Shearer's assertion that C. M. Schwab, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, suggested the conference of shipbuilders, which finally resulted in Shearer's employment, was supplemented tonight by a telegram from Mr. Schwab to Senator Shortridge.

In the telegram Mr. Schwab insisted that he never heard of Shearer's employment by the shipbuilders until Dec., 1927, and then demanded that the agreement be ended as far as the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation was concerned. Mr. Schwab reiterated his previous testimony that if he ever met or talked with Shearer, as charged by the latter, the meeting or the conversations "were so casual as to leave no impression."

JUDGE DENIES GIVING TO SHEARER ALLEGED BRITISH SECRET NOTE

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Williamson S. Summers, Los Angeles attorney, formerly United States district attorney at Omaha, Neb., said tonight he may be the "Judge Summers" referred to by William B. Shearer at a hearing today before investigators of his alleged activities at the 1927 Geneva limitations conference. Summers said he knew nothing, however, of the purported secret British document produced by Shearer.

"I know Shearer. I met him sometime ago," Summers said. "As for the particular document he mentions, I know nothing of it.

"If the senate subcommittee wants to know what I know, I will be glad to tell them of it. I shall not talk, however, until then."

Lucien B. Wheeler, formerly a United States secret service operative and more recently head of the detective bureau of the Los Angeles district attorney's office, said he never had known Shearer, but was acquainted with Summers. He declined further comment.

Shearer had quoted "Judge Summers" as having said "a man named Wheeler, a secret service operative in Los Angeles," had informed him that William Wiseman was the author of the paper.

ONE PANTAGES CHARGE DROPPED AS JURY PICKED

Defendant Tries in Vain to Delay Trial.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 1.—[U. P.]—One of two charges against Alexander Pantages, theater magnate, accused of attacking a 17 year old girl, was dropped by the state today.

The chief deputy district attorney announced that the charge that Pantages had made a forcible attack on Eunice Pringle, dancer, had been dismissed, and that only a charge of statutory assault against a girl under 18 years old remained.

With the forcible attack charge dropped, the defense will be unable to introduce evidence regarding the chastity of Miss Pringle and no testimony concerning her past will be permitted, it was said in explanation of the state's strategy.

Continuance Is Denied.

The defense made a futile attempt to obtain a continuance, pleading that the dismissal of the first charge had come as a surprise, for which it was not prepared, and that Pantages was in poor physical condition. Judge Charles Fricke denied both motions for delay.

In the questioning of prospective jurors Defense Attorney Joe Ford asked Mrs. Olive Letcher for her opinion concerning the lives of girls of the theatrical profession.

"Do you think that girls have to yield themselves to theater men in order to secure positions on the stage?" he asked.

"I have no opinion on that matter," Mrs. Letcher replied.

"It Looks Bad." Excused.

She was excused for cause when she said she had not formed an opinion concerning Pantages' guilt or innocence, but that "it looks bad."

Judge Fricke announced that not only the completed jury but the incompleted jury pending final selection will be locked up nightly.

Pantages was in court with one of his sons, Lloyd. He said he is more concerned with the illness of his wife, Mrs. Lois Pantages, who has been in bad health since her conviction for manslaughter in the automobile crash death of Juro Rokumoto, than in the outcome of his own trial.

U. S. SAILORS AND FASCISTS BATTLE; 1 DEAD, MANY HURT

LONDON, Oct. 1.—[U. P.]—A dispatch from the Italian frontier tonight said that several members of the crew of the United States steamship President Von Boret were injured in a clash with Italian seamen at Genoa.

The dispatch said the fighting was the result of a quarrel between two Genoese sailors and two American seamen, and said the Americans were finally forced to fire to repel an attack by 100 Fascists, including Fascist militiamen.

One of the assailants was killed and Stephen Edwin of Baltimore was seriously injured, the report said.

The origin of the fighting was not clear, the report said, but appeared to have arisen from a report that a group of anti-Fascists were attempting to escape from Italy and had concealed themselves aboard the President Von Boret.

STATE TO FREE ALIEN CONVICTS, SHIP THEM HOME

U. S. Will Co-operate in New Prison Policy.

Coöperation with the United States immigration bureau for the deportation of alien convicts was announced as a new state policy yesterday at the first meeting of the members of the board of pardons and paroles appointed by Gov. Emmerson. Thirty deportation warrants were served on inmates of the Joliet penitentiary, to be effective immediately upon their release.

Rodney Brandon, director of public welfare since Gov. Emmerson's inauguration, asked advice and criticism of the plan to shorten the prison terms of aliens who may be sent back to the country from whence they came. W. C. Jones, new chairman of the parole board, said a survey is being made of those who come under this classification.

Pardon for Deportation Only.

The plan is for the governor to grant conditional pardons or paroles to convicts certain to be deported, providing the state's attorney of the county in which the prisoner was convicted does not oppose this modicum of clemency. One of the reasons back of the deportation proposal is said to be the overcrowded condition of Illinois prisons and the expectation that deportations would make room for other convicts who ought to be kept in confinement longer than the present condition permits.

Under present laws an immigrant may be deported upon one conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude within five years after his arrival in the country, or, if he came to this country after 1917, upon the second conviction of a crime. It was stated in this connection that the Supreme court has held that bootlegging is not a crime involving moral turpitude.

U. S. Official Gets Warrants.

In pursuance of the policy state officials of the new administration searched the prison records and found more than 150 aliens among the prisoners. In the belief that many of them were deportable, the assistance of the federal bureau was requested and L. H. Spotts, immigration inspector, was sent to Joliet to check all the records. In all cases under the two deportable classifications Mr. Spotts procured warrants to be served upon them in the prison and they will be given hearings in the institution so that all will be in readiness to hurry them out of the country when they are freed.

District Director S. D. Smith of the immigration bureau said it is necessary to procure passports for each deportable alien criminal before his release or he might obtain temporary freedom on bonds and evade deportation. That process, he said, requires the consent of the prisoner's native country, which takes time but is not difficult to obtain.

Heavy Penalty for Return.

Under recent federal legislation, Mr. Smith said, it is a felony punishable by from two to five years' imprisonment for a deported person to return to this country. In addition to that penalty, under the present state government plan, the pardons to be issued by Gov. Emmerson will contain the provision that if the convict is not deported or returns after deportation, he must serve the maximum of the sentence imposed upon him.

Inspector Spotts said most of the men served with warrants are serving determine sentences of one year to ten years, twenty years or life, and many of them are eligible to parole in less than eleven months. If, in the opinion of the governor's advisers, and with the approval of the prosecuting officer, it is deemed advisable to parole and deport a convict after eleven months' imprisonment, that is what will be done, according to state officials.

Example Is Cited.

"Here the nature of the crime calls for the maximum of punishment, state officials said yesterday, there is no desire on the part of the board to shorten the punishment merely to get rid of the alien criminal." In murder cases or other aggravated offenses, they said, the deportation would be delayed until the demands of justice are served.

For instance, in the list of those served with deportation warrants is the name of Dominic Enrico. A man of that name confessed to murder by clubbing a drunken companion to death with an axe in Waukegan in 1924. Whether five years' imprisonment before deportation is sufficient punishment for him is for the board to consider.

Others on the list of those to be deported whenever the board terminates their imprisonment, and for whom no record of offenses was available yesterday, are the following:

|---|---|
| Jozef Paskowsky | Henry Hartman, |
| Simon Pollock, | Milton Schmidt, |
| Theodore Obdiaren, | James Kelly, |

Spotts said most of them were sent to prison from Chicago.

At the hearing yesterday no paroles were granted, but a number of cases were taken under consideration. State Representative Michael Igoe urged pardon for James Brennan and Edward Royla, convicted in 1921 of the robbery of a messenger of the Hyde Park State bank.

HURRICANE IS LOSING FORCE; COMING NORTH

Turns to Rainstorm When Inland.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Excessive rainfall, high winds and two deaths marked the progress of the tropical storm which squirmed northeastward through Georgia today, after entering the state through the gulf of Mexico.

Shorn of its hurricane force by contact with land, the storm vented its wrath in gales and rain, which exacted heavy toll of all communication lines and sent many streams toward the backfull and flood stages.

Two Reported Killed.

The 30 to 50 mile gales accompanying the storm took one life at Albany. Dewey Moore, 30, carpenter, was killed by flying debris at a crumbling brick cotton gin where he had stopped to repair his automobile.

Mrs. Isham Douberly was electrocuted near Blackshear, Ga., when she came in contact with a high voltage wire blown down by the winds. Otherwise, damage from winds throughout the storm area appeared to be minor.

The storm hesitated as it entered the state, headed northeastward and remained central in the area of Thomasville for several hours. The course then curved northeastward, C. V. Von Hermann of the Atlanta weather bureau said, and lay diagonally toward the Atlantic.

Death at Panama City, Fla.

Panama City, Fla., Oct 1.—(AP)—One death and considerable property damage, including destruction of the city docks and two houses, was the toll of the tropical storm which swept into the mainland from the Gulf here late Sunday night.

Nassau Repairs Damage.

NASSAU, Bahamas, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The work of restoration of the damage done by the hurricane here last week is going ahead fast. The dock is in working order again, light, water and power services have been restored and damaged property is being repaired and rebuilt. Mail service to the outlying islands has been restored, and reports received that little damage was done on the other islands.

COUNTY EMPLOYE IS LOCKED UP ON CHARGE OF FRAUD

Nicholas Augustine, 200 East 23d street, Chicago Heights, a clerk for the board of assessors, was locked up last night at the state's attorney's office on a charge of counterfeiting public documents. Ulisse Paccagnini, 317 Reed court, was also under arrest.

Chief Investigator Pat Roche said that Augustine was responsible for the issuance of a fraudulent birth certificate and marriage license in an effort to evade the immigration laws in behalf of Mrs. Vermiglia Paccagnini-Guglienio. The young woman went to Italy for a visit and when she attempted to return to this country was stopped because she had no passport.

Augustine, when consulted by the woman's father, obtained a marriage license blank and had it filled out, showing that her marriage had taken place in Chicago, Roche said. The certificate bore the seal of the board of assessors. A birth certificate was also filled out, showing that she was born in Chicago Heights, according to Roche. The fraud was discovered, he said, because Mrs. Guglienio, who was married in Centerville, Ia., and was born in Italy, had told the truth to the American consul at Florence, Italy. She is still in Italy unable to return.

HIGH SCHOOL BURNS.

Melber, Ky., Oct. 1.—(AP)—The Graves County Junior High school and school auditorium were destroyed today by fire.

SWANSON STARTS CITY PAVING QUIZ; RECORDS SOUGHT

Chief Investigator Pat Roche of the state's attorney's office said yesterday that today he will ask the city hall officials to turn over to him all data concerning paving work done for the city within the last few years. The records are public documents and Roche said he does not believe that he will have to resort to a subpoena to obtain them.

This is to be the first move in the state's attorney's investigation of the so-called paving ring. Roche said he will determine in each case whether the lowest bidder was awarded the work and if not, why not. The investigation at the start will be confined to city paving and park jobs, he said. Work done in the county outside the city limits will be investigated later.

Roche announced his plan after a conference of State's Attorney Swanson, Attorney Frank J. Loesch and John E. Northup. They refused to discuss the conference but the paving ring investigation was one of the topics discussed, it was admitted.

PREACHER WHO TURNED BANDIT KILLS HIMSELF

Several Robberies Laid to His Door.

Lemars, Ia., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—The body of Rex Frolkey, ordained Evangelical minister, who killed himself yesterday when developments proved him to have turned bank bandit leader and to have robbed at least two and probably a number of northwest Iowa banks, is to be taken to Kearney, Neb., his former home, for burial. His suicide followed his identification as the lone robber who earlier in the day had held up and robbed the State bank of Sioux Center, Ia.

Then he was identified as the leader of a band which some weeks ago held up the National bank at Orange City, Ia. Authorities are investigating bank robberies at Cherokee, Turin, Estherville, and other Iowa towns to find out whether the minister-robber had a hand in these holdups.

Too Closely Pursued.

At one o'clock yesterday a lone robber wearing a mask entered the State bank at Sioux Center, held it up, grabbed all the money in sight, and escaped in an automobile which he had parked before the building. The robber had covered his Iowa license with plates of Illinois, but the machine was recognized and followed by Chief of Police Frank Smith of Lemars. En route Frolkey removed his mask and drove to the home of his estranged wife near Lemars.

When Chief Smith accused him the man put up such a magnificent bluff and so scouted the idea of a minister being a bank robber that Smith apologized and backed out of the house.

But two Sioux Center business men who had seen the robber in the bank had followed and met Frolkey face to face. The minister rushed into a barn, thrust a roll of money into the hands of the farm tenant, pulled a pistol and shot himself, dying an hour later, three hours after the robbery had been perpetrated.

Had No Regular Pastorate.

Today Frolkey's body was positively identified as the leader of the band of robbers at Orange City.

Frolkey was forty-three years old. He had been a minister for ten years, during that time lived at Lemars and held a number of substitute pastorates, but never a regular. His wife, from whom he was estranged, owns several farms and is reputed wealthy. Frolkey had two children by a former wife, who live with their stepmother.

WINSTON CHURCHILL WILL BE A GUEST OF CHICAGO TODAY

Winston Churchill, British author and former chancellor of the exchequer of Great Britain, will arrive in Chicago at 10 o'clock this morning on the Santa Fé from California.

GUNMEN IN RAIDS ON 3 FLATS ROB WOMEN OF $4,000

Armed robbers, who posed as deliverymen, yesterday invaded three north side apartments occupied by four women and robbed them of approximately $4,000 in money and jewelry.

Two bandits got into the apartment shared by Mrs. Evelyn English of Muskogee, Okla., and Miss Dorothy Page, a stenographer, at 1318 Birchwood avenue, under the pretext they were delivering flowers for Miss Page, who was ill. Once inside, they drew revolvers. One struck Mrs. English on the mouth with the butt of a revolver when she tried to seize the weapon. They then forced her to get into bed with Miss Page and robbed the women of $163 and $3,000 worth of gems.

A robber entered the apartment of Edna Mulhern at 916 Lakeside place, gagged and blindfolded her, and robbed her of $545.

A fourth bandit knocked at the door of Mrs. Jeremiah Kelly's apartment at 507 Briar place. When she opened the door he knocked her down and fled with a $200 wrist watch and $4.

BLOWS EMPTY SAFE; ARRESTED.

Charles Morton, 29 years old, recently of Joliet, was arrested early yesterday as he left a restaurant at 15 West Division street, in which he had blown the safe but obtained no money.

TAXICAB STRIKES COUPLE IN PARK; GIRL, 17, IS KILLED

While strolling hand in hand along the outer drive in Douglas park at 13th street last night Miss Antoinette Rodia, 17 years old, 1140 South Richmond street, and Anthony Genovese, 25 years old, 854 Blue Island avenue, were run down by a Yellow cab, the driver of which failed to stop, according to witnesses. The girl died early this morning of a skull fracture in St. Anthony's hospital. Genovese, with internal injuries and both legs fractured, is in the same hospital with slight chance of recovering, according to physicians.

Miss Rodia's death and two others increased the Cook county motor toll for 1929 to 673. The other victims:

Steve Fauttner, 6 years old, 4410 Sheridan road, struck by an automobile at Montrose and Clarendon avenues on Monday. Arthur Newberger, 5952 North Paulina street, was driver of the automobile.

Mrs. Susan Ann Potter, 79 years old, 615 Fair Oaks avenue, Oak Park; died in the Oak Park hospital of an infection developing from injuries suffered on June 22, when Jack Ostrander, 1102 Jackson boulevard, River Forest, ran her down with his car at Chicago and Scoville avenues, Oak Park.

Albert Tofte, 20 years old, and Joseph Beck, 24, sons of Chesterton, Ind., farmers, were killed last night when a New York Central freight train struck their coupe at the Calumet street crossing in Chesterton.

William Hoyt, 50 years old, 1002 South State street, was fatally injured when he was struck by a street car at State and Polk streets yesterday. He died later in St. Luke's hospital.

DEMOCRATS PICK NEW BOSSES IN COUNTY; BURY AX

Smith Replaces O'Brien; T. J. Crowe Out.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Reorganization of the Democratic party in Cook county on lines that will give Democrats who hold elective offices an active part in management was announced last night after a meeting of the rival clans. It was the culmination of negotiations that have been carried on for weeks. The participants declare the agreement establishes harmony between the county building group and the Sherman house group.

Under the agreement as announced, a new managing committee and executive committee are to be set up. Recorder Clayton Smith is to succeed Martin J. O'Brien as chairman of the managing committee, and Ald. Joseph McDonough is to replace T. J. Crowe as secretary. Leo J. Winiecki is to be assistant secretary and M. S. Szymczak, Superior court clerk, is to be treasurer.

Old Debts Taken Over.

Old headquarters in the Sherman are to be taken over. The old managing officers, Messrs. O'Brien and Crowe, are reported to have manifested a readiness to retire if certain stipulations were carried out. Chief of these has been assumption of the old debts which have been hanging over the party since the first Dever election in 1923. The reorganization is to assume responsibility for the old indebtedness. The full committee is to meet Thursday for the purpose of ratifying the new agreement and putting the reorganization into effect.

All members of the county committee, of which A. J. Cermak is chairman, are to be members of the managing committee, and, in addition, so are Democratic holders of elective offices who are not committeemen, and a few laymen. This adds to the managing committee: Sanitary Trustees Ross C. Woodhull and Henry Berger; County Clerk Sweitzer, Judge Henry Horner, E. J. Kelly, Judge John Sullivan, Probate Clerk Robin, Assessor John Conroy, Senator Edward Hughes, State Representative Charles Weber, Eric Hall, Harry Lipsky, Alfred S. Austrian, and Boetius Sullivan.

The managing committee is to appoint an executive committee. Ald. John S. Clark is to be chairman of this, a recognition of the O'Brien-Sweitzer group. Ald. James B. Bowler is to be secretary and Michael L. Igoe, Democratic house leader, is to be treasurer. Other members will be: Recorder Smith, Mr. Szymczak, Mr. Berger, Francis X. Busch, Joseph Gill, Frank Roeder, County Chairman Cermak, County Clerk Sweitzer, Patrick Nash, Mr. Conroy, E. J. Kelly, Ald. McDonough, County Commissioner Emmett Whealan, and Ning Eley, country towns chairman.

Campaign Quarters in Hotel.

The new organization plans to take over Parlor A headquarters at the Sherman, by the end of the week, and judicial campaigning is to be conducted from there.

County Chairman Cermak, who has been the leading spirit in the reorganization which has been in the background of party affairs ever since last December, in commenting on the agreement last night, said:

"The Democratic party is now united as it was never united before. The first thing before us is to elect our judicial ticket in November. Now we have got together, there is no question of this. Everything went through harmoniously and amity prevailed all through the meetings."

Yesterday's negotiations which brought about the reorganization agreement were held in Recorder Smith's offices. The Sweitzer-O'Brien group was represented by Mr. Sweitzer, Ald. Clark, Judge John Sullivan, and Mr. Berger. The Cermak group was represented by Mr. Nash, Ald. Bowler, Ald. McDonough, Mr. Smith, Mr. Gill, Mr. Szymczak, and Sheriff Traeger.

State Certifies Tickets.

Word from Springfield was that Secretary of State Stratton sent to County Clerk Sweitzer last night the certifications on the Democratic and Republican judicial tickets to be voted on in Cook county in November. Owing to a discrepancy in the law, the ticket was certified by the secretary of state and also the certification board.

The names on the Democratic Superior court ticket, which contains the seventeen sitting Superior court judges, of whom nine are Democrats and eight Republicans, are certified in the same sequence as presented by the Democratic county convention. They are in the following order:

| | |
|---|---|
| D. E. Sullivan [D.]. | E. I. Frankhauser [R.]. |
| A. C. Barnes [R.]. | |
| M. L. McKinley [D.]. | J. H. Hopkins [D.]. |
| W. H. McSurely [R.]. | Chas. Williams [D.]. |
| W. J. Lindsay [D.]. | W. N. Gemmill [R.]. |
| John M. O'Connor [D.]. | J. F. McGoorty [D.]. |
| H. B. Miller [R.]. | M. Kavanagh [R.]. |
| J. B. David [D.]. | Hugo Pam [R.]. |
| F. M. Schwaba [D.]. | R. E. Gentzel [R.]. |
| | Oscar Hebel [R.]. |

The three candidates on the above ticket who are not now sitting judges are Schwaba, Isaacs and Frankhouser.

Time for withdrawals expired last night, and today County Clerk Sweitzer expects to file the certifications for all candidates with County Judge Jarecki, who will have certain decisions to make as regards positions on the ballot. Last night it appeared that the ballot will probably contain seven columns, due to independent filings.

The main tickets in the order Mr. Sweitzer will certify them are: Democratic, a full ticket including the 17 sitting Superior judges; Republican, with five candidates; People's Ticket Against Coalition put up under the leadership of E. J. Brundage with twelve candidates.

On the "Up in the Clouds" ticket, Ambrose A. Worsley was sitting all alone last night, all other candidates on this ticket having pulled off.

Two independent candidates on a "non-coalition" ticket have a column to themselves; another under the label of "non-partisan judiciary" draws a column, and the ex-service men's party with one candidate, H. D. Jones, is expected by the filing authorities to have a column.

GIRL AND SWEETHEART ARE FOUND SHOT DEAD NEAR LONELY LANE

Mount Clemens, Mich., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Discovery of a note in the pocket of Martin J. Fisher, 28, of Detroit, who was found dead today beside the body of his sweetheart, Florence Werner, 16, also of Detroit, provided the Macomb county sheriff's office at Mount Clemens with a solution of a murder and suicide. The bodies of the Werner girl and Fisher were discovered in a field near a lonely lane, two miles northeast of Center Line, Warren township. The girl had been shot through the breast and Fisher through the left temple. A pearl handled revolver was found clutched in his hand.

An autopsy, performed by Drs. W. H. Norton and Russell Ulrich of Mount Clemens disclosed the girl had been criminally attacked.

"INHERITS" JOB ON EVANSTON BENCH; FINES UNDER FIRE

Fines levied against about fifty motorists by Acting Police Magistrate James G. Barber in the last two days in Evanston may be remitted and the magistrate replaced.

Barber took the bench Monday morning by virtue of a bequest of the late Magistrate Charles G. Franklin, who named his successor a few hours before his death on Sunday. Yesterday Police Chief Freeman was informed by his lawyers that power of appointing a deceased magistrate's successor lay exclusively with the mayor and city council.

Mayor Charles G. Bartlett is known to be politically opposed to Barber. Observers in the magistrate's court yesterday reported he imposed a $15 fine on Mrs. John C. Bray, 1048 Lincoln avenue, Highland Park, without hearing the testimony of officers who had charged her with speeding.

Enters Electric Road Field.

His entrance into the rapidly developing field of the electric street railway operation came in 1896, when he became connected with the electric lines of Milwaukee, Wis.

Later he was made vice president of the International Railway system of Buffalo, N. Y., and continued to direct its policies after he was called to Chicago. To Mr. Mitten was assigned the task of rehabilitating the Chicago system. This largely was accomplished in ordinances he sponsored which were approved by the people in 1907.

Came to U. S. When 10.

Mr. Mitten was born at Brighton, Sussex, England. He came to this country with his father and mother, George and Jane Mitten, when he was 10, and began life in America on a farm in Indiana, near the town of Goodland.

Besides his son, Mr. Mitten is survived by two brothers, A. G. Mitten, treasurer of Mitten Management, and P. J. Mitten, assistant to the vice president of Mitten Management in charge of operations, and two nephews, E. L. Mitten, treasurer of Mitten Bank and Securities corporations, and C. E. Mitten, assistant to the vice president of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company.

BOMB HOME OF FOOTBALL STAR ON SOUTH SHORE

which the swimming pool is situated, found holes blown in the walls in widely separated sections of the big room and in the ceiling.

At once the police made an effort to determine whether the bomb had contained slugs in the nature of shrapnel, calculated to kill and maim or whether it had been made of iron pipe which blew into pieces and entered the walls.

Some of Windows Shattered.

At least a dozen such holes were blown into the walls and ceiling, varying in diameter from an inch to six inches. Some of the windows and glass doors in the club were shattered, as also were the glass panels in automobiles parked near the building.

George Billingsley, manager of the club, and James Mullen, one of his assistants, told the police they had not the slightest suspicion of the motive of the bombers.

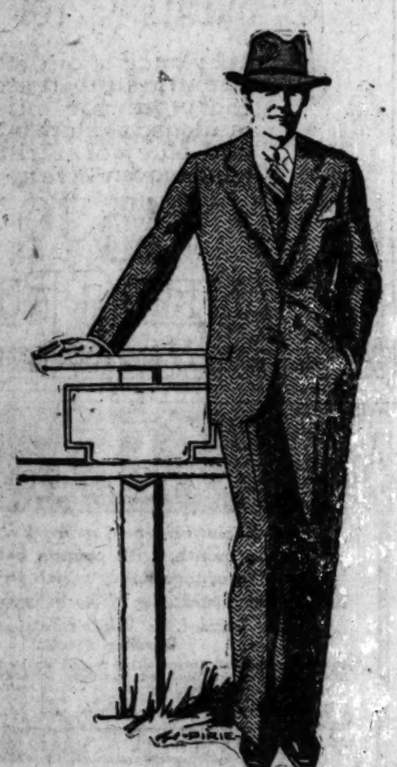

"I cannot see how it could be labor trouble, for the club was built by union labor and it has been open for two years," Mr. Billingsley said. "I can think of no one whom we have discharged recently and we have had no trouble with our employes."

Find No Labor Trouble.

Mr. Mullen said the only outside workmen employed at the club now are those engaged in sweeping out the large chimney. Ray Boyd, chief engineer of the club, said a loop chimney sweeping contractor had been employed to do the work.

"So far as I know the contractor employs all union help," Boyd said.

The police learned one fact, however, which led them to suspect that the bomb might have been thrown as a result of a feud between the drivers for cab companies, who have been fighting for the privilege of serving the club exclusively. The police said the Yellow Cab company has had exclusive rights to present its cabs at the door, and that another company has been trying to obtain the privilege of parking its cabs nearby and also of serving the members and guests. Feeling is said to have run high several times among the drivers.

WIRE TAPPERS HITCH UP WITH MAYOR WALKER

Tamper with His Office and City Hall Phones.

New York, Oct. 1.—[Special.]—The seventeen telephone wires serving Mayor Walker and his personal office here in city hall have been tapped during the last two weeks, Charles F. Kerrigan, assistant to the mayor, announced this afternoon.

Tampering with a direct wire from the mayor's office to police headquarters is also suspected and signs have been discovered of interference even with a telephone connection with a basement gymnasium in city hall.

Acting on the complaint of Mr. Kerrigan, investigators and linemen of the New York Telephone company overhauled the wire system in the building and found the lock of the major terminal box broken. Within it was a three foot length of new wire which might have been used to tap any of the mayor's cables and divert a conversation along another cable, now in use, to a listening post on the third floor.

Linked to Aldermanic Chamber.

The eavesdropper, according to the investigators, may have sat in comfort in a cushioned seat in the dark balcony of the aldermanic chamber. Under a seat in the third row of the right aisle of the balcony a foot of slack wire of the connecting wire hung clear. A portable receiver clipped into the wire, providing the wire in the terminal box was correctly hooked downstairs, would have enabled a listener to hear without danger of discovery.

Substantiating this theory of the possible location of the listening post, cigaret butts and torn bits of a paper match box surrounded a near by back row seat, although the chamber was cleaned after its last use several weeks ago.

The police commissioner was notified yesterday of the disclosure by telephone experts and has assigned a corps of detectives to work on the case. Their only clue is a story that a unidentified man, describing himself as a telephone inspector, was seen prying open the terminal box several weeks ago. He said he had lost his key.

Defects in Service Noted.

Mr. Kerrigan, Charles S. Hand, secretary to the mayor, and others of the mayor's office personnel, all noted defects in the telephone service last week. The voices of callers, they said, would suddenly fade away and then in a moment be audible again. There were peculiar noises on the wires as well. When this condition was prolonged over a period of days a complaint to the telephone company was made. The wire tapping was not suspected at that time, however.

The announcement of the wire tapping charge caused a sensation in political circles. When Mr. Kerrigan was told his story, was asked if he attached political significance to the wire tapping activities, he replied:

"The public can best judge for itself. Who might have an interest in wire tapping in the mayor's office at this time?"

WOUNDED YOUTH AND PAL ADMIT LIST OF HOLDUPS

Two California youths, arrested for shooting in Lincoln Park yesterday, admitted after Lincoln park police found a pistol on one and a recent bullet wound on the right wrist of the other, that they had committed about 100 robberies and engaged in many gun battles on a motor trip from Los Angeles.

The prisoners identified themselves as Edgar Cox, 19 years old, who was wounded, and Paul O'Connell, 18, who had been shot, he said, by a Nebraska attempted to hold up six days ago in Sioux City, Ia. Cox had been arrested some months ago by Los Angeles police on suspicion of manslaughter in the killing of a child by automobile, according to dispatches.

Leaving their native city, Sept. 7, in a stolen car, the pair drove to Denver and executed a score of holdups when newspaper notority and fear of arrest drove them to steal another car and flee the town. In Casper, Wyo., they escaped deputy sheriffs after a pistol battle, and in Omaha and Kansas City, they held up drug stores and filling stations without encountering police. Hudson avenue police advised authorities along their route of the confessions of the prisoners.

63 CONVENTIONS TO BRING 250,000 HERE THIS MONTH

Conventions of fifty-three business and fraternal organizations are to be held in Chicago during October, with an attendance estimated by the Chicago Association of Commerce at more than 250,000 persons.

The association, which has been active in bringing most of the conventions to the city, states that the meetings will include such widely diversified interests as butter and egg men, railway engineers, newspaper men, Greek letter societies, Hebrew societies, Y. M. C. A. secretaries, chiropodists, and surgeons.

The month is expected to be one of the busiest in the city's history as a meeting place for national conventions. The association predicts that this will show an increase of approximately 100 meetings over last year.

OSLO, Norway, Oct. 1.—The officer of a Norwegian steamer Botnia, who was captured by Chinese pirates and held for ransom when the vessel was attacked near Shanghai, has been liberated by regular Chinese troops. When the pirates discovered that the troops had learned of the officer's hiding place they beat him with heavy clubs. Troops killed many of the pirates.

REPORTS BUILDING PERMIT DECREASE FROM LAST YEAR

There were 79 fewer permits for the construction of buildings issued in September than in the same month of 1928 and the estimated cost of new buildings for last month was $8,354,500 lower than for September of last year, according to figures given out yesterday by Building Commissioner Paschen. During last month 518 permits were issued for construction estimated to cost $11,316,200, as compared with 597 permits and an estimated cost of $19,670,700 for September, 1928.

The comparative figures for the period in 1929 and 1928 and for August, 1929, showing the number of buildings and the cost, are as follows:

| | Sept., 1929. | August, 1929. | Sept., 1928. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Apartments | 85 | 109 | 147 |
| Industrial | 105 | 111 | 114 |
| Residences | 297 | 224 | 280 |
| Hotels, hospitals, etc. | 3 | 0 | 10 |
| Others | 28 | 21 | 46 |
| | 518 | 463 | 597 |

Estimated cost—September, 1929, $11,316,200; August, 1929, $18,131,000; September, 1928, $19,670,700.

Though an increase of 56 building permits is "shown last month" over August, the estimated cost of the projects was $6,814,800 less.

PROF. MICHELSON MUCH IMPROVED, DOCTORS REPORT

Considerable improvement was noted by his physicians last night in the condition of Prof. Albert A. Michelson, University of Chicago physicist, who underwent an operation for gland trouble Sept. 20 at the Presbyterian hospital and has since contracted pneumonia. Prof. Michelson is 77 years old.

"The condition of the patient continues favorable," read a bulletin issued by Drs. Herman L. Kretschmer, Ernest E. Irons, and James B. Herrick.

POLICE DEMOTED FOR BUNGLING IN DEATH MYSTERY

Washington Officials and Jury Urge Inquiry.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Chief of Detectives William S. Shelby and Lieut. Edward J. Kelly, head of the homicide squad, were ordered relieved of their present assignments and transferred to less important posts by the district commissioners today. Their demotion follows an investigation of police bungling in the mysterious death two weeks ago of Virginia McPherson, a pretty nurse found strangled with a pajama cord wound tightly around her neck.

The grand jury yesterday returned an indictment charging her husband, Robert A. McPherson Jr., with murder, despite the contention of the two police officials that the young woman committed suicide. The jury recommended that Shelby and Kelly be suspended pending an investigation to determine whether charges should be placed against them.

Hoover Reported Interested.

The district commissioners named a special board of inquiry. Headed by Corporation Counsel William W. Bride, this body will look into the charges of the grand jury "that the investigation into the conditions surrounding the death of Virginia McPherson was handled in a most inefficient and unbusinesslike manner by the detective bureau."

The demotion of the two officers came at the end of a day during which it was reported that President Hoover had expressed the hope that the McPherson case would be investigated thoroughly and senators and representatives had joined in the demand that the officials be ousted at once.

Evidence Allegedly Destroyed.

The congressional indignation against Shelby and Kelly was due to the persistence with which the two officers clung to the suicide theory after evidence was uncovered by Policeman Robert J. Allen indicating that the young nurse had been slain. Despite Allen's repeated assertions that Mrs. McPherson had been strangled to death, the two officers, according to the grand jury report, persisted in their suicide theory and in addition attempted to destroy evidence.

Belief that Mr. Hoover had taken an interest in the McPherson mystery came this morning after Representatives Robert G. Simmons [Rep., Neb.] and William P. Holaday [Rep., Ill.], both members of the house district committee, conferred with Walter Newton, one of the President's secretaries.

Situation Called a Disgrace.

Later the two representatives asserted there should be a shakeout rather than a shakeup in the police department.

While declining to say whether the President was taking an active interest in the police situation, Representative Holaday issued a statement in which he asserted that the "present disgraceful situation in the police department" is the outgrowth of conditions present for many months.

"It would seem the usefulness of Kelly and Shelby is at an end," Mr. Holaday said.

HOLD GARY EDITOR ON A CHARGE OF CRIMINAL LIBEL

Paper Links Grand Juror with Bootlegger.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Alfred G. Perry, editor of the Glenn Park News, a weekly newspaper published in Gary, was arrested there today, charged with publishing libelous statements against a member of the Lake county grand jury.

The juror, Dale Flickinger of Indiana Harbor, was accused in the weekly of being affiliated with Nick Sudovich, East Chicago bootlegger and central figure in the federal investigation now being directed from South Bend.

Slain in Beer War.

On Friday the News charged that federal agents had been informed of a liquor partnership between Flickinger and Sudovich wherein the juror used his trucking facilities in Benton Harbor, Mich., to transport rum and beer handled by the others. Sudovich now stands indicted for the murder of Urosh Marovich, slain in a beer war.

The paper also charged that when Sudovich's indictment was voted by the Lake county grand jury in Crown Point, all but one of the jurors voted for the true bill, leaving the inference that Flickinger refused to agree.

In the same issue, Flickinger was named as having tried to extort money from Max Salmon, proprietor of the Boston hotel, Indiana Harbor, using the club of his grand jury membership and threatening indictment if Salmon did not comply. The hotel was raided Sept. 20.

All these charges are false and constitute criminal libel, Flickinger said in an affidavit which he presented to Prosecuting Attorney Oliver Starr at Gary. The case will be heard before Judge Martin J. Smith.

Judge Writes Letter.

Judge Smith himself has been interested in Perry's charges that the grand juries in Lake county are selected by irregular methods. This interest is evinced by the following letter he sent to Perry Saturday:

"I have read with interest the editorials and statements published in your paper during the last three weeks concerning the selection of grand juries for this county, and as it appears that none of the persons charged with the performance of this function have done anything in regard to this situation, at least not to my knowledge, I would like to get some facts in regard to the matter so that I may be in a position to take whatever action the law would permit me to take in the matter.

Heard of Nothing Wrong.

"No person whatsoever has ever mentioned to me that there was anything wrong and I am entirely without any information in regard to the matter and consequently am without grounds on which to base any action. The only step that I would be permitted to take in the matter would be to discharge the grand jury upon a showing being made that there was either irregularity or corruption used in its selection and then order a new jury drawn. But for me to take such action without a showing of record which would justify such action would be open to the same charges now being made in regard to their selection.

"Therefore, in order that I may be in a position to do something to correct this situation and put a stop to it, will you kindly furnish me with proof of these charges at your earliest convenience. I wish to assure you that I am deeply interested in this matter, both as a citizen and an official of the county, from the standpoint of common decency and justice, and that I am asking your assistance for that reason."

Editor Acknowledges Letter.

Perry's reply to Judge Smith was sent yesterday and follows:

"I acknowledge receipt of your registered letter of Sept. 28, simultaneously with the warrant for my arrest in your court, issued the same day.

"I am, therefore, at a loss, eager as I am to aid you in the cause of common decency and justice, to know whether it is your wish to have an ex-parte hearing or rely upon the presentation of my defense in the concurrent case.

"I trust you will exercise patience as to the actual hearing of my case, as my witnesses are all under subpoena in the District court of the United States [Northern district], and until released by the government, I assume they are not subject to a subpoena by me touching the subject matter of their testimony there. If you are willing to subpoena them, however, I am ready for trial tomorrow.

"A fellow needs a friend when he is under arrest and I thank you very much for your friendly interest."

Editor Perry submitted to arrest and was released in $500 bail.

CHIEF JUSTICE TAFT BACK FROM VACATION, IMPROVED IN HEALTH

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—(AP)—With an even, easy stride Chief Justice Taft this afternoon walked through the Union station where last June, when he was starting on his vacation, he had used a wheeled chair to reach his train.

Returning from a summer at Murray Bay, Canada, where, upon the advice of his physician, he went for minor treatment, the chief justice, who was 72 Sept. 15, was in a cheerful mood as he stepped from the train and strode through the long shed and station, explaining between characteristic chuckles, that Mrs. Taft could not resist the feminine temptation to stop and shop in New York.

He made minute inquiry concerning the condition of the docket in the Supreme court, saying he wanted to report himself "ready for work." Mr. Taft has not been idle during the summer. He has already examined many of the 262 petitions for review filed during the recess. In these the court, during the first two weeks of its new term beginning Monday, must winnow the wheat from the chaff.

While Mr. Taft shows a loss of girth and some weight, his complexion was excellent and he seemed to have found new physical strength during his absence from Washington.

With the coöperation of the eight associate justices, he has succeded in removing congestion from the docket of the Supreme court. Next Thursday he will hold his annual conference with federal Circuit court judges.

ELLER HENCHMAN IS ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

CRIMINAL COURT.

Ray Garfield, having burglar tools, sentenced to 1 to 2 years in the penitentiary; Robert Jones, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Stanley Klarkowski.

Fred Pollach, assault to commit robbery, sentenced to 1 to 5 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Harry B. Miller.

Aubrey Reed, one of the Eller henchmen from the 20th ward, who was a defendant in the recent vote fraud trials, was acquitted yesterday in Judge Joseph David's Criminal court of a charge of murder. The judge forced the state's attorney's office yesterday to put the case, which has been on the dockets since June, 1928, to trial and the jury after a short deliberation returned the verdict of not guilty.

Judge David ordered a pistol returned to Reed. He said that inasmuch as the revolver was in Reed's home and not a concealed weapon he could not order it confiscated. Reed was afraid to take the pistol for fear the police would arrest him on the way home so his attorney, Roland Libonati, took charge of it.

Reed shot and killed James Anderson, also colored, on June 6, 1928. The shooting followed a quarrel over some money in a crap game, which was conducted in the rear of Reed's restaurant at 1115 West 14th street. He plead self defense.

TWO WOMEN WIN DISMISSAL FROM DRY ACT CHARGES

Two women, held on charges of violating the prohibition law, won discharges in court yesterday on technicalities. One of the women, Mrs. Margaret Prestia, 60 years old, 900 South Paulina street, was freed by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker when she testified that her flat was raided by dry agents who had no search warrant.

Municipal Judge Joseph L. McCarthy in the racket court discharged Mrs. Gertrude Gutillo, 17 years old and a mother, on the grounds of insufficient evidence. A policeman, appearing against Mrs. Gutillo, admitted he was 300 feet away when he saw a young woman, whom he thought might be Mrs. Gutillo, sell a pint of moonshine. Her flat also was raided without a search warrant, testimony at the hearing showed.

INDICT VIRKKULA KILLER FOR 2D DEGREE MURDER

Jurors Hear Prohibition Victim's Widow.

International Falls, Minn., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Emmet J. White was indicted on a second degree murder charge today for the killing of Henry Virkkula, Big Falls, Minn., confectioner, last June 8. White, who was supended as a customs patrolman after the shooting, has admitted he fired "four or five" shots from a riot gun after commanding Virkkula to stop his car and submit to a search for liquor.

EMMET J. WHITE.

The slain man's widow who, with her two small children, was in the car when it was riddled by Volstead law bullets, testified before the grand jury today. Other witnesses called and questioned by County Attorney David Hurlburt included Sheriff Hugh Reidy, Coroner W. F. Cantwell, and A. H. Sahr, a farmer living near the scene of the tragedy.

Bride Accompanies Defendant.

White and his bride of last spring arrived here from Duluth this morning. He is at liberty under a bond of $5,000. He will be arraigned at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow before Judge Pfeiler.

Former Congressman O. J. Larson of Duluth has been appointed special assistant prosecutor. United States District Attorney Lewis L. Drill of St. Paul is expected to ask removal of the trial to the federal district court at Duluth. He will have four days after the arraignment in which to file his petition.

The county attorney announced as the grand jury convened this morning that there would be no attempt to make the case a debate between wets and drys.

"There has been some feeling here," he said, "that the charges against White should be minimized because Virkkula once was convicted on a liquor charge. That is, of course, absurd. We contend that White violated a state law when he shot Virkkula, without even the claim of self defense."

White Is Jovial.

Virkkula was taking his wife and child home when he was killed. There was no liquor in his automobile. The slaying was one of a long series of dry law outrages which resulted in the taking of riot guns from the officers.

White was jovial on the streets of International Falls today, and strolled around with his wife while the jury was hearing the widow of Virkkula describe the slaying and was examining the bullet punctured body of the automobile in which the Virkkula family rode.

Porto Rico Must Wait 991 Years for U. S. Gift

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Oct. 1.—Acting Governor Beverley today made known that President Hoover had transferred to Porto Rico title to the San Geronimo military reservation by proclamation. The chief portion is held under a 999 year lease by Lieutenant Commander Virgil Baker, retired, and signed by Theodore Roosevelt in 1921, while acting secretary of the navy. The property involved is estimated to be worth $500,000. The gift of the United States is one which Porto Rico may enjoy at the expiration of the Baker lease, which has 991 more years to run.

like to graduate. A.—That doesn't require an answer, but an investigation.

Q.—Why don't good men who have money and influence run for office? A.—It might be the destruction of a man's business and a certain amount of leisure would be taken away from him. A conscientious public servant has no leisure. An officer of a corporation would have to consult his associates about the effects of his candidacy. High salaried men can't afford to hold office. Campaign contributions are levied on gambling, vice, horse racing and office holders. And then there is a suspicion that any man going into office is going to make something out of it.

Q.—Gov. Koehler of Wisconsin beat the La Follette machine because the men who backed him knew he was an honest and capable business man, but even he had to break some of the rules to win, as he spent more money than the La Follette machine. A.—Business men and systematic business is needed in public office. Even the wealthiest business would be bankrupt in two years if run as the city is run.

Why Europeans Behave.

Q.—You say playgrounds cut crime; how about London? A.—There is a great difference between Europe and America and wny crime is kept down in Europe may be due to many reasons. In France all the people speak French, in Germany they speak German, in England they speak English, but here the largest portion of our criminals do not speak our language. And in Europe they have law abiding sense driven home through the ages.

Q.—Isn't prosecution more effective in England? A.—Is it?

Q.—They have as many murders as we do. A.—No, Chicago has the outstanding record for that.

Q.—If the newspapers are inadequate to inform the public on all civic matters, how is a person to become acquainted with conditions and how can we get trustworthy information? A.—The newspapers are quite reliable as far as they go, but they do not give full reports; just the gist is reported and it is difficult for the ordinary citizen to comprehend what is back of the gist. It is not enough for the public. You should attend all public meetings you can and learn by discussion in your own societies and agencies.

The State and Nation.

Q.—You talk about developing national patriotism; can we not develop a love for Illinois? Have we no pride in our state? A.—Perhaps there is a lack. California has state pride, too much of it, and so has Texas. That's at the sacrifice of national pride. As to civic pride, Chicago is a wonderful city in spite of all the damnation heaped upon it.

Q.—Ought we not emphasize our civic progress more than our commercial progress? A.—Chicago should be proud of all its progress, commercial and civic, but we should strive for betterment.

The meeting ended with a question to the chairman, S. J. Duncan-Clark, about whether it is wrong for a newspaper to give details on "just how she poisoned her husband and how this and that gangster was killed," and Mr. Duncan-Clark's statement that, as a newspaper man, it would take him an hour to answer the question.

SENTENCES STILL OPERATOR TO 60 DAYS' ROAD WORK

Judge Olney C. Allen of the Kane county court at Geneva, who a month ago announced that all second time violators of the prohibition law who appeared before him would be sent to jail and that the more flagrant offenders would be required to work on the highways, yesterday sentenced John Lankamp of Aurora to 60 days hard labor on the roads. Lankamp was found guilty on his latest arraignment of operating a still.

Judge Allen holds that under provisions of a statute 52 years old he can require liquor violators to work on the highways. He came upon the old law while looking up statutes relating to saloons and dram shops.

Besides sentencing Lankamp to labor on the roads, Judge Allen ordered Axel Nelson to jail for four months on a charge of operating a blind pig at 45 North Broadway, Aurora.

U. S. THREATENS CONFISCATION OF RAIDED VESSEL

Sailing of Steamer Is Denied by Drys.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Whether seizure of liquor with an estimated original cash value of $738, aboard on a lake steamship in Milwaukee harbor last night, will permit prohibition authorities to confiscate the vessel, valued at more than $250,000, was a debated question here tonight.

The liquor was seized by the coast guard and federal dry agents on the S. S. Utica, owned by the Great Lakes Transit corporation of Buffalo, N. Y., when it docked here.

Put Value at $50,000.

Dry officials issued a statement after the raid that $50,000 worth of alcoholic liquor had been located on board but a check up today disclosed that it consisted of 43 cases of ale and 12 cases of whisky with a probable value at purchase of $738. The price of whisky at Windsor is $40 a case and ale $6 a case.

Prohibition department officials denied clearance papers for the ship to proceed to Chicago with its legal cargo. The captain and 31 members of the vessel's crew are under technical arrest.

Attorneys representing the owners of the Utica called W. Frank Cunningham, prohibition administrator here, and requested that the boat be released as soon as possible. Mr. Cunningham informed the attorneys he had no intention of releasing the vessel.

Confers with Port Collector.

Prior to that time, Mr. Cunningham had made no report of the raid to the collector of the port, Walter Wilde. As matters stood then, Mr. Wilde said he saw no reason for denying clearance papers to the vessel. The master of the ship, Capt. Robert Koch of Buffalo, however, made no request for the papers inasmuch as Mr. Cunningham had said he would not release the ship.

Late today Mr. Cunningham conferred with the collector and apprised him of the facts in the case. Following this conference Mr. Wilde said he will decide tomorrow if clearance papers would be granted the boat.

Mr. Wilde said the prohibition department had authority to hold the boat while completing its investigation, but he was doubtful about the department confiscating it.

The law provides that a vessel may be seized for entering a port with contraband aboard, but in the case of a common carrier it states that the commerce of the vessel shall not be interrupted unless it can be proved the owners and master had knowledge of the violation. Capt. Koch denies any knowledge of the liquor aboard.

Liquor Cargo Incidental.

The Utica is a freighter of 3,533 tons, and had a full cargo. The bags of liquor were only incidental of the legal cargo, it was pointed out. Officials here said it was possible that members of the crew took the liquor aboard at Windsor, Ont., where the vessel put into port, and intended to distribute it to friends at some port other than Milwaukee. This, they believed, could have happened without the knowledge of the captain.

Mr. Cunningham is proceeding on the assumption the captain knew all about the cargo and he is not concerned whether the owners of the vessel were cognizant of it. He doesn't even care who the owners are, he said.

Won't Release It.

"So far as my department goes, the boat is seized, and it shall not be released," he said. "I do not propose to permit lake steamers to bring liquor into this port and get away with it. I am convinced the crew was implicated with a large bootlegging ring and that this boat is only one of a number of them endeavoring to flood Milwaukee with Canadian liquor."

The Utica was boarded by Capt. William Kincaide of the United States coast guards and dry agents, under Cunningham, as it docked here. The men were permitted to remain aboard for the night and have not been arraigned. Mr. Cunningham said he wants to "complete his investigation," before the men are arraigned.

Ship Firm Will Aid U. S.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 1.—(AP)—President James Carey Evans of the Great Lakes Transit corporation today issued a statement promising complete cooperation with the government in investigating the source of the contraband liquor carried on the Utica, seized at Milwaukee last night.

Preliminary plans in defense of the concern's interests were made today.

The federal court in Milwaukee will be petitioned for granting of bond for the Utica so the ship may proceed to Chicago with her legal cargo.

TO OIL DRY LAW

John R. McNab of San Francisco appointed by President Hoover to suggest changes in administration of federal laws pertaining to the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment.

HOOVER NAMES McNAB TO OIL DRY LAW MACHINERY

Wants It Transferred to Department of Justice.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—President Hoover acted today to expedite the transfer of prohibition administration from the treasury to the department of justice in the interest of better dry law enforcement.

John McNab, San Francisco lawyer and close personal friend of Mr. Hoover, was appointed today as head of a special body which will study and formulate changes in federal administration and judicial machinery. In announcing the appointment the President said the recommendations of this group would be submitted to congress for the more effective enforcement of the laws under the 18th amendment.

The appointment of McNab followed the failure of the senate to act favorably on President Hoover's request of last June that congress appoint a special joint committee to make an immediate study of the advisability of centralizing the responsibility for dry law administration under a single head.

Had Wanted Special Committee.

Although no definite solution was recommended by the President in his message to congress on the subject, it was made known that Mr. Hoover desired that prohibition should be placed under the attorney general.

Although the President stated in his announcement today that he still hoped congress would appoint a special subcommittee, as he had requested, it was apparent that he has little confidence this will be done in time to make a thorough study of the transfer problem prior to the opening of the next session of congress in December.

The McNab committee, which will include representation from the treasury, department of justice, and the law enforcement commission headed by George W. Wickersham, is now expected to complete its labors in time to recommend such changes in dry law administration as the President thinks necessary.

Seeks Centralized Effort.

"The general lines of reorganization on the administrative side are to centralize the administrative agencies and thus responsibility for investigation and enforcement into the hands of the department of justice," President Hoover said in explaining his aims.

"The study also includes methods of expediting judicial action. These proposals have to do solely with administration and procedure in enforcement of the laws and not with changes in the laws themselves."

Attorney General Mitchell explained later in the day that officials in his office believe that prosecution of dry law offenders could be handled more effectively if prohibition agents worked directly out of the offices of district attorneys. He said that on many occasions district attorneys had expressed the hope that the officers who prepared the evidence and investigated the cases were under their charge. Mr. Mitchell indicated that placing prohibition under the department of justice would stop the "buck passing" which sometimes follows the loss of dry cases in the courts.

CANADA DENIED POWER TO HALT U. S. BOOZE FLOW

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 1.—(AP)—The Canadian department of justice has formally ruled that the government of Canada has not the power to prohibit by regulation the export of liquor to any country wherein the importation of liquor is prohibited or restricted.

This opinion, which has particular application to the United States, became known today when Premier Mackenzie King, after a meeting of the cabinet council, said the department of justice had been requested for a ruling on whether he and his colleagues could prohibit by regulation liquor exports from Canada to a prohibition country. The reply was in the negative, the premier added.

"That means that any actions for the prohibition of liquor export to countries where is importation is prohibited or restricted must be taken up by parliament," Premier King said.

Tables Dance, Beds Slide in Sick Girl's Room—Ghosts?

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—Spirits of another world descended on Charlottenberg, one of Berlin's suburbs, causing a heavy table to dance, bells to ring, and beds to slide about the room of an 11 year old sickly girl. This is the assertion of four doctors and one Roman Catholic priest. They have checked up the ghost's performances over several weeks, they reported. The Psychic Research society believes the phenomenon genuine. The case is being further investigated by a special medical commission.

Just Out of Jail, Says Wife Had Him Nabbed Again

When Gust Dobrasz, 38 year old war veteran, returned to his home at 4835 South Seeley avenue Monday night after serving a sentence in the Bridewell his wife informed him she had mislaid the door key and told him to climb in through a window. As he was doing so Mrs. Dobrasz called police and had him arrested, he told Judge Herbert M. Immenhausen yesterday. Dobrasz said that by similar means his wife had caused him to spend 164 of the last 200 days in jail, he averred. The judge continued the case to Nov. 1.

PROPOSES LONG LEASE BY CITY OF AIRPORT LAND

Caldwell to Submit Plan on Friday.

A proposal that the city take a long term lease from the board of education on the municipal airport tract of about 600 acres was announced yesterday by President Caldwell of the school board. He will submit the plan Friday afternoon at a meeting of city officials, aviation boosters and representatives of the school board and commercial aviation companies. The meeting will be held in the city hall office of Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe.

Because the commercial air lines cannot yet afford to pay rent commensurate with the appraised value of the municipal airport land, Mr. Caldwell will propose that the city lease the remaining north half of the tract until 1936 at the yearly rate of $6 an acre. The southern half of the 600 acre tract will remain the landing field of the commercial lines, while the northern half might be developed for amateur, private, and transient planes.

Suggests Lease By City.

In 1936, according to Mr. Caldwell's proposal, the city would enter into a long term lease for the whole tract, paying the school board an annual rental amounting to six per cent of the appraised valuation of the land.

Provision would be made for a revaluation every ten years by a committee of three, which would include a school board, a city and a neutral representative. The airport land is now worth about $5,000 an acre, but possesses a much greater potential value.

If the city sold its Clarendon beach property, which is nominally worth about $3,500,000, the money could be used to set up an airport fund. The income from this fund might be used in the development of the north half for private and transient planes. Public hangars would be built, and rented to private plane owners.

Sees Lease as Satisfactory.

"The predominant interest of the school board in the airport is pecuniary," Mr. Caldwell said. "The city must promote commercial aviation. The school board cannot afford to sell this property because of its potential value. I believe that a long term leasing proposition would be acceptable to the board of education providing the financial arrangement is equitable."

WIDOW ACCUSES PAL OF KILLING IN 'SUICIDE' CASE

Fred Pocius, 34 years old, found dead Monday in his back yard at 4613 Wentworth avenue, from a bullet wound in his back and believed at first to have been a suicide, last night was thought to have been murdered.

Stockyards police were preparing to question Paul Evankus, 35 years old, of 326 West 42d street, following a statement by Pocius' widow, Katherine, 23 years old.

Mrs. Pocius, her sister-in-law, Nellie Pocius, and Evankus, all of whom attended a party that preceded Pocius' death, had been taken into custody after they testified at the inquest that Pocius went into the back yard and shot himself. Mrs. Pocius last night suddenly told police she wished to "tell all."

"My husband and Paul Evankus went downstairs together," she said. "We had all been drinking. They were gone only a few minutes when I heard three shots. We ran down into the yard. My husband was dead. Paul ran up to me and said, 'don't talk and I'll marry you.'"

BEGINS ANOTHER COURT FIGHT ON CUNEO BUILDING

Owner of Neighboring Property Asks Writ.

Another obstacle was placed in the way of the projected Cuneo tower at Michigan avenue and Randolph street yesterday when William Kopf, owner of a five story building adjoining the Cuneo site, filed suit for an injunction in the Circuit court charging that erection of the tower would encroach upon his property rights.

Kopf thus joined three other property owners who now have pending suits which charge unjust discrimination in the passage by the city council of an amendment to the building and zoning code which gave Cuneo the right to build a 60 story structure, rising 440 feet without setbacks. The previous height limit was 264 feet.

Sues for an Injunction.

The new complaint asks for an injunction restraining Cuneo from building the tower, while the other suits ask reversal of the city zoning board decision upholding Cuneo and cancellation of the building permit.

According to Kopf's petition, work for the tower caissons is now under way in the basement of the seven story building on the site where Cuneo plans to erect the tower. The plans for the tower call for two caissons to be laid four feet, eight inches under Kopf's building on the north. Kopf charges that this would constitute encroachment.

Calls Tower a Menace.

If the tower is erected, according to Kopf, it wolud sway so much in a windstorm that it wolud be a menace to his property adjoining. Furthermore, he charges, plans for the tower do not comply with requirements of the city ordinance in so far as they do not give details required.

Final action on repeal of the Cuneo building permit is to be taken by the city council today. A report on repealing the amendment under which the permit was obtained will also be submitted to the council, which probably will not take action on this phase of the matter until a future meeting.

Bandits Fooled; Victim's "Money" Only Pamphlets

Two bandits, who mistook Benjamin Bridge, 27 years old, 8234 Drexel boulevard, for a money messenger of the South West Trust and Savings bank, 3500 Archer avenue, were chagrined yesterday afternoon to learn after kidnaping him that the brief case he carried contained only promotion literature. Flourishing pistols, the robbers forced Bridge into their car at 33d street and Western avenue, drove around half an hour while they rummaged through his papers, and threw him out in an alley at 45th street near Washtenaw avenue.

NEGRO PEDDLER DIES IN FIRE.

Amos James, 35 years old, a Negro peddler, perished early yesterday in a fire that destroyed a barn in which he made his home, in the rear of 1436 West 18th street.

SCAN WASTES OF SIBERIA FOR LOST FRENCH AIR HERO

Coste, Out for Record, Last Seen Sunday.

MOSCOW, Oct. 1.—(AP)—At midnight tonight, almost five days after he left Paris in an attempt to set a new nonstop flight record, the fate of Dieudonne Coste and his companion, Maurice Bellonte, still was in doubt.

Their red sesquiplane, the Question Mark, apparently followed the great trans-Siberian railroad line without mishap for 2,000 miles until the Frenchmen lost their way shortly after leaving Novo-Sibrisk. That Siberian city is 1,000 miles this side of Irkutsk, his immediate objective.

Plane Sighted Twice.

At 6 a. m. Sunday, Moscow time, he was reported over the city of Kirensk, 500 miles northeast of Irkutsk, on the Lena river, far north of his scheduled route. Observers here believed that Coste, realizing his mistake, then attempted to fly southward and reach Irkutsk from the east.

He was sighted later the same day, or at least a strange plane was seen which was thought to be the Question Mark, over the village of Adamova, in the Barguisinak district on the eastern shores of Lake Baikal, 250 miles northeast of Irkutsk.

Although all soviet authorities have instructions to telegraph immediately any word of the aviators, no further tidings have been received since Adamova reported. Russian air authorities have launched an extensive search.

Shot Down, Another Fear.

LE BOURGET, France, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Possibility was advanced here today that Capt. Dieudonne Coste and his mechanic, Jacques Bellonte, might have flown within the lines of the Chinese army in Manchuria and have been mistaken for Russian aviators.

It was feared that in such an event the Frenchmen would have been fired upon and perhaps brought down since their machine was painted red, the color most often associated with the soviet military.

Soviet Plane Off Today.

SITKA, Alaska, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The four Russian aviators flying from Moscow to New York announced today that they would leave here at daybreak tomorrow in the monoplane "Land of the Soviets" for Seattle. Commander S. A. Shestakov said he and his companions would follow the coast on their 700 mile hop that will bring them to the United States. They have flown across Siberia and along the Aleutian islands to the Alaskan mainland.

STREET CAR INJURIES FATAL.

William Kikula, 57 years old, of 1729 Huron street, died in the county hospital yesterday from injuries he sustained on Monday when he was struck by a street car.

Aviation Notes

W. G. Ferstel, former district passenger agent for the Illinois Central railroad in Chicago, has been appointed general traffic manager of Continental Air Services, Inc. Continental Air Services will soon inaugurate passenger lines between Chicago and New Orleans.

An eight passenger Sikorsky amphibion has been purchased by the Public Service company of Northern Illinois for emergency uses in patrolling and inspecting the company's properties in 300 towns.

Daily service both ways from Mexico City to Juares, replacing thrice weekly services, is announced by the Air Transport corporation.

Commemorating the inauguration of air mail between the United States and Mexico and Pan America a year ago, a banquet was held last night at the Palmer house under the auspices of the air commerce reserve. The general theme of the addresses, however, was air safety in respect to this week's general public safety campaign. In attendance were five Pan American consuls and figures identified with commercial and civic aviation organizations, Col. T. A. Sigueland, Chicago banker, was toastmaster.

Ceremonies were held at the municipal airport in the afternoon. Official good will letters were dispatched to the presidents of South American nations.

Besides 11 specially chartered passenger planes to be flown by the Curtiss Flying service to the Philadelphia games of the world series, flights to football games by special charter have been announced. There will be round trip flying service to the following football games: Northwestern vs. Wisconsin at Madison, Oct. 12; Notre Dame vs. Navy at Baltimore, Oct. 12; Notre Dame vs. Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh, Oct. 26; Chicago vs. Princeton at Princeton, Nov. 2; Notre Dame vs. Georgia Tech at Atlanta, Nov. 2, and Illinois vs. Ohio State at Columbus, Nov. 23.

ADMITS ILLEGAL VOTING; GETS 3 MONTHS IN JAIL

James May, 22 years old, 420 St. James place, was sentenced to serve three months in the county jail yesterday by Judge G. Fred Rush in the Criminal court when he admitted that he was guilty of illegal voting. First Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup was in court and agreed that a three months sentence would be sufficient for the crime committed.

May was arrested in the 23d precinct of the 42d ward during the aldermanic election on Feb. 26. He attempted to vote under the name of Jack F. Doyle, 147 West Huron street. He had at the time already cast his own vote in the 21st precinct of the 44th ward.

The fraud was discovered when a woman election judge became suspicious because May could not properly answer the questions to qualify for Doyle. He was arrested and admitted the fraud.

FLEXIBLE TARIFF BATTLE HINGES ON 1 OR 2 VOTES

Heflin Comes Out as a Protectionist.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Administration forces in the senate continued a desperate fight today to round up enough votes to save President Hoover from defeat in the first important battle on provisions of the tariff bill.

With a vote due Thursday on the Simmons amendment abolishing the flexible tariff provision whereby the President is empowered to raise or lower rates not more than 50 per cent, the contending forces are about evenly divided, and the issue hangs on one or two votes.

In the midst of speeches for and against the flexible tariff today another Democrat—Senator J. Thomas Heflin of Alabama—clambered aboard the protection band wagon.

"I am going to vote for the protection of the products of my part of the country and will not vote to do injury to the products of any other part of the country," said Senator Heflin. "The time has come for all of us to work together."

His Switch No Surprise.

The conversion of this particular Democrat to the protective tariff creed was heard with satisfaction by the Republicans and was not unexpected. Predictions were heard some time ago that Brother Heflin would come into the protectionist fold at an early date.

Those predictions followed the action of the finance committee in reducing the duty on graphite 50 per cent at the instance of Senator Walter E. Edge [Rep., N. J.], in whose state lead pencils are largely manufactured. It happens that domestic graphite comes largely from the state of Senator Heflin, who suddenly has perceived the importance of restoring adequate protection to this local product.

Mr. Heflin's case resembles that of Senators Thomas J. Walsh and Burton K. Wheeler, the Montana Democrats, who are fighting for the restoration of a protective duty to manganese, which is largely produced in their state.

A Bit of Strategy.

The finance committee put manganese on the free list, supposedly at the instance of the steel trust, which uses the substance in the manufacture of steel, but also with an eye, according to other reports, to trading a restoration of the duty for support of the bill by Walsh and Wheeler.

Senator John J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.] attacked the flexible tariff as futile. He said that after the duty on butter had been raised by the President the price of butter dropped 15 cents a pound lower than in 1920.

"The increased duty on milk and cream," he went on, "resulted in no benefit to the men who milk the cows but redounded solely to the benefit of the distributors who milk the farmers."

MAC CRACKEN RETIRES AS U. S. AIR SECRETARY AFTER 2 YEAR SERVICE

WILLIAM P. MAC CRACKEN. [(C) Harris & Ewing.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—William P. MacCracken Jr., of Chicago retired today as assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics after two years' service. He was succeeded by Maj. Clarence M. Young, director of the aeronautics branch.

On the occasion of Mr. MacCracken's departure, the department of commerce made public statistics showing the great developments in commercial aviation during the past two years. The figures disclosed that the number of airplane miles flown yearly by commercial planes has jumped from 4,315,037 in 1926 to 10,673,450 in 1928, and 12,000,000 up to Oct. 1, 1929.

During the administration of Assistant Secretary MacCracken the airways division lighted 11,000 miles of airways for night flying and established 135 stations which distribute weather information along the airways.

In 1926 the number of passengers carried for hire amounted to 5,782. A total of 60,000 passengers had been carried up to Oct. 1 this year with indications that at least 80,000 passengers will be carried during the year.

COUNTY HOSPITAL TAKES OVER OLD NURSING SCHOOL

The Illinois Training School for Nurses, which for 49 years had trained nurses for the Cook county hospital, ceased to exist yesterday and its functions were assumed by the new Cook County Hospital School of Nursing.

Trustees of the old and the new institutions lunched in the school quarters at 509 South Honoré street. Mrs. Bruce MacLeish, vice president of the trustees of the old school, presided. Among those present were President Cermak of the county board, Supt. Zimmer of the county hospital, Col. A. A. Sprague, Coroner Bundesen, Dr. Ludvig Hektoen, Dr. Harriet B. Wheatum, and Frank S. Shaw.

When organized in 1880 the school provided nurses for two wards of fifty beds each in the county hospital. The present school numbers 1,000 pupils, providing nurses for the 2,300 beds in the hospital. Legacies held by the old school were turned over to the University of Chicago to help establish a graduate nursing school there.

BRITAIN RENEWS RELATIONS WITH SOVIET RUSSIA

Will Name Envoys; End Differences.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 1—An agreement was reached today between Great Britain and Russia for full resumption of diplomatic relations, including an exchange of ambassadors, thus paving the way for full resumption of trade and commercial relations between the two countries. Arthur Henderson, British minister of foreign affairs, announced this tonight following a secret meeting Dovgalevsky, soviet Paris, at the White Sussex.

ARTHUR HENDERSON

with Valerian ambassador to Hart hotel in

Announcement Ambiguous.

Mr. Henderson left the conference of the Labor party at Brighton by auto to join the soviet minister. They had lunch at the hotel, where the concluding conversations took place.

Mr. Henderson's announcement is ambiguous about what is considered an important point—whether the respective ambassadors are to be appointed before the outstanding questions and differences between the two countries are taken up or afterward.

The soviets have insisted that ambassadors be appointed first. If this is done it is expected to draw an attack from the Conservatives. It already has aroused violent attacks from the inspired press of France, Italy, and the continental powers, who suggest that Prime Minister MacDonald hopes to meet the Conservative attack for giving in to the soviets on this point [if that happens] with the success which he hopes to bring back from his naval disarmament negotiations with the United States.

Put Up to Parliament.

Today's communique stresses that any agreement reached will be subject to the aproval of parliament. Mr. Henderson's statement says:

"An agreement has been reached with Russia in regard to the procedure to be followed for the resumption of full diplomatic relations, including the exchange of ambassadors, and for the settlement of questions outstanding between the two governments, as well as an agreement regarding propaganda. The outstanding questions include:

"1. A definition of the attitude of both governments toward the treaties of 1924.

Claims and Counter Claims.

"3. Claims, counterclaims, and debt claims rising out of intervention and otherwise, and financial questions connected with such claims and counter claims. [This refers to the seizure of property of British subjects by the communists and soviet demands for damages for British aid to White Russian attempts to overthrow the bolsheviks.]

"4. Fisheries.

"5. The application of private treaties and conventions."

The official documents for submission to the two governments, which will be signed by Mr. Henderson and Dovgalevsky, are being prepared. It is hoped the documents will be ready for signature before Dovgalevsky leaves for Paris on Friday."

It is expected that Mr. Henderson will make a more lengthy announcement of the detail and arrangements to the Labor party conference tomorrow.

ORIGIN DOUBTED

JACKSON BARRETT.
[Associated Press Photo.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Jackson Barnett, reputed wealthiest Indian in the United States, today was refused a passport for a European tour because he failed to present evidence that he was born in this country. With his wife, formerly Anna Laura Lowe, Barnett was attempting to provide documents to authenticate his Americanism.

DRY LAW SPY IS SENTENCED FOR PERJURY

Macomb, Ill., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Clarence Pullen, professional liquor informer, was sentenced to Joliet penitentiary for one to fourteen years this afternoon on a plea of guilty to perjury charges. Probation was denied by Judge Willis F. Graham, who, in pronouncing sentence, said, "You betrayed the people of the state of Illinois and you betrayed the friends whose friendship you had cultivated."

Pullen was employed a month ago upon recommendations of officers of neighboring counties.

In two days he reported nearly twenty liquor "buys." Officers became suspicious because the bottles he turned in were uniform in size, shape, and contents, and because he reported so many contacts in such a short time, but they paid him.

Three of those he accused, Theron Haines, Dean Walley, and Burrel Dorothy, later obtained affidavits in which he admitted that he had never purchased liquor from them.

M'ARTHUR DECLARES FORMER WIFE "MERELY WANTS MORE MONEY"

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Asserting that his former wife, Caryl Frink McArthur, "Merely wants more money," Charles McArthur, Chicago playwright, today filed answer to her petition asking that her divorce decree be set aside by the state Supreme court.

After reviewing legal questions involved the brief filed today continued: "Petitioner, when she filed her bill of divorce, wanted a divorce. She now has it. The only inference that can be made is that she wants more money. She apparently believes that by prolonging the litigation additional money can be obtained."

The divorce decree was entered in the Superior court of Cook county three years ago. Mr. McArthur has remarried since.

COURT DISMISSES CHARGE AGAINST SPEEDBOAT MAN

A charge of assault and battery against Roy Marks, of the Jones corporation, operator of river speed boats, was dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Joseph Schulman when the complainant, Lawrence S. Northrop of the Christ-Craft company, a rival concern, refused to prosecute. Northrop made the complaint on July 15 following a fight with Marks over landing privileges.

Assistant State's Attorney Leonard Mandel explained to the court why he had requested a continuance at a previous hearing of the case. He said at the time he wished to find out if the quarrel between Marks and Northrop could be in any way connected with a collision between boats of the two concerns several days later, which resulted in two deaths. No connection existed between the two events, Mandel told the court yesterday.

JAIL POPULATION INCREASES THIRD WITHIN 3 MONTHS

An increase of 33 per cent in the jail population has occurred in the last three months, Sheriff John E. Traeger announced yesterday as a conference was called to attempt to remedy the heating and lighting facilities of the new $7,500,000 jail and court buildings. The jail had 781 prisoners on July 1, as against 1,039 prisoners yesterday. The capacity of the institution is 1,500 inmates.

City and county engineers are to attend the conference today in the office of Capt. James Russell, county superintendent of public service. The engineers will discuss the plan to heat and light the new buildings from the municipal heating plant, which recently failed to function properly.

Sheriff Traeger blamed the increase in the number of prisoners on the fact that the criminal court judges and attaches took the usual vacation periods, but the criminals failed to do so.

COUNTY APPEALS TO THE VOTERS IN TAX CRISIS

Bears Virtually All Cost of Reassessment.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The reassessment of all real estate in Cook county and the reduction of valuations within the city is placing an extraordinary burden upon the county government. The county has supplied all of the cash required to make the new appraisal, although when the plan was first advanced the city council, school board, and sanitary district passed resolutions promising to contribute to the expense.

J. LOUIS JACOBS. (TRIBUNE Photo.)

Only the sanitary district made good its pledge even in a limited way. In the heyday of its ready cash it sent $3,000 over to the county board, which promptly cashed the check. Otherwise the county has stood the entire expense, although, as one county commissioner put it yesterday, the county gets less than 5 cents out of every tax dollar collected.

Cost Figured at $2,928,000.

J. Louis Jacobs, fiscal expert for the county commissioners, reckons the cost of reassessment to the county at $2,928,865.

"That," commented Mr. Jacobs, "is a very heavy burden for the county to stand out of its approximately $11,000,000 in taxes per year."

The reassessment in salaries and wages has already consumed $1,204,668. A total of $96,999 has been spent for supplies, and the printing of the real estate assessments is placed at $75,000. To this total of $1,376,865 already spent will be added an estimated $87,000 in salaries and $15,000 in supplies to carry on the work until Dec. 1—the end of the county's fiscal year. That makes an aggregate of $1,478,000 in expense.

Taxes 10 Months Late.

To this has been added by Mr. Jacobs the loss in revenue occasioned by the reassessment. One effect of the reassessment has been a delay to date of 10 months in the collection of taxes. The county has had to borrow and will pay for that money an added $350,000. Then, too, because no taxes have been collected the county treasurer has failed to earn an estimated $500,000 in interest on tax moneys. Also because there has been no collection the county is shy about $400,000 in penalties on tardy taxpayers. In this way the total expense of $2,928,000 is arrived at.

The county commissioners saw this coming last February. They went to Springfield to obtain the power to levy a special tax to pay these expenses. They asked for the right to levy 6 cents for $100 valuation and the legislature consented, subject to a referendum. The voters will be asked to express their opinion on this tax at the judicial election next month.

But the county commissioners apparently did not reckon that the cost would be so much. If they levy the 6 cents, and collect the taxes, they will still be about $300,000 short of meeting the estimated expense.

The purpose of the $2,928,000 expense was to obtain an equitable real estate valuation for taxing purposes. It is reported that one or more of the local governments is highly displeased with these valuations within Chicago. One of these is said to be the board of education, but none has come out in the open yet with an attack.

A conference is to be held this morning in the offices of the board of review on the methods by which the valuations were determined. Some of the testimony adduced at this conference may be utilized later to question the validity of the assessments, according to rumor.

The finance committee of the city council yesterday decided to ask the advice of the bureau of public efficiency, the Association of Commerce, Citizens' association, Federation of Labor, West Town chamber of commerce, Uptown association and the Northwest Side Commercial association in the preparation of a budget for next year. This is the list suggested by Ald. Arthur F. Albert at the last council meeting. He asked that these organizations be invited to go through the city hall and suggest where economy might be practiced.

CHICAGO READY TO GREET MAYOR OF BERLIN TODAY

Chicago's preparations for the entertainment of Dr. Gustav Boess, mayor of Berlin, and four of his assistants in the administration of the German capital, were completed yesterday. The party will arrive at the Municipal airport at 11:05 o'clock this morning from Detroit for a two day visit here.

At luncheon today the Germans will be guests of the Chicago Association of Commerce at the Hotel La Salle. A reception by the city council will be held at 2:30 p. m., followed by a visit to Tribune Tower and a drive through Grant park to the proposed site for the 1933 World's Fair.

A tour of the stockyards, the parks, and the boulevards, the forest preserves and the sanitary district projects is on the program for tomorrow. City Treasurer Peterson will be host to the party at luncheon tomorrow and Fire Commissioner Goodrich and Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe will be their guides in the morning.

REVIVE REQUEST FOR 52 TO MAN 2 FIRE STATIONS

Council Defers Action on Increasing Force.

Fire Commissioner Goodrich's request for fifty-two men to man two newly built fire stations and for three rescue squad wagons—a request which was defeated last week—was revived yesterday in the meeting of the council finance committee. Opposition to the request developed and action was deferred by the aldermen until the next regular meeting of the committee, probably on Oct. 15.

In the meantime the station at 62d and Green streets will remain empty and the fire company at 2714 Pershing road will be shifted to the new house at 42d street and Sacramento boulevard. The aldermen suggested that the same procedure be followed to man the other new station.

$18,000 for Immediate Needs.

The program sent to the committee by Commissioner Goodrich called for the employment of 42 firemen and 10 officers. One station would be put into operation Oct. 3, the other on Nov. 1, and the rescue squads Dec. 1. The cost was estimated at $18,000 for the remainder of this year and more than $100,000 for 1930.

"Let's not take on any extra men until we determine what provision can be made for them in next year's budget," said Ald. Guy Guernsey [6th], who opposed the request.

An investigation of city hall finances was sidetracked by the committee by amending the resolution of Ald. Arthur Albert [43d], which called for an inquiry to be conducted by civic organizations. The amended resolution, worded by Ald. Oscar Nelson [46th], the administration's floor leader in the council, invites the civic groups to coöperate in working out the city's financial problems.

Bridge Extra Awarded.

Approval of the committee was given to an $11,000 extra award for the Fitzsimmons & Connell Co. on its Clark street bridge contract. The extra award is for the construction of houses for the bridge operators and was recommended to the committee by Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe.

At the request of Ald. Guernsey the committee instructed its financial staff to prepare a statement for today showing the amounts of money borrowed by the corporate fund from the miscellaneous funds, such as the traction account.

An extra of $150,000 for the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company on its river straightening contract, ordered deferred at the last council meeting, will not be called up at today's council session for approval, the committee decided. Ald. John S. Clark [30th], chairman of the committee, announced that an investigation into the award has not been completed.

A special meeting of the committee will be held next Monday to discuss the city's financial difficulties, which include a deficit of $12,000,000 and a loss in tax revenues of approximately $5,000,000. The aldermen will have before them a budget for 1930 prepared on the lines of the 1926 budget, which totaled approximately $53,000,000, or $6,000,000 less than this year's.

DELAY REMOVING OLD PIER, HAZARD TO RIVER TRAFFIC

Removal of the center pier of the old Clark street bridge, a menace to navigation in the river, consisting of piles protruding a few feet above the water, awaits only the approval of a contract by Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe giving the work to the Fitzsimmons & Connell Dredge and Dock company. The contract, resting on Wolfe's desk, calls for the expenditure of $38,000, the lowest amount named in three bids.

This work was delayed until the completion of the new bridge, according to Loran D. Gayton, city engineer, to protect the new span while the sidewalks are being laid. Sidewalks are laid on each span of the bridge separately, and while the work is progressing the span cannot be lifted. The river craft move under the span opposite to the one being worked on, and the center pier prevents any craft from ramming the lowered section of the bridge.

George Ross, Teacher at Lewis Institute, Dies

George Ross, for 28 years a manual training instructor at Lewis institute, Madison street and Damen avenue, dropped dead of heart disease yesterday afternoon while conversing with a student after class. Mr. Ross was 60 years old and lived at 118 Ridgeland avenue, Oak Park.

TWO RAILROADS READY TO TALK OF NEW DEPOT

N.Y.C., Rock Island Make Overtures to City.

P. E. Crowley, president of the New York Central lines, and James E. Gorman, president of the Rock Island, have written to the city that they are prepared to discuss a new south side railway terminal whenever the aldermen are ready.

P. E. CROWLEY.

The letters were received by Ald. Edward J. Kaindl [34th], chairman of the council committee on railway terminals. He also has another letter from President L. A. Downs of the Illinois Central saying that Mr. Downs is preparing the data requested by the aldermen and will present it as soon as it has been completed.

Report Western Indiana Acts.

No official statement has been received from the Western Indiana group of roads, but it was reported yesterday that they had resumed negotiations with the Illinois Central on its offer to house all the railroads now using the Dearborn terminal. These are the Western Indiana suburban service, the Santa Fe, Grand Trunk, Monon, Erie, Wabash, and Chicago and Eastern Illinois.

This activity results from the adoption of a resolution by the railway terminals committee on Sept. 13 asking a reply within 30 days to certain questions. The resolution asserted that the city for 15 years has attempted to obtain new terminal facilities for the roads using the Dearborn, La Salle street, and Grand Central stations. By the adoption of the resolution that policy was abandoned and a more forceful one substituted.

Cite Railroads' "Evasion."

The aldermen believe that the new policy is justified because they asserted that "the railroads for 15 years have met suggestions for the improvements with evasion, procrastination and subterfuge," while "both the freight and passenger terminal facilities have become inefficient, antiquated and inadequate for the accommodation of the public."

The aldermen specifically charged that these railroads "have placed a heavy burden upon incoming and outgoing freight to the injury of the industrial progress of Chicago."

It is also charged that the railroads of the Dearborn, La Salle and Grand Central stations have cut off and prevented adequate communication between the business district of Chicago and that large portion of the population living south of Van Buren street.

Claim Public Inconvenienced.

The aldermen say that such a policy has "resulted in inconvenience to the public, has caused the distortion of industrial, commercial and municipal development, has curtailed the growth of the business district south of Van Buren street, has prevented adequate service in local transportation to the citizens of Chicago living or doing business in this vicinity and has created extensive low value property areas, resulting in the loss of taxes which thereby has shifted the tax burden to other property."

Chairman Kaindl said that he will call a meeting of his railway terminals committee next week to ascertain what the New York Central and Rock Island have to offer. Some of his colleagues on the committee expressed doubt that Messrs. Crowley and Gorman will produce plans for a new station, on which their railroads are supposed to have been working for several years, but they hoped they will be surprised.

ROB CADILLAC BANK OF $40,000; INTIMIDATE 15

Cadillac, Mich., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Holding more than fifteen persons back with revolvers, five armed men forced Alfred Chapman, cashier of the Peoples Savings bank here, to open the vaults, from which they took between $40,000 and $50,000, late today. The robbery occurred just fifteen minutes before the bank was to close for the day.

The holdup, well planned, was executed in less than five minutes, according to Chapman. One man stationed himself at the door, another covered five bank employés, a third turned his revolver on Chapman to force him to open the safe, while the other two men scooped up all money in sight in the vault and on the counters.

Eight persons came into the bank while the robbery was in progress and the gunman at the door forced these persons to kneel with their faces to the wall. Among those who were menaced by the door guard was E. J. Haynes, president of the bank, who entered a moment after the robbers came.

Employés of the bank other than Chapman were forced to lie with their faces on the floor while the robbery was in progress. About half of the employés and patrons were women and girls.

Girls, It Would Seem, Are More Bashful in Leap Year

Marriage license figures for the first nine months of 1928 marriage licenses of 2,152 over the same period of 1928, which was leap year. In the first nine months of 1928 marirage licenses totaled 31,024, compared to 33,176 up to Oct. 1 this year. And that period of 1928 showed a decrease of 241 from the same time in 1927.

The higher waistline of fashion is deftly suggested in this two-piece dress of silk bouclette by Peck & Peck. A slight blousing above the fitted tunic accents the slender hip line, and the two-toned blouse and collar is knitted in a tweed block stitch. # MAYOR, HARDING APPEAL EXPERT SUIT JUDGMENT

Their Brief Filed Before State Supreme Court.

Mayor Thompson and County Treasurer Harding, through the law firm of Sawyier, Weinfeld & Parker, yesterday filed a brief and argument setting forth their reasons for an appeal from the judgment of $2,245,604 obtained against them by THE TRIBUNE in behalf of the people in June, 1928.

The brief, 449 pages long, was filed in Springfield before the Illinois Supreme court, which will consider the defendants' appeal. The law firm of Kirkland, Fleming, Green, and Martin, representing THE TRIBUNE, will answer this brief before there is a hearing. A decision is not expected before next February.

History of the Suit.

The suit was filed in 1921 by THE TRIBUNE as a taxpayer. It charged that real estate experts employed by the City of Chicago had been paid exorbitant fees, for which there were no lawful appropriations, and that Thompson and Harding, as mayor and city controller, were responsible. The experts themselves and Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, were also made defendants.

Some of the main arguments upon which the defendants ask for a reversal of the decree entered by Judge Hugo M. Friend are as follows:

1. Neither Thompson nor Harding was personally liable by reason of the issuance of the warrants by which the experts were paid. Authorities are cited to support the contention that the mayor and comptroller in signing the warrants, either personally or by subordinates, were merely executing their ordinary judgment as ministerial officers and were not to be held personally to account.

Contend Action Was Ended.

2. When Lyons and Merigold, two of the experts, were allowed to settle their cases upon the payment of claims against them, the suit was automatically terminated against all the defendants.

3. The trial court admitted and relied upon incompetent, immaterial and prejudicial testimony. Numerous instances are singled out of eighteen volumes of testimony to support this assertion.

4. The evidence failed to show that Thompson or Harding had any personal knowledge of any of the acts which were alleged to have constituted conspiracy and corruption.

The trial of the case consumed more than a year before Judge Friend, who, after digesting the enormous collection of evidence, held that the defendants were guilty of conspiracy and ordered them to pay back to the city the sums unlawfully taken.

KEPT IN VIRTUAL SLAVERY, SON, 20, ACCUSES PARENTS

The old country tradition that a son should turn over all his earnings to his parents until he is of age was attacked by James Vlastnik, 20 years old, in a suit filed in the Circuit court yesterday against his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Vlastnik, 1834 Whitcomb avenue, Des Plaines, Ill.

The youth declared that he had been kept in virtual slavery by his parents since he left school in the sixth grade to go to work. Now, he is earning in excess of $45 a week as a painter, and wishes to dress and amuse himself like other American youths. But his father permits him to have only $5 a week of his earnings, he declared. The complainant is more than six feet tall, weighs 170 pounds, and is barred by his parents from his favorite amusements, ice skating, swimming and such, the bill declared.

Recently the son rebelled and refused to turn over his earnings. His parents now threaten to have him discharged. His attorneys, Harmon Limbaugh and John T. Conlon, will ask a Circuit court judge today to issue an injunction restraining the father and mother from molesting the son.

CANADA AGREES TO BUY IN BRITAIN U. S. TO BE LOSER

Thomas Bares Result of Visit to America.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRIGHTON, England, Oct. 1.—J. H. Thomas, lord privy seal, better known as minister of employment, today gave an account to the Labor party conference here of his recent trip to Canada. He announced that he had been able to get Canadian business which at present is being given to the United States, which would provide more work in England and benefit especially the coal, steel and textile industries.

Mr. Thomas was criticised by John Wheatley, minister of health in the last Labor government, who declared that while Prime Minister MacDonald is in America arranging for peace by disarmament, Mr. Thomas is on the eve of arranging a commercial war with America for Canadian trade. It would be deplorable if such an impression should get abroad, he said.

Labor Disappointed By Report.

Concrete proposals on what the Labor party expected to do about reducing unemployment had been expected from Mr. Thomas and the delegates expressed some disappointment over today's pronouncement. Aside from netting more Canadian business, the report was to the effect that the government's schemes provided for spending about $200,000,000 on roads, public improvements and grants to municipalities. Mr. Thomas said the only definite promise he could make was that the employment figures for February would show an improvement.

Mr. Thomas in his account of his Canadian trip stressed that England looked to Canada for solving unemployment more through increased trade than through emigration, which would be ineffective.

"I found that we are buying 51 per cent of Canada's wheat," he said, "while on the other hand Canada is spending $25 with the United States for every $5 spent with England. As Canada's best customer I felt that we were entitled to ask about it."

Seeks to Sell Coal.

He added that Canada is also buying 16,250,000 tons of bituminous coal from the United States which might come from England. He revealed that he took a shipload of British coal to Canada to be tested for quality by the Canadians. Then he interviewed every Canadian importer of more than 50,000 tons of American coal. He explained that every 300 tons of coal provided work for one year for one miner.

Mr. Thomas said the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways and the Canadian Steamship company had tested the British coal, but he did not reveal any specific figure on the orders he received. He declared the Nova Scotia collieries had organized against him, so he brought back to England some Nova Scotia coal.

"We will be able to show that by blending the two coals Canada will benefit instead of being injured," he said.

Also Sells Some Steel.

Mr. Thomas also announced that one of the biggest Canadian firms had promised to buy steel in England, which at present it is buying in the United States.

He said that the Lancashire cotton trade would also benefit by his trip.

Mr. Thomas explained that he had delayed the announcement of these results in order to prevent the Americans from immediately going into the market and bidding against the British.

The minister gave statistics revealing the enormous scope of his problem of cutting down unemployment. He said that neither the Labor government, nor any other government, could find employment for a million men in the next two years as it seemed was expected of them. There are at present 1,200,000 jobless, he said.

Dolly Lee Fails to Face Disorderly Conduct Charge

Mrs. Dolly Lee, white wife of Ton Lee, president of the On Leong Chinese Merchants association, failed to appear yesterday when her disorderly conduct case was called before Judge Joseph Schulman. Mrs. Lee was arrested with L. E. Reid, a Hollywood publisher, early Sunday on North Michigan avenue. Judge Schulman said he would issue a warrant for her arrest if she did not appear on Thursday. Reid, who was in court with his attorney, charged the arrest was a frameup arranged by his wife, the former Lillian Coolidge of the movies.

Hoover Envoys Will Meet Ship at Quarantine.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ABOARD S. S. BERENGARIA, Oct. 1.—After two days of confusion about plans for landing in New York, Prime Minister MacDonald, en route to the United States to confer with President Hoover on naval disarmament, was finally informed about what is in store for him and his party. It had been announced in the press that Mr. MacDonald would receive the freedom of New York City, but he had received no invitation and it was impossible to make plans or announce a program for such a reception.

This morning, however, a wireless from the British ambassador informed the prime minister that he and his party are to be taken off the Berengaria at quarantine at 9 a. m. Friday. Mayor Walker's welcoming committee will board the ship at 8:30, and after a short welcome ceremony they will go to Battery Point on the city tug. There, Secretary of State Stimson and British Ambassador Sir Esme Howard will welcome the prime minister to American soil on behalf of President Hoover.

Procession to City Hall.

A procession will be formed to the city hall, arriving there at 10 a. m. The ceremony granting the freedom of the city will last a half hour. The party then will drive directly to the Pennsylvania station, taking the 11:10 train to Washington, where it is due about 4 p. m.

Exactly what the Washington program will be has not yet been announced. This, it is understood, depends much on the illness of the princess royal, King George's sister, who is reported to be dangerously ill. If she should die the British court and all British embassies will go into mourning, which probably would make necessary a change in the nature of the entertainment to be provided for the distinguished visitors. Formal dinners probably would be held, but with no dancing afterward, and purely society functions probably would be dropped.

Might Postpone Mourning.

There is a precedent, however, for postponing the period of mourning in order not to upset already arranged public events, and this might be done should the need arise.

The prime minister and his daughter, Ishbel, were on deck early today and played deck tennis. They also took their usual long walk. Last night Ishbel's dancing partner at the ship's gala dinner dance was Tom Mellon, nephew of the secretary of the treasury.

The sea today continues to be smooth, and seasick members of the party made their appearance on deck.

U. S. PLACES O. K. ON TRADE AND SEA PACT WITH TURKISH NATION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ANGORA, Turkey, Oct. 1.—Ambassador Joseph C. Grew of the United States today signed a treaty of commerce and navigation with the Turkish government. The treaty follows on the heels of the conclusion of similar treaties with the French and British, and practically every count favors America.

Despite the rejection of the Lausanne treaty by the American senate, American business interests in Turkey are increasing daily, necessitating a legal status for investments totaling millions of dollars. The signing occurred a few hours after the return of President Mustapha Kemal Pasha from a vacation.

The president's special train was greeted by a formidable array of cavalry and other military forces, while government officials and diplomatic corps members, all wearing high hats, were at the station to greet the president. He appeared tired after his strenuous vacation.

NEW TABERNACLE CLOSED TO THEM, IS JEWS' CHARGE

Ask Court Aid to Enter as Yom Kippur Nears.

Fearful that they may not be able to celebrate Yom Kippur this Friday in their newly erected tabernacle, several hundred members of the Congregation Mishna and Gemora, a Jewish synagogue at 3311 Douglas boulevard, yesterday filed suit in the Circuit court asking the aid of the courts in gaining entrance to the tabernacle.

The Crane Construction company which has built the new tabernacle is keeping the members out until certain debts are paid, according to the suit. When members of the congregation failed to pay $4,000 for work done, the construction company locked the doors and declared there would be no religious services until the money was handed over.

Congregation Is Aroused.

This ultimatum aroused indignation in the congregation because the ten day period beginning next Friday is the holiest season of the Jewish year with the New Year celebration Oct. 4 and 5 followed by the Day of Atonement on Oct. 14. Drastic religious penalties are incurred by Jews who do not attend services on these holy days.

Clarence F. Leavitt, engineer in charge of the construction work, said that $4,000 was due on the contract last Friday. He denied there had been any blockade on the tabernacle, but explained that a quantity of valuable tools had been left in the building last week, and the doors were locked to safeguard this property.

Claims No Payments Necessary.

The new building was erected where the old tabernacle stood. Morris Rosenberg, 3316 Flournoy street, chairman of the building committee, said that although no payments were supposed to be made to the construction company until the work was completed, the congregation, in its anxiety to settle any differences, had offered to pay $3,000. This was refused, he said.

The petition will be assigned to a Circuit court judge for hearing today.

Will Alter Plans on Farm Corporation.

BY PAUL POTTER.

ALEXANDER LEGGE

Chairman Alexander Legge and three other members of the federal farm board will arrive in Chicago this morning to meet with grain growers to discuss charges in the proposed $20,000,000 farmers' national grain marketing corporation setup.

Samuel McKelvie, former governor of Nebraska; James G. Stone of Kentucky, and Carl S. Williams of Oklahoma will join Mr. Legge here. They have called the subcommittee of wheat growers and farm organization leaders to consider minor changes in the type of giant marketing machine which grain farmers authorized in Chicago last July, it is understood.

Counsel Gets Papers.

William H. Settle, Indianapolis grain official and chairman of the organization committee, stated last night over the telephone that he was not informed as to the matters to be discussed. The articles of incorporation prepared in Chicago last month were submitted to George Farrand, legal counsel for the farm board, by Mr. Settle some time ago, it is understood. At that time it was stated that at the next meeting of the committee of sixteen grain marketing leaders would be called by Mr. Settle as a board of directors to hire immediately a general manager and set the organization machinery in motion.

Invited to Meeting.

Sam H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, and L. J. Tabor, master of the National Grange, have been invited to the meeting, it was stated here yesterday. Mr. Thompson was attending a luncheon as the guest of President Hoover, and could not be reached.

Other grain marketing leaders expected to attend include: S. J. Cottington, Stanhope, Ia.; C. E. Huff, Salina, Kas., and John Manly, Enid, Okla.

STAGE IS SET FOR CREATION OF WORLD BANK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BADEN BADEN, Germany, Oct. 1.—Everything is in readiness for the seven power conference for the creation of an international bank for reparations payments provided under the Young plan. The conference will open here Thursday.

The delegates of France, Great Britain, Italy, Belgium, Japan, and Germany and the two American experts, Melvin Traylor of Chicago and Jackson Reynolds of New York, who will aid in framing the constitution of the superbank, are due tomorrow. The conference will be held in the Stephanie hotel.

It is expected the conference will last three weeks. The principal problems are the location of the bank and the scope of its activities. Amsterdam, The Hague and Zurich have been mentioned as the likeliest places for the headquarters, although the British still want London and the Germans Berlin, and certain allied powers favor Brussels.

FINED FOR ASSAULTING MAID.

Miss I. V. Rosenberg, manager of an employment agency at 800 Davis street, Evanston, was fined $5 and cost yesterday for assaulting Hattie Neal, a colored maid.

TROUSSEAU LINGERIE

Responds to the Modern Bride's Flair for Subtle Color

It almost seems that this season's lovely lines are created especially for brides! Nightrobes and combinations follow slim princess curves. . . . Panties flare adorably about the hems, deep-edged in Lace.

They are delicately hand-fashioned of soft Satins, of French Crepe de Chine, or of French Ninon. Deep Alencon Laces in coffee-shades are set on by infinitesimal button-hole stitchings.

We can't begin to go into detail, but they are all exquisite . . . worthy of the most charming of Autumn brides.

THE SHEARER FIASCO.

While the Shearer inquiry and its dramatis personæ are enjoying the thrills of world wide publicity we take leave to remark that in no other country in the world would such an occurrence take place at such a time.

That is to say that upon the threshold of a momentous international event, signalized by the first official visit of a British prime minister to the President of the United States in our national capital, and involving decisions of the gravest possible consequences in our national policy and in our most important international relations, our government undertakes a sensational investigation which has to do solely with a past event but which cannot fail to cast suspicion if not discredit upon American diplomacy and the protection of American interest.

What is the implication of this investigation? First, that the conference at Geneva in 1927 failed to arrive at agreement because private corporations in search of profits were able, through the miraculous efforts of a press agent, to defeat the purpose of the American government to reduce naval shipbuilding; second, that it is necessary, or at least advisable, to expose this sinister influence in order to prevent a similar miscarriage in the present negotiations.

We think both implications are preposterous, and the inquiry thus far has not produced a scintilla of evidence to support them. But if they are not to be taken seriously, what is to be thought of the wisdom of dignifying the charges against Shearer and his employers by presidential indignation and by a sensational drama of inquiry solemnly staged by no less an institution than the senate of the United States?

The only assumption that can justify such an undertaking at such a time as this is that the American press is so gullible or so corrupt as to fall a victim to corrupt deception, and that the representatives of the United States at Geneva and at Washington were so corrupt or so feeble as to permit the conspiracy to succeed without exposure or protest. A senatorial investigation at the request of the President is not so light a matter as to be undertaken because a few foolish individuals engaged an agent to muddy the waters of publicity with press agent yarns. If an American government's plans can be so cheaply defeated we are indeed humiliated in the eyes of the world.

But this is not the only extraordinary aspect of this official drama. There is the fundamental question of how this miracle working press agent was able to paralyze the high purposes of two mighty powers. With what sinister alchemy did this dark magician succeed in his fell purpose? By deceiving or corrupting American newspaper men into spreading falsehoods? There has not thus far been a single sentence of testimony to that effect. More than that, so far as we have read the proceedings, there has not been even an effort thus far to show that Shearer published or procured the publication, or attempted to procure the publication, of misinformation.

The reason for this seems to us clear, and it deserves to be kept in mind by the American people if they do not intend to be distracted from the relevant issues. The reason is that the publicity at the Geneva conference, whether Shearer was responsible for it or not, presented exactly the picture of the negotiations and exactly the statement of the reasons for the failure to agree that President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg later gave out in public addresses and in diplomatic document.

In short, there is no evidence that the 1927 negotiations failed because of Shearer or because of any misinformation of the public. Therefore, if there is complaint because these negotiations failed, it is complaint because the American government and the American people, knowing the truth, did not propose to come to agreement upon the terms proposed. If publicity prevented agreement, are we to assume that publicity is obnoxious for that reason, and are we to be invited to surrender the right to knowledge in order that henceforth any terms a government may see fit to agree upon shall be accepted by the American people?

The Shearer inquiry, in our opinion, is untimely, undignified, and offensive in the only implications or assumptions that could explain or justify it. It is injurious to the credit of the American press and to the American government and its representatives in 1927. It is injurious to the American effort to procure equitable conditions in naval agreement, and to the high cause of national defense at the very threshold of such agreement. It is confusing to public opinion and subversive of public judgment. And it is completely futile thus far in disclosing any important force or fact relevant to the most grave and momentous issues involved in the negotiations the President now has before him.

A TEST FOR ALDERMEN.

The council judiciary committee has approved Michael Faherty's ordinance for the Ogden avenue improvement. Mr. Faherty thinks that a law enacted by the last legislature will permit his board of local improvements to get the money for the completion of the Ogden avenue widening from the corporation fund instead of by a bond issue voted by the people. If he is successful in having the ordinance passed by the council, the improvement will add an annual charge of $250,000 to the corporate fund of the city for the next twenty years; and unless the courts find this method of paying for public improvements invalid, the spenders will not in future have to ask the voters for permission to borrow for similar purposes.

The council should defeat the ordinance. No measure which has been before the aldermen in recent years has served as a better index to aldermanic integrity and competence than this one. The ordinance will provide money for the Thompson organization to spend, which the Thompson organization has every reason to believe it could not get if the voters were asked for permission to borrow. The issue is clear, and no alderman who votes for the measure can hope to evade it.

There is another and no less compelling reason for voting against the measure. The city's corporate fund is facing a condition that is little short of desperate. The deficit in the fund at the end of the year will approximate $12,000,000, and the reassessment of property has reduced the income of the fund by $5,000,000. The council has an overwhelming task ahead of it in making its new budget. Faherty's contribution to the balancing of the city's accounts is to add $250,000 to expenses. If his scheme had anything to recommend it, which it hasn't, the council would be justified in rejecting it at this time because of the city's financial crisis.

The city is broke and getting more so. The deficits are being met by dipping into the city's trust funds, and the fear that these borrowings will not be repaid is growing. The money from the traction fund is being lent for the corporate purposes of the city under circumstances which would be frowned upon by any cautious banker. It is characteristic of the city administration that in these circumstances the forces of the mayor are supporting Faherty in his proposal to make matters worse. The city looks to its aldermen to save it from the spendthrifts.

THE LADIES PACK THEIR TRUNKS.

Mr. Stimson of the state department reveals that the government is greatly relieved by Mrs. Gann's graciousness in permitting second honors at the MacDonald White House dinner to go to Lady Isabella Howard, wife of the British ambassador. This is a concession for the occasion only, and Mrs. Gann makes it with the understanding that as the hostess of the Vice President she is definitely recognized for duration as the ranking American lady next to the first lady, Mrs. Hoover.

Both Mr. Stimson and Mrs. Gann may well feel that there is a load off their minds. The secretary of state is at ease regarding the visit of the British premier. Nothing material can affect it with the question of dinner precedence established. The future of two nations has been arranged by the decision of Mrs. Gann to give way, an act, it should be said, containing no hint of a surrender. On the contrary, it is almost regal, as if the second lady had said that the matter was of no consequence, wherever she sat being the place of honor.

Furthermore, it is of no consequence that other official ladies of Washington, observing that Mrs. Gann's concession is by way of being an unconcealed triumph, are packing their trunks to be absent from Washington the evening of the dinner. Washington society, it would seem, is about to travel a great deal this winter, a fact the railroad ad men are likely to recognize.

Copy based on this may be expected. Special rates to avoid the Patagonian ambassador's dinner. A fare and a half for Virginia White Springs and return. Attractive rates to insure absence the day of ex-King Amanullah's dinner, Staunton and return. Excursion to Richmond over Mr. Curtis' dinner. Social life this year in Washington will be largely in a trunk.

Editorial of the Day

MAINE HOLDS HER POWER.

[New Orleans Times-Picayune.]

An eastern editor expresses the fear that the "Maine idea" may be taken up by other states and cause industrial confusion. Maine, as we all know, has just voted three to two to hold fast to her state's power, by refusing to alter her law and permit the export of electric current. Big business, we are informed, favored the change, but the conservative farming element feared that the profits from power export would go to the power companies and would mean nothing to the actual citizens of Maine. The latter figured that if outsiders wished to make use of Maine's power resources they should establish their plants within the state, there to pay their taxes and to employ their labor. The fear of the editor above referred to is that other states might do likewise, not all of them in the matter of power but as regards other more or less exclusive possessions, as for example Louisiana and her natural gas.

Such endeavors to capitalize monopoly in narrow fields and make the world pay tribute have been undertaken from time to time by the world's nations, but rarely with any success, because it scarcely ever has happened that the presence anywhere of local materials of a monopolistic character has coincided with a labor supply and marketing means to render the complete business process sufficiently economical to carry through the monopoly idea. For a century our south shipped her cotton to New England for textile manufacture before it was discovered that spinning and weaving could be done cheaper here at home, but even this advantage, now that it has been recognized for a good many years, is again put in question by the south's increased labor demands.

Our grains and our metals are not being manufactured into finished articles in states where the ore is mined and the cereals harvested, and neither are our woolen mills erected near the sheep ranges in the sheep states. To be sure plants will to a degree move near to fuel and power supplies, yet the advantage is not nearly so important as one would imagine, for trade is an intricate affair and cannot often be cornered by the call of a superficial cheapness of production.

PIOUS IN A WAY.

Curate—I am very glad to see you coming to church regularly, Mrs. Black.

Mrs. Black—O, yes, sir. I'll be coming often now, sir. I does it to spite me old man. He hates me going to church.—Baltimore Sun.

PRICKLY HEAT.

THIS is one of the mild skin troubles. It is annoying. It causes considerable discomfort to babies because their skins are delicate, and it may be a source of annoyance to an adult, though it seldom is. It is caused by sweat. If the skin is soaked continuously in sweat, and especially if garments saturated with sweat are kept in contact with a delicate skin, prickly heat may be the penalty exacted. The cause removed, the malady disappears.

This summer many children went dressed in sunbath suits much of the time. One garment hung from the shoulders by narrow straps was the only clothing except when a diaper was worn. The trunk, head, neck, legs and arms were practically uncovered except in the pelvic region. The mothers of these babies watched the skin tan and congratulated themselves that their babies would not develop rickets, that their teeth would be less apt to decay and that they would be resistant to colds and other infections this winter. It probably did not occur to these mothers that their babies had gone through the summer heat without developing prickly heat.

In case the babies had not been "housebroke" and diapers were needed they may have noticed some of the skin trouble in the diaper area, but that was all. Those babies who wore no diapers or only light ones escaped entirely.

The women who remember the prickly heat they suffered when they wore corsets and heavy underwear will continue their support of the present day woman's wear.

The prevention of prickly heat is simple. It consists in protecting the skin against sweat. That can generally be done by adjusting the clothing. Men who work as stokers and at other hot jobs can avoid prickly heat by wearing no shirt or undershirt. In time men on such jobs may wear nothing but a breechclout and sandals.

For the relief of prickly heat the skin may be dusted with any soothing dusting powder. In some cases it may be best to clean the skin with a cream rather than soap and water and then use a soothing powder or even a soothing salve. But the main method of treatment is to see that no soggy garments are left in position to macerate the skin.

A FINICKY EATER.

Mrs. M. L. writes: My sixteen months old girl has been eating so little in the last three months. At first I thought it was due to the warm weather, but she doesn't eat on cool days, either. She will not eat any breakfast, and won't even taste cereal. She has been eating all kinds since she was six months old. She eats very little dinner. The most she will eat is a saucer of soup or vegetable, never both. I have tried cereal for supper, but she refuses it. She will eat a soft boiled egg or a couple of teaspoonfuls of vegetable and a small piece of bread. She eats about 6 o'clock and goes to bed at 8:30. Sleeps all night. Has 12 teeth and is very active. She is out of doors about five hours daily if weather permits. Weighs 23 pounds with some clothing on and weighed nearly 5½ pounds at birth.

1. Is it all right to give her vegetable for supper?
2. Would certified milk be too filling and keep her from eating? She drinks a quart a day.
3. Is there anything I can give her to stimulate her appetite? She gets orange, prune and tomato juice and cod liver oil.

REPLY.

1. Yes.
2. A quart a day is enough and perhaps a little too much.
3. The cure of the finicky eater is a matter of training rather than of medicine. Your child seems to be getting enough food and to be thriving. Therefore you have time to train her.

MILK AND NAVY BEANS.

R. A. writes:

1. Is milk hard to digest?
2. Are navy beans hard to digest?
3. What is sweet milk composed of?

REPLY.

1. Some people find sweet milk a little hard to digest. Such people should add a little orange juice, tomato juice, lemon juice or vinegar to their milk or they should stick to sour milk or buttermilk.
2. No.
3. Water, fats or cream, milk sugar, albuminous material, minerals and vitamins.

MARRIAGE LEGAL.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—If a man married a woman one month after she was divorced, is his marriage legal if the ceremony took place before the new law was put into effect? R. L. R.

WILL NOT BE DEPORTED.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—[Friend of the People.]—I entered this country in 1905 or 1906 by deserting from, I believe, an English boat. I have lived here peacefully and law abiding since, and having been informed some time ago that I was not able to become a citizen, I let it go at that. [I was not informed by an authority.] Now some one discovered my secret and I am in fear of deportation. I never did anything wrong. My questions are: Can I be deported? Can I become a citizen? R. R. D.

1. If you entered this country in 1905 or 1906 without being properly examined by an immigration officer, you are unlawfully in this country. The number of years of your continuous residence in this country precludes your deportation.
2. You cannot become a citizen of the United States without first leaving the country and returning in a proper manner; that is, you would have to be examined by an immigrant inspector. S. D. SMITH, District Director of Immigration.

ADOPTION AGE LIMIT.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Is there any age limit to adoption? N. D.

Yes, the Illinois statute does not authorize the adoption of adults.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

BIG TEN FOOTBALL.

The present Wake-Line, because of Uncle Dick's absence, has not had our usual opportunity for personal observation and conversation with authorities, so our conclusions must of necessity be derived from unofficial observers and critics.

Strangely enough, these unofficial observers and critics give the best chances among these four to Wisconsin and Minnesota, despite the fact the Illini have been champions for the last two seasons. "Gloomy Glenn" Thistlethwaite deprecates Badger title talk. Wisconsin has good material, with "Bo" Cuisinier the greatest loss. Its team spirit was one of its greatest assets last season. When within sight of the title, with only a Purdue tie to mar its record, the Badgers took it on the chin in the final issue with Minnesota.

Thistlethwaite is a sound coach who never received adequate credit for what he accomplished at Northwestern despite lukewarm support from some quarters. He is a builder, and sooner or later will produce a championship squad which Madison has not enjoyed since 1912. This is a tough year with so many good elevens, but the Badgers certainly are in the running.

Minnesota always has powerful elevens. Of course, Dr. Spears (for publication) minimizes chances, which is good coaching strategy, but last year he told close friends he had a good team, which it was, but this year would be a great team unless eligibility riddled the squad. Others have been prone to say Minnesota possessed prowess from the shoulders down, but not from the shoulders up, and mishaps have befallen the Gophers in the past. So the Minnesota contingent is especially anxious to refute this slander.

Illinois has a majority of the men who as sophomores took the title in 1927 and repeated last season. These men are now seniors. Seniors sometimes become self-complacent, but there are enough new candidates for positions to minimize this danger, and Zuppke is not the type of coach to "encourage" overconfidence. Illinois' line has been its great bulwark. Lacking a star of Red Grange's brilliance, it is a well balanced outfit which is hard to beat, and it knows football.

Michigan began last season like a total loss and ended with close victories over Illinois and Iowa. There were several good sophomores to whom experience should prove valuable. The Wolverines have a new coach in Harry Kipke, usually counted a disadvantage. Kipke, however, for several years was on the Ann Arbor coaching staff. He knows football and is a likable chap, who will be popular with his men. His strategy is to be proved. Our opinion is that Kipke's first year will not be the handicap to him that it would be to some others.

In the so-called second flight are Northwestern and Iowa. The Purple has a capable backfield, but enough line replacements necessary so it will be handicapped in its early games against Badgers and Gophers. If Coach Hanley takes either of these games he will be a sort of miracle man to Evanston. Later in the season Northwestern will be a formidable foe.

Iowa is said to be "fighting mad" as a result of its Big Ten suspension. It showed good form last Saturday. Despite loss of several stars, it figures a strong aggregation whose progress will be watched with interest.

Pat Page at Indiana also is a builder. His material is getting better each season, but the squad does not look strong enough in reserves to have title chances. The Hoosiers, however, are likely to upset any man's team, as witness their unexpected tie with Minnesota last fall. Purdue, with a great backfield, is not so sure of its line. It is ranked with Indiana.

Ohio State has a new coach, Sam Willaman, and heavy losses by graduation. Buckeye alumni, in general, regard this season just the start of a rebuilding process. Chicago has heavier material than usual, but is woefully weak in reserves. Maroon supporters will be satisfied if the Staggites defeat just one conference foe, or make a good showing against Princeton.

While the Cat's Away.

HTW: I think one of the best gags I ever heard about Uncle Dick is the one Floyd Gibbons tells about Uncle Dick's expense account when he was a war correspondent, wherein he explained a quite tidy sum of money by the item, "For horses shot out from under me on the scene of battle." GIBBS.

BEG YOUR PARDON.

Lest University of Iowa readers fail to understand the caption, "Pigs in Philosophy," appearing over a Line quip Tuesday morning, we'll explain: the typewriter transcribed only a faint "k." What we attempted to caption, of course, was "Pigskin Philosophy." Sorry! Cease firing!

This Wake-Line Is Conducted by Harvey T. Woodruff. Help! Help!

WE ARE SO THANKFUL to be with you, dear readers, on this bright, pleasant day. Our heart goes out in gratitude to an inscrutable Providence. For we have just read that an irate lady bumped off her husband and partner because he played a hand of bridge poorly. And to think that we still live!

Fielder's Choice.

HTW: Out at the ball park a fannette was entertaining friends and explaining the fine points of the game. The batter hit a fast one down shortstop way and the shotstop came up without the ball, which rolled on out into left. "That," explained the hostess, "was a fielder's choice. He could or could not have stopped it as he chose." No kidding! DOC.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 2, 1864.

WASHINGTON. — Secretary Stanton announced that no reports of the operations of Gen. Grant's forces in front of Petersburg have been received since the dispatches given out yesterday. It is believed, however, that a great battle is in progress.

WASHINGTON. — Gen. Sheridan sent a detailed report of his triumphal progress through the Shenandoah valley in pursuit of Gen. Early's rebel forces, confirming the numerous victories reported during the last week. He says, "It is my opinion that most of the troops that Early had left passed through the mountains to Charlottesville."

ST. LOUIS.—A raid on Belleville, Ill., by a detachment of Gen. Price's rebel army is threatened. To meet the emergency Adjt. Gen. A. C. Fuller of Illinois leaves here today with arms and ammunition to organize and arm a regiment at Belleville for border service and home protection. There is great excitement at Belleville. Gen. Rosecrans ordered the 132d Illinois regiment, Col. Pickett, to report immediately at St. Louis.

WASHINGTON.—Ex-Gov. Dennison was sworn into office as postmaster general to succeed Blair, who resigned at the request of President Lincoln.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 2, 1899.

LONDON.—Great Britain hourly expects word of war with the Boers, as the most disturbing news comes from South Africa. The Daily News' Berlin special says that Dr. Leyds names next Tuesday as the date for a formal declaration of war by the Boers. Commander General Joubert is reported to have said that he has 10,000 men on the Natal border.

MANILA.—Filipino envoys had an hour's conference with Gen. Otis. They brought a message from Aguinaldo that he desired peace and wished to send a civilian governmental commission to discuss the question. Gen. Otis replied that it was impossible for him to recognize Aguinaldo's government in that way, and thus the rebel chieftain's third attempt to shift his troubles into the diplomatic field failed.

NEW YORK.—All is in readiness for the races between Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock and the Columbia for the yachting championship of the world, the emblem for which is the old silver cup, weighing 100 ounces, won by the famous schooner yacht America in 1851. The first race of the series will be held on Oct. 3.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 2, 1919.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—It is war to the last ditch between the United States Steel corporation and the striking unions, with no hope of arbitration or other amicable settlement. This the senate committee on labor learned today from the testimony of Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the corporation. Mr. Gary said it was the fixed policy of the steel corporation never to recognize unions.

FIUME.—There has been a fresh clash between Italian and Serbian troops in the streets of Spalato. It is reported about 200 were killed and many more injured. The reports indicate the Italian troops crossed the armistice line and took some prisoners and the fighting followed.

ARDMORE, Okla. — United States Senator James A. Reed was egged from the stage at Convention hall here tonight as he was being introduced in preparation for his speech against the peace treaty and the league of nations. The crowd of 6,000 howled their derision as Reed appeared and all light wires were cut.

CINCINNATI, O. — The Chicago White Sox were beaten, 9 to 1, by the Cincinnati Reds in the opening game of the world's series. Eddie Cicotte, Manager Gleason's pitching ace, was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning when the Reds scored five runs. Dutch Reuther hurled for Cincinnati.

WORK FOR SMOKE SQUAD.

Lombard, Ill., Sept. 26.—It is unfair and unjust to the coal industry in Chicago, and throughout Illinois, to charge, as you do in your editorial, "Work for Smoke Squad," that "one of the unpardonable nuisances in Chicago is the stationary engine which burns coal." The "refinements of industry" to which you refer "have eliminated much of the smoke and dirt," but to suggest that these refinements have been brought about by the substitution of oil for coal is not supported by the facts. It may be more convenient and less bothersome, especially in small homes, to burn oil in place of coal but I think you will find, if you take the trouble to investigate the situation, that it is generally agreed that for all commercial or industrial purposes the burning of coal is more economical and generally more satisfactory than the burning of any substitute for coal. It is because these facts are known to the experienced users of fuel that the operators of stationary engines burn coal, and not oil.

This is not intended to suggest that equipment which "pollutes the atmosphere" should be tolerated. It should not. And if there be any such pollution, from either coal or oil, the smoke inspector has the remedy in his hands. But to suggest, as you do in your editorial, that this pollution comes only from the burning of coal, and that the remedy for this pollution lies in substituting oil for coal, is a libel of a great industry which, for three generations, has been the mainstay of our economic life in Illinois. JOSEPH I. BREEN.

THE BENIGHTED PAGE.

Hudson, Mich., Sept. 30.—Never before have I taken occasion to protest against that which has been printed in THE TRIBUNE, although I have differed widely with that which you contend for, but your editorial reflecting upon former Ambassador Walter H. Page exasperated me to such an extent that I cannot refrain from expressing my resentment.

While nothing that you could print would in any way detract from his good name, you have shown to what extent you will go to serve the same interests that hired Shearer. To even intimate that Walter H. Page was guilty of sedition is so without basis as to be absurd.

Such cowardly attacks upon men of such high character as Mr. Page tend to keep honorable men out of public service, and we have too few of his kind. Any man who refers to the life and service of Mr. Page in a dishonorable way ought to be publicly horsewhipped. EDWARD FRENSDORF.

THE HISTORY OF DRESS.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—My interest in costume design has urged me to compliment you on your choice of pictures illustrating the change in women's dress through the years, which are running in the rotogravure section of THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE. They are most interesting and valuable to me. VIRGINIA E. MASIER

RADIO COMPETITORS.

Wheaton, Ill., Sept. 25.—Is it true that there are no more passenger pigeons in this country? PORTIA GILPIN.

PERPETUAL DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—From a practical standpoint there should be no objection on the part of Chicago people to making the so-called daylight saving time permanent. Any one who doubts this will do well to look where the sun is at 5 a. m. and again at 5:30 p. m. This test will prove that starting the day an hour earlier has advantages for all—not just garden fans and golf bugs.

With the change of time we'll soon be going home in the dark or by lamplight, as they say. A little later we'll be working an hour or more a day by artificial light. Why waste all that morning light? Chicago is big enough to be a leader, and now is a good time to start showing a little independence.

We have just changed back to standard time, and why? Not because Chicago people wanted to change, but because it has been the custom to do so about Oct. 1.

We have seven months in which to think this over, and we should all do our share of boosting for a permanent Chicago time. A. J. WIRES.

SIGNS FOR FIRE STATIONS.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—In regard to Fire Commissioner Goodrich's appeal for new buildings, I'll say it is all right; but how about all the money that was spent foolishly here of late for those beautiful Neon gas signs that one sees hanging from the fire stations? I cannot understand the why of those signs. I hardly think that the fire department stations need a sign advertising that they extinguish fires. The money that was spent on those signs could have been saved and spent for something better. MAX LEWIS.

HISTORY WITH ART.

Geneva, Ill., Sept. 30.—Your plan of including a copy of a color reproduction of one of the great masterpieces of painting with your SUNDAY TRIBUNE is a very unique one and will prove of great educational value in furthering an appreciation of the work of these distinguished artists.

May I suggest an addition which I believe would add a little to the educational value of your scheme? As you know, content plays its part in the making of every picture, and a study of the discrimination with which various master painters have selected their subject matter is helpful in learning to appreciate a picture.

Books containing such stories of great paintings are available. My suggestion is to print on the back of the picture a story of it, giving a sketch of the artist's life, how he came to paint the particular picture, and a description of the painting. Or, in order to enable the readers of THE TRIBUNE to have the picture framed, the story of the painting of the original could be attached in such a way as to be easily removed.

EDITH E. PEARSON,
Assistant Superintendent Kane County Schools.

A Perfect Ensemble of Matching Accessories for Vionnet's Striking Formal Daytime Coat, Illustrated

●

Molyneux's draped turban, so small and yet so important in its treatment, is a perfect hat to wear. Distinguished in line it yet competes in no way with the striking lines of the coat. Black felt, of course. From the French Room, Fifth Floor, North, State.

●

The Lelong glove designed especially for us in black kid with link button and tiny white strips which cleverly follow the line of the hand—a perfect glove for the daytime ensemble of elegance. From the Section of Paris Accessories, First Floor, Middle, State.

●

La Reine, a very fine Chiffon hosiery (resembling a French Chiffon)—stressing the chic darker cast fall hosiery has taken on—in very sheer gunmetal. From First Floor, North, State or Fifth Floor, Middle, Wabash.

●

Our black suede pump with kid tip and narrow piping and high Cuban heel—an important footwear fashion. It is a perfect shoe for fall afternoon wear. From the Shoe Salon, Fifth Floor, Middle, Wabash.

●

A black suede bag enriched by a handsome mounting of marcasite across the top. One of the new formal afternoon bags, handsomely fitted and from a collection of both antelope and crepe de chine handbags with marcasite mountings or clasps. From the First Floor, Middle, Wabash.

The Ensemble—A Study in Matching

To match or not to match—that is the question these fall days when ensembles are uppermost in the minds of all of us. And, of course, one can do either or both with one's costume and rest assured of its chic—the point being HOW you do it.

So important do we consider the ensemble this season that we are showing three types this Exposition week—the costume that contrasts slightly—the costume that matches—and the costume that contrasts decidedly. The clothes which we have chosen for examples are all important fashion successes from the Paris openings—fashions which we believe will become classic in the Autumn mode—the accessories, whether matching or contrasting, are those also sponsored by Paris and worn as they were worn in the Paris showings.

Our apparel and accessory sections have kept these three types of ensembles distinctly in mind in preparing their fall collections. That is why ensembles of such distinction and perfection of detail as the one pictured, a study in matching or blending, are constantly achieved.

SO. SHORE LINE VOTED ELECTRIC PRIZE OF NATION

Awarded Medal for Year of Achievements.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—The American Electric Railway association, in annual session today, voted the Chicago, South Shore, and South Bend railroad, the leading electric railway property of the United States the last year. It conferred upon it the Charles A. Coffin gold medal and $1,000 in cash for the company's employés' benefit association. Four years ago the line was considered "a pile of junk."

Rehabilitation of the line, which runs from downtown Chicago through the famous sand dunes of northern Indiana to South Bend, ninety miles distant, is declared by association leaders to have been an outstanding achievement of a decade in the transportation field. Faith in the future of electric railways, courage to spend money, and coöperation of employés have been the dominant factors in achieving results.

What It Was—and Is.

Conditions were bad when the Insull interests took over the property in 1925. The road was insolvent. Its rolling stock was archaic, tracks little better than streaks of rust, employés dissatisfied and public indifferent when not actually unfriendly. The road's competition consisted of nine Class A steam railroads and a cement motor highway that paralleled most of the entire right of way of the electric line.

The line was rebuilt from the ground up. The initial outlay was $13,000,000. A total of $5,000,000 was spent on trackage and roadway improvements alone. The entire property was reëlectrified. A new signal system was installed. New cars were purchased. Freight and passenger stations were rebuilt. Employés were fired with enthusiasm, and a broad advertising and public relations campaign launched.

Meets Competition.

New business came fast. Operating revenue in 1928 was 257 per cent over 1924. Travel between Chicago and Gary increased 45 per cent during the first two months of the new operation. A deficit of $228,000 in 1927 turned into a net income in 1928.

In order to meet steam line competition the road has been quipped with service of a comparable character. Parlor observation cars with swivel chairs, smoking compartments, women's lounge, buffet kitchen, glass enclosed platforms and six wheel trucks are provided.

One of the outstanding features of the development of the line has been the advertising campaign. The Indiana sand dunes have been pictorially represented in colored posters and given wide distribution.

Stevens Tells of Traffic Relief.

Discussion of traffic congestion relief in Chicago was a subject of today's session. Elmer T. Stevens, Chicago merchant, who headed the business men's committees that brought about the abolition of parking in the loop district, was the leading speaker. He told how, under limited parking, downtown Chicago streets were a traffic jam, which made passage of vehicles almost impossible, causing many accidents and great business losses. Since parking has been abolished, traffic has been speeded up, accidents greatly decreased and business not injured, Stevens declared.

RAYON MILLS HEAD SLASHES HIMSELF TO DEATH IN HIS HOME

Elizabethton, Tenn., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Konsul W. C. Kummer, acting president of the American Bemberg and Glanzstoff plants, was found dead in bed here today, his left wrist slashed in a dozen places. A coroner's jury declared he had killed himself while "in intense pain."

A note in German found on a table in the room read: "I do not believe that I shall be able to work any longer for Rayon. If by chance any impairment . . ." The sentence trailed into unintelligible words, as if the writer had been unable to finish. The note was interpreted for the coroner's jury by E. R. Boss, technician at the plants.

Hints of murder advanced earlier in the day were dispelled after the inquest, at which Dr. J. B. Shoun testified that Kummer was subject to attacks of gallstones.

Dr. Kummer came here two months ago from Germany to assume control of the mill. During the last few weeks unrest of employés, who struck last spring, was manifest, and while officials of the Textile Workers' union prepared for a strike ballot, Kummer ordered a ballot in the mills under the direction of the workers' committees. The employés voted overwhelmingly against a walkout.

Hunter Bags Ducks and Falls Over Boat, Dead

ADERHOLT DEATH TRIAL ATTORNEYS ACCEPT 5 JURORS

New Panel Drawn After 100 Examined.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Two groups of earnest lawyers and an impartial judge sifted five jurors from a panel of 100 reluctant veniremen in the second day of the Aderholt murder trial here today.

It was a long session lasting from early morning until a rain filled darkness settled down outside Mecklenburg county courthouse. Inside the big courtroom, behind closed windows, venireman after venireman climbed into the jury box, glanced curiously at the seven labor organizers accused of second degree murder and felonious assault in connection with the death of Police Chief O. F. Aderholt and the wounding of three of his officers in Gastonia last June 7, and fought to be excused.

Many Convinced of Guilt.

Most of the prospective jurymen were convinced the defendants were guilty, a few could not serve because they felt Fred Erwin Beal, alleged ringleader of the Loray mill strike, was "to blame for everything that has happened down here."

There were others of the 100 who pleaded sickness, two had to nurse ill wives, one man sent word he could not appear because he already was serving the state—in jail.

At the day's end, when patience and veniremen had been exhausted, the following five men were accepted by both prosecution and defense:

John L. Todd, 40 years old, a rural mail carrier.

E. L. Moore, 34 years old, an employé of the Charlotte Ford assembling plant and a former shoe clerk.

Judge Excuses 55 for Cause.

Early tomorrow Mecklenburg county officers will begin scurrying over the country to gather in another one hundred prospective jurymen. Their names were being drawn from the county taxpayers' box tonight.

When the first tilt for jurymen had concluded the state had used five of its fourteen challenges, the defense had thrown in fifteen of its twenty-eight challenges and Judge M. V. Barnhill had excused 55 men for cause, the leading cause being their inability to "give the seven accused men a fanr and impartial trial."

Tom Jimison, former Charlotte Methodist preacher, questioned the veniremen for the defense. E. T. Cansler asked the questions for the prosecution. Judge Barnhill also questioned each man. At times the prospective jurors balked at questions.

Communism Question Barred.

Both defense and prosecution went into religious, political, and economic beliefs, and both sides attempted to inject the communistic question into the qualification of jurors. Judge Barnhill permitted the defense attorney to question several of the men regarding their attitude toward defendants or witnesses who did not believe in God, but cut Mr. Cansler short when he attempted to obtain a definition of communism from a reluctant venireman.

C. M. Sutton, a salesman, was dropped by the defense when he expressed his unqualified opinion of any one who did not believe in God.

"What if these men on trial held different views on religion from those you hold?" asked Mr. Jimison.

"That wouldn't make no difference," said Sutton.

"What if they didn't have any religion at all?"

"Would it affect their credibility?"

"It sure would, because I wouldn't believe them as much as I would men who went to church."

Defendants Relieved.

The seven defendants who had been paying slight attention to the routine questioning of the prospective jurymen showed interest. Beal, the red haired New England Irishman who faces the greatest danger in the present trial, nudged Clarence Miller, second in command, and who also is likely to be convicted if any one of the seven are found guilty. They whispered for a moment.

The other five defendants, Joseph Harrison, George W. Carter, K. Y. Hendricks, W. W. McGinnis, and Louis McLaughlin, sat scowling at the man being questioned in the jury box. They appeared relieved when he failed to qualify.

Britain to Give India Dominion Status, Report

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A dominion status for India is believed to be imminent, according to the diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, who, in tomorrow's issue, will say an early and momentous pronouncement concerning the future of India is under consideration by the Labor government.

After 3 Days' Questioning Negro Boys Admit Murder

After three days of continuous questioning by relays of police, two negro youths, Jesse Dillard, 16 years old, 1649 West 14th street, and William Brown, 19, 1540 Hastings street, confessed yesterday to the murder last Friday night of Max Stein, 50 year old peddler of 4322 Lexington street. The pair held up Stein as he emerged from an alley and, when he made a move to protect the few dollars he was carrying, Dillard shot him, according to the confession of both prisoners.

LEGION STAGES BIGGEST PARADE IN ITS HISTORY

Crowd of 300,000 Sees War Heroes March.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 1.—(AP)—A pageant of brilliant colors, moving between immense masses of spectators, marched over a five mile route today in what was declared by Legion officers to be the biggest patriotic display America has even seen.

There was just one thing in Louisville all day—the American Legion's annual parade. It started at 11 a. m., and, as dusk came, the last of the marching thousands, keeping step with their drum corps and bands, reached the reviewing stand and received the salute of National Commander Paul V. McNutt.

Paris Crowd Surpassed.

It was estimated that 25,000 men and women marched in the parade, and there were approximately 100 uniformed musical organizations and drill teams, with costumes resembling those of the crack guards regiments of Europe. The crowd which witnessed the spectacle was said by Commander McNutt to be the biggest which ever has seen a Legion parade, greater even than the Paris gathering in 1927.

Even a rough count of the spectators was impossible, the local estimates putting the number at 300,000.

Every Class Represented.

The Legion was at its zenith today. The "boys of 1918" still are young enough to lift their feet in a snappy goose step as they blow bugles and beat drums, even though, in many cases, the hair is thin under the gaudy helmets and gorgeous shakoes.

There was a uniformed drum and bugle corps made up of men connected with the Chicago board of trade, and there was a post from Indiana which marched behind a standard announcing that every member is a union coal miner. Indians led Oklahoma's section, and a drum and bugle corps composed of Negroes from Charlotte, N. C., added a touch to the cake walk to the goose step while the spectators shouted, "Get hot, boys."

SCIENCE FELLED BY HEAVYWEIGHT WORDS OF "PROF"

Science was given a severe verbal drubbing yesterday when Dr. Wilhelm Pauck, assistant professor of church history at the Chicago Theological seminary, University of Chicago, addressed 100 new divinity students, 82 men and 18 women.

"Science has destroyed the geocentricism of the old testament," said Dr. Pauck.

The students blinked.

"And it has repudiated the doctrine of original sin," Prof. Pauck finished. At which familiar phrase the new divinity students regained their poise.

Virginia Cherrill to Marry Buster West in Hollywood

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Virginia Cherrill of Chicago, formerly Mrs. Irving Adler, who came to Hollywood as a visitor and became Charlie Chaplin's newest leading woman, today wore an engagement ring which she said was a sign of her betrothal to Buster West. West is a New York stage dancer who has been appearing in short comedy subjects on the screen according to the announcement. Miss Cherrill secured a divorce from Irving Alder last year.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Whom Do You Know?

Radio Needs More Wagner, Elmer Opines

Praises Program Depicting Master's Life.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

A radio offering out of the ordinary came from New York through W-G-N from 8 to 9 o'clock last night when a program portraying many vital incidents in the life of Richard Wagner was broadcast. Radio performances like this dull the mind for the lesser things, and, unfortunately, radio is mainly made up of the lesser things.

Von Bulow the pianist, Wilhelmj the violinist, Cosima, Wagner's second wife, and the king of Bavaria were among the characters introduced in the presentation. Places and incidents that figured in Wagner's life were also recalled.

The program served to demonstrate that the sonorous music of the great dramatic tone painter, when made to live again by our many competent orchestral and vocal radio organizations, is a highly pleasing variation for radio listeners. We are not yet tired of selections from "Tannhäuser." The vast wealth of material in the great "Nibelungen Ring" has scarcely been touched upon. Last night's treat has but whetted the appetite for more.

The Mexican program from New York through KYW, from 7:30 to 8 o'clock, seemed important. It was done in a more acceptable style than are most Spanish programs.

Jesse Crawford's organ program, from New York through WBBM at 10 o'clock, was shut off after ten minutes of movieizing on Schubert themes. Those ten minutes were ten minutes too much. The dance numbers that immediately followed contained far more art than organ programs usually do. That's not the way it should be. It would seem that at least now and then we should be given an organ program that would be comparable to a piano recital.

John M. Fannin Funeral Services to Be Held Today

Funeral services for John M. Fannin, a descendant of Capt. James Fannin, one of the defenders of the Alamo, will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Graceland cemetery chapel. Mr. Fannin, who was vice president of the real estate firm of Whiteside & Wentworth, died on Monday in his apartment at 5555 Sheridan road, having lived in Chicago since he was 6 years old. His widow and a son, Robert, survive him.

LINDY AND ANNE CANCEL VACATION FOR JUNGLE TRIP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PANAMA, Oct. 1.—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh are foregoing their plans for a week's vacation on the isthmus. The colonel said tonight that they will leave at 8 a. m. tomorrow for Managua en route to Belize, British Honduras, from where they will start their air search for ruins of ancient civilization with Dr. Ricketson of the Carnegie institute.

Col. Lindbergh is trying to communicate with Dr. Ricketson, who is believed to be in Central America, but was unsuccessful today. He probably will pick him up at Managua, Salvador, or at Guatemala. The ruins are known to exist, but because they are buried in the depth of the jungles they have never been explored successfully.

The only hope for successful exploration lies in the possibility of landing an amphibian plane in the lakes in the vicinity of the ruins. If he is successful, Col. Lindbergh will chart the area for later exploration.

CLEVER SWINDLE SUSPECT CAUGHT AFTER LONG HUNT

Private detectives employed by the Chicago Bankers' association yesterday arrested Arthur Murphy, alias Brown, 28 years old, in a Wilmette telegraph office. The sleuths described Murphy as the most accomplished swindler they had investigated recently. Murphy's photograph was sent to every large city in the country and it took the detectives three months to run him down.

His game, the detectives say, was to enter a business office in the guise of a telephone repairman, snatch a blank and forge a check as he pretended to adjust the telephone, and send it to the bank by an accomplice, who would request that it be certified. When the bank telephoned to verify the check the bogus repairman would intercept the call and order the check forwarded to "Mr. Brown, in care of the Western Union office of Wilmette."

From the account of C. J. Mersch, adjuster of the Chicago Surface Lines, he stole $2,500, and from the account of Axel Vikander, 1161 Milton avenue, a tailor, he obtained $5,000, the detectives said.

Lake Forest Folk Vote $75,000 for Links, Park

Citizens of Lake Forest, by a vote of 537 to 193, yesterday approved a $75,000 bond issue to add nine holes to the Deerpath municipal golf course and build a park on the site of the village dumping ground. The same proposition was rejected by forty votes a year ago.

WM. A. PAINE, BANKER, LEAVES $8,000,000 TO WIDOW AND CHILDREN

Boston, Mass., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—The will of William A. Paine, senior member of the firm of Paine, Webber & Co., who died Sept. 24, was filed for probate today. It leaves $8,000,000 to his widow, Ruth F. W. Paine, and their five children, and $198,500 in public bequests and substantial gifts to his partners and business and household employés.

The will leaves the widow $500,000 in cash and securities, all real estate and all personal belongings. It also sets aside $2,500,000 for the children. The residue of the estate is put in trust, the income to be paid in equal shares to the widow and the children, and on the widow's death $1,000,000 is to be given outright to each child.

Polish Societies Honor Returned Consul General

Three hundred and fifty persons, representing sixteen Polish-American societies with national headquarters in Chicago, attended a banquet in Stefanik hall, Superior and Noble streets, last night in honor of Dr. Alexander Szcepanski, Polish consul general of Chicago, who returned recently with his family from his native country. Among those present were Casimi Kowalski, secretary general of the Polish National alliance; John J. Olejniczak, president of the Polish Roman Catholic union, and Mrs. F. Truszczynska, director of the Polish Women's Alliance of America.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 1.—While bells in all the cathedrals and churches of Paris tolled, the remains of Louis Ernest Dubois, Cardinal Archbishop of Paris and France's most eminent prelate, was buried in the crypt of Notre Dame this morning beside the great churchmen of the past. It was the most elaborate funeral since the death of the late Marshal Ferdinand Foch. Thousands lined the boulevards, standing bareheaded in a drizzling rain while the procession passed by.

Leading French Sculptor Dies of Heart Failure

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 1.—Emile Antoinette Bourdelle, regarded as the greatest French sculptor of his day, died today of heart failure at the age of 67. He was a disciple of Rodin. He was noted for portrait busts of Ingres Anatole of France, Sir James Frazer, and Jiddu Krishnamurti.

BEWARE OF DIETS WITHOUT BULK

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Will Protect You

People are more careful than ever before about diet. They diet to clear complexions. They avoid certain foods to stay thin. They eat others to get fat. But many are running a serious danger because they are missing the "roughage" or "bulk" foods that every person must have to keep well.

As a result, constipation gets in its deadly work. Headaches, listlessness, circled eyes are only the first symptoms. In the end, constipation ruins health, wrecks beauty and may cause serious disease.

Don't neglect your daily roughage. That is nature's rule. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will supply it. A healthful cereal to eat each day. To use in cooked dishes or to serve with milk or cream. To mix with other cereals.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation—to prevent it. Two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. It is 100% bran. Doctors recommend it. Your grocer sells it. Served by hotels, restaurants, dining cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

RUSSIA NO 'EDEN'; LAND OF TERROR, CRIES FRENCH RED

Strikes Bitter Blow at Soviet Rule.

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 1.—The bitterest and most devastating criticism of conditions in soviet Russia ever published in France appeared today in the Nouvelle Revue Francaise, under the signature of the revolutionary novelist, Panait Istrati, and tonight the entire literary and political world is worked up over it.

Known here as the French Gorki, Istrati, who lived in Russia much of the time since the revolution, maintained a strange silence since he returned to France from Moscow a year ago.

Today he broke it after a year's debate with himself whether he should tell the workers of the world in on the secret "that the proletariat paradise they have heard about is in reality a land of banditry and terror, and of monstrous and cruel oppression to the laboring man, and ruled by a caste of ignorant, vulgar and perverse youths."

Hammers Dictatorship.

"O, proletariat," he sobs, "let me lift the curtain and show you the true picture of your country." This is it in part:

"The height of banditry and terror reached is a perfect expression of soviet Russia under the régime of the so-called dictatorship of the proletariat.

"I did not go to Russia to live in order to discover that the workers there were better off materially than the workers in a bourgeois country. I was even ready to shut my eyes to the absence of all material well-being. But from the point of view of elementary justice, I was conceived a dictatorship of the proletariat would leave nothing to be desired. If it is difficult to create comforts for all, nothing prevents a full play of honesty and justice.

"What a monstrous revelation I had. If I had only had the inhuman speculation to think that perhaps only classes other than workers suffered from proletarian immorality and injustice! But no! It is the working class which is the hardest hit in Russia under the soviets. In any bourgeoisie country a worker, who asks nothing more than a chance to gain his bread and be left alone at least, can live in peace. It is not so in the country of the proletariat.

Peace in Russia Unknown.

"Peace does not exist for any one in Russia, not even for the bureaucrat, who has to spend night and day wondering how he can 'keep in line,' and whether, while he is sleeping or blowing his nose, he did not get out of line with party policy enough to bring his dismissal.

"But to have bread is the important thing. When the right to think or judge is nothing but a memory, the right to have bread is everything. The dictatorship knows it. It flops its hand down on you, saying, 'To die is a small thing. To starve or perish because of lack of shelter is worse. Now, according to how you think, you will have or will not have bread and shelter.'"

The worst that happens to a worker in a capitalist country, who is not satisfied with conditions and says so, is that he is kicked out, in which direction. In Russia you do not get kicked out—nobody gets away—but you go to prison or perhaps face the firing squad, he explains.

Russian Trade Unions.

The writer throws an illuminating light on what has happened to the Russian trade unions.

"Since the unions were originally formed to struggle against the employers for better conditions, I wondered why they still existed, since theoretically, they are no employers now. Here is the reason why. They are accustomed to restrict the aspirations of the workers. They give work only to those who think properly. Once you are out, you have lost your chance of employment for life.

"Every chance to get a decent job is lost. It is difficult to imagine such frightful power thus placed in the hands of men, when the official schools teach that morals and honesty are 'bourgeoise prejudices' and that only materialism has the force of law.

"It is no more a question of socialism there, but of terror, which treats human life as material for a social war, conducted by the new and monstrous caste. This caste is ignorant, vulgar and perverse, and is made up mostly of youths born in the present century.

Flag Waving Nation

"Russia today is—a waving of flags—shouting through loud speakers—substitution of catch phrases for ideas—the Gay Pay Ou [cheka] replacing arguments—censure shutting up criticism—and universal emptiness."

Istrati has long been one of the stalwart French communists and his revelations hit the local reds like a cyclone. Only his close friends knew of his change of heart.

SMITH STARTS TEARING DOWN WALDORF HOTEL

Did Not Know Place as East Side Boy.

New York, Oct. 1.—[Special.]—A man who "never knew the Waldorf-Astoria existed" when he was a boy on the sidewalks of New York, today climbed to the roof of that aristocratic old hostelry and with the assistance of ropes, props, hammer, and saw, tore down the first section of the hotel.

Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, president of Empire State, Inc., the company that is going to put up an eighty story office building at 5th avenue and 34th street, presided at the beginning of the formal demolition of the Waldorf.

As he posed for pictures, talked for the "talkies" and pulled ropes to make a carefully sawed piece of corroded copper ornamentation crash to the soggy roof, the governor reminisced a little about the hotel.

"No," he said, "I never knew the place existed when I was a boy. My first introduction to the Waldorf was about 1895, when I was a jury notice server and had to serve notice on guests here.

"I have many memories of the Waldorf, though. All the sheriff's jury dinners were here when I was sheriff, and I guess I spoke at over fifty dinners here while I was governor.

"This historic building has to go down in the march of the city northward. This is the very heart, the very center of the city. On this site will rise the largest office building in the world—eighty stories high."

THINK KIDNAPED BOY'S FATHER IS PAYING RANSOM

But Detroit Police Say They'll Make Arrests.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—While Henry S. Thompson, wealthy real estate broker, refused to discuss the kidnaping of his son, Jackie, 5 years old, who was spirited away from the Thompson home, 18685 Lindsay avenue, Monday evening at 6 o'clock, police tonight were confident that arrests would be made in connection with the abduction.

At noon today Thompson received a telephone call and left his home without saying a word. On his return, an hour and a half later, he refused to discuss the case with any one, but appeared much relieved. Policemen to whom he had spoken freely before he left were unable to elicit a word as to where he had gone or what he had done.

Think Father Is Dickering.

Superintendent of Police James Sprott said that he had information, which had not come through official channels, to the effect that Thompson had been in touch with the kidnapers of his son, and that he would not talk because he had been warned against discussing the case. Sprott also said that he had information to the effect that Thompson was to receive, some time tomorrow, a letter from his son's abductors.

The kidnaping occurred just after Mrs. Thompson had returned from funeral services for a friend. Her husband left her at the cemetery to go to his office in the Book tower and she drove home.

Car Not Identified.

Shortly after her return home she heard cries. Thinking the cries came from the back yard, she ran toward the garage. When she turned and reached the front yard the kidnapers' car was too far away for any accurate identification.

Henry, the boy's brother, with whom he had been playing, told police of the Coolidge highway station that the car swung east on Seven Mile road. He was unable to read the license number.

CHINESE FLEE AS RUSSIAN GUNBOAT SHELLS VILLAGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Oct. 1.—Reports from Mukden state that a soviet gunboat bombarded the town of Sulyuan, near the mouth of the Usuri river, Sunday night, resulting in the conflagration of a number of houses and evacuation of the Chinese troops and police. Sulyuan is now in the hands of the soviets.

Government reports from Nanking state the Nationalist government punitive forces killed more than 2,000 soldiers of the "ironsides" regiment of Gen. Chang Fah-kwei, who recently rebelled against Gen. Chiang Kai-shek at Nanking. It is reported that the rebels have been routed and are fleeing south toward Hunan.

Feng Yuh-siang and Yen Hsi-shan, military commanders in the northwest, today declared that they are in absolute accord with the central government and have no connection with Gen. Chang Fah-kwei or other reactionaries, according to reports from Peking.

WEATHER LANDS OLD OFFENDER BACK OF BARS

George Williams, 53 years old, colored, and, according to the police, possessor of one of the longest criminal records in the country, decided early yesterday that to keep warm he must steal an overcoat or go to jail.

George decided against going to jail. He walked into the home of Mrs. Catherine Fodor at 1031 North Franklin street, saw two overcoats hanging on the halltree, took them and walked out again.

Sergts. Henry O'Brien and George Schert were waiting for him as he emerged. George turned, hung the overcoats back on the halltree, and then submitted to arrest.

"The good Lord disagreed with me," said George. "He wants me to keep warm in jail. Come on, officers, let's go."

FINED WHEN TAKEN IN RAIDS.

Fines amounting to $3,500 were imposed yesterday by Justice of the Peace F. J. Synakiewicz of Blue Island against the 102 persons arrested in the state's attorney's raids Saturday night in Calumet City. Most of those arrested were charged with keeping gambling or disorderly resorts.

LIST PROPERTY FOR TAXES IN N. Y. AT 19¾ BILLION

Real Estate Assessments Are $17,851,721,827.

The city tax department today announced the largest assessment roll that it ever has published—a total of $19,732,561,302 for 1930.

It represents an increase of $1,253,702,357 over the figures for 1929.

The real estate assessments are $17,851,721,827 and the personal property taxes $1,245,839,475, making up the 19 billion total through the special franchise assessments to be announced in detail later, but estimated at $535,000,000.

2 Billion Untaxed Property.

There are exemptions of $4,733,351,540, more than 20 per cent of the assessable property in the city, with the municipality itself taking the lion's share of the remissions. It has more than $2,800,000,000 worth of untaxed property.

An unusual feature of the report issued by James J. Sexton, president of the tax department, is that Manhattan leads the other boroughs this year in new building. During the current year 16,516 new buildings were erected or in course of construction. Many of these were of huge magnitude and have made the sky line still more picturesque.

Bad News from Controller.

Simultaneously with the report there came bad news from the city's chief financial officer, Controller Berry.

There probably will be no decrease in the tax rate, he said, and the next budget may rise to $60,000,000 with subway construction and salary increases as the major items.

Mr. Rockefeller has no outstanding competitor for his questionable privilege of paying the most in taxes—more than ten. No one else pays even $1,000,000.

THE GREEN ENSEMBL

GREEN—Fall's smartest color—and the matching ensemble—Fall's most exclusive fashion—combine to effect the presentation of one of the most interesting of the many distinguished costumes which the season has developed. A coat, a frock, a hat to match, accessories to carry on the theme in monotone, or to contrast as they do here, the bag and shoes matching the deep brown of the beaver on the coat, with hose and gloves in the prescribed neutral tones—this is fashion's message of really exclusive chic—and here we suggest its very smart interpretation in dark green.

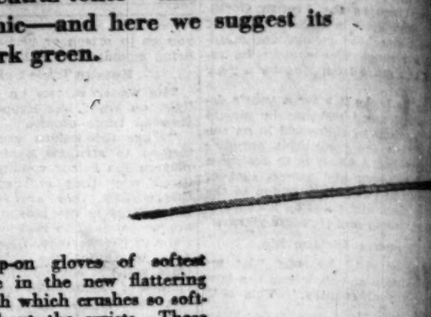

Slip-on gloves of softest suede in the new flattering length which crushes so softly about the wrists. These were chosen in deep tan beige to match the hose. $5.
First Floor, North, State.

Beautifully tailored pumps of brown suede with high heels carry out the tones of the beaver collar and cuffs on the coat and the simple lines of the ensemble. $15.
Third Floor, South, State.

The hose are of sheerest chiffon in a deep shade like the gloves, called Turf Tan, blending perfectly with the dark green of the frock and the brown pumps. $4.
First Floor, North, State.

Copied from a Lanvin success, this frock is simplicity itself, depending upon its silhouette and exquisite detail for its perfect sophistication. Two shades of green, of brown or black with blue. $59.50.
Fourth Floor, North, State.

A slight flare in the skirt of the coat follows a similar line in the frock; Marva cloth of soft suede-like finish lends itself to the deep green tone (as well as to brown or red), and beaver fashions a shawl collar and deep cuffs. $245.
Fourth Floor, North, State.

Thibaut braided felt to form the crown of the hat from which this one is copied in a green soleil that matches the coat and deeper tone of the frock. Flattering longer sides and a shorter close-fitting back line are smart. In the French Shop. $28.50.
Fifth Floor, North, State.

Dark brown calfskin and suede in tones to match the fur on the coat are combined in this smart bag of the new smaller size—which has an ornamental clasp that follows the shape of the flap. $12.
First Floor, South, State.

A necklace of Venturina, a soft green stone that blends admirably with the two greens of the frock, accents the color of its stones with metal rondels. $10.
First Floor, South, State.

SHOOTS MEN'S PAR IN FIRST ROUND MATCH

Virginia Van Wie Advances.

BY HARLAND ROHM.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 1.—First round matches in the Women's National golf championship traveled smoothly up and down the rolling fairways of the Oakland Hills course today, but in their wake left the drama of bitter contest. One match which went six extra holes, three others that reached a decision on the 18th green, defeat of a three time national champion by a comparative unknown, were a few of the vortexes.

Yet the headlines of the day went to Maureen Orcutt of Haworth, N. J., who stopped the march of Helen Hicks with perfect men's golf. Nor does that belittle the fight to a finish between the west coast stars in which Mrs. Leona Pressler defeated Mrs. Gregg Lifur, two up, nor Virginia Van Wie's equalling of men's par on the second nine.

Former Champion Loses.

All the outstanding golfers came through except in the two cases mentioned, where one favorite was bound to be eliminated. Yet the camp chair brigade around the 18th green saw the defeat of Mrs. Alexa Stirling Fraser, American women's champion in 1916, 1919, and 1920, by Miss Anjeanette Hunter, slender young lady from Pittsburgh, who first appeared in a national championship last year and didn't stay around very long then. Miss Hunter won, two up. Mrs. Fraser three putted the 17th and wasted two shots in a trap on the 18th.

In the extra hole match, which set a new record for a national championship in that it went twenty-four holes, two more than any match has gone before, Mrs. Leo Federman of New York defeated Mrs. Helen B. Stetson of Philadelphia, formerly national champion.

Maureen Shoots 6 Birdies.

Miss Orcutt, seven under women's par for the 16 holes she needed to defeat Miss Hick's, played the most brilliant golf thus far in the tournament. In the sixteen holes Maureen had six birdies, one eagle and two holes over par, while Miss Hicks had five birdies and one hole over par. Only three holes of eleven won the match were won with pars. It took birdies or better. Miss Orcutt played the first nine in 35, which is men's par, by brilliant approaches and spectacular putting.

Next to Miss Orcutt's great burst of putting, which gained glory because it was a match between two eastern rivals, Virginia Van Wie's equally brilliant 41—37—78 was somewhat overshadowed. Playing Peggy Wattles of Buffalo, N. Y., was out in a good 41 and all square at the turn, but on the home nine, which has proved a jinx to most of the women, she burned it up in 37, equaling men's par. Incidentally, it was three strokes fewer than any other woman has played it in this tournament. Miss Wattles continued her steady golf, but couldn't match such a pace, as Virginia won, 3 and 1. She had five birdies and only one hole over par on the second nine.

Glenna Collett Wins.

Glenna Collett's match with Mrs. W. A. Johnson of Philadelphia was a walk away, 6 to 5, and did little more than arrange for another spectacular match tomorrow, when Glenna and Miss Orcutt meet in the first match off the tee.

Of the other Chicagoans Mrs. Lee Mida of Butterfield went into the second round by defeating Helen Meehan, 4 and 3. Mrs. John Arends of Kildeer lost to Miss Edith Quier, 3 and 2, and Mrs. Melvin Jones of Lincolnshire bowed to Mis Marion Turpie, 3 and 1. Results:

Mrs. Harley G. Hirbie, Detroit, defeated Miss Helen Pawson, Portland, Me., 2 and 1.

Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City, defeated Miss Rosamond Vaney, Belmont Springs, Mass., 6 and 5.

Mrs. Stewart Hanley, Detroit, defeated Miss Marjorie Kirkham, Montreal, Can., 2 and 1.

Mrs. Lee Mida, Butterfield, Chicago, defeated Miss Helen Meehan, White Marsh Valley, Pa., 4 and 3.

Mrs. Leo Federman, New York, defeated Mrs. Helen B. Stetson, Philadelphia, Pa., 1 up in 24 holes.

Mrs. L. C. Nelson, Dayton, O., defeated Mrs. Curtis Sohl, Columbus, O., 2 up.

Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, Philadelphia, Pa., defeated Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto, Can., 4 and 3.

Mrs. Leo Pressler, Los Angeles, Cal., defeated Mrs. Gregg Lifur, Los Angeles, Cal., 2 up.

Miss Orcutt vs. Miss Collett.
Miss Quier vs. Mrs. Hirbie.
Miss Wright vs. Mrs. Hill.
Mrs. Hanley vs. Mrs. Mida.
Miss Van Wie vs. Mrs. Federman.
Mrs. Nelson vs. Miss Wall.
Miss Hunter vs. Mrs. Hurd.
Miss Pressler vs. Miss Turpie.

BY ARCH WARD.

Two years and ten days ago Jack Dempsey passed out of the heavyweight fight picture in the battle of the fourteen count ot Soldiers' field. Tonight the old Dempsey comes back in a new rôle less than a mile from the scene which many thought was his pugilistic grave.

The former world's champion will present a card of ten round bouts at the Coliseum that marks his debut as a promoter in his own name. His press agents last night predicted a capacity crowd when Jackie Fields, ruler of the welterweights, laces up his gloves for his match with Vince Dundee. The public somehow finds Dempsey a hard fellow to quit. His popularity is as great a drawing card as the caliber of his talent.

Dempsey as a fighter provided more thrills than any man in the history of the game. Mr. Gus H. Fan is waiting to see if he can repeat as a promoter.

Show May Gross $51,000.

The renovated Coliseum will seat more than 11,000. If every ticket is sold the show will gross $51,000. More than half that amount was in the strong box last night.

Fields and Dundee, principals on a card of three ten round bouts and a couple of preliminaries, last night found themselves in the position of nothing to do until fight time.

Both boys are talking a savage bout. They apparently have succeeded in working up an enthusiastic dislike for each other. History, however, furnishes no evidence of a man destroying an opponent with a pair of militant tonsils.

Dundee has more than an ordinary incentive. He not only wants to show he can whip a champion but he is eager to avenge the defeat of his brother, Joe, who lost the 147 pound title to Fields a few weeks ago in Detroit.

Fields yesterday commented on the fight as follows: "Dundee gave me two hard fights before I won the title from his brother, Joe. This is my first start as welterweight champion and I hope to give my Chicago friends a run for their money. I want to make it a sensational fight. Naturally I feel confident of beating Dundee and I hope to be able to knock him out."

Jackie Natural Favorite.

Dundee said: "I want to impress upon the fans I have every confidence of winning. If I didn't I wouldn't be in there. It's sort of a grudge fight as far as I am concerned.

Both Dundee and Fields hit sharply but the bout figures to go the limit and it ought to be reasonably close. Fields naturally is the favorite. For one thing he's a Chicagoan. Then, too, he is a consistent performer. No matter what happens you always can count on him being in there fighting his own fight.

Dave Shade returns to Chicago after nearly a year's absence to meet Joe Roche in the ten round wind-up. Both are California middleweights. Haskon Hanson, Chicago middleweight, boxes Cowboy Dula in the third ten rounder.

Danny Delmont and Harry Dublinsky collide in a six round preliminary. Jinny Lundy and Herskie Wilson are down for five rounds.

Pitchers Shouldn't Get Tired; That Explains Blake's Languor

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Lots of folks think Sheriff John Fred Blake is lazy. But he isn't, particularly. Everybody in his section of West Virginia walks and acts the same as Fred. Sort of languorous like.

At that, there's no critter that's going to hurry Fred any, in his movements or in his speech. Fred's theory is that the span of life is three score and ten that there's plenty of time to do a lot in seventy years.

In winter he lives up to his principles even more than in summer. Some days down at his home in Beckley, W. Va., Fred hunts and fishes, other days he just fishes and still other times he just hunts. Some days he stays at the house and reflects.

The sheriff feels that there's nothing that will jeopardize a pitching career so much as getting tired. He and Mrs. Blake came up to Chicago in their automobile last February a week in advance of the spring emigration to Catalina and were marooned by the elements several times en route. Mrs. Blake drove all the way because Fred was afraid he'd get tired and be thrown off his stride for the baseball season. In fact Mrs. Blake does all the driving for the family, Fred having such a fear of fatigue that he never learned to propel an automobile.

Rose from 2 Won and 9 Lost to 12 Won, 11 Lost.

Fred was a great pitcher in 1928 and has had a fine record this season if you throw out everything that happened before July 1, excepting two games. Sheriff, suffering from a sore finger, shut out the Pirates in the second game of the season and after that for weeks he was beset with all manner of tough luck that can befall a pitcher that's still got his health.

There was a time this season when Blake's record stood at two wins and nine defeats, a most discouraging state of affairs. But Manager Joe McCarthy's famed loyalty to his pitchers when he thinks they have the stuff some place in their hides, kept the sheriff going in there in his turn and by the first of September the big West Virginian was a .500 pitcher with 11 wins and 11 losses and on his next start rose above the cherished 50-50 point with his 12th victory.

Some of the games Blake lost during the early season were due to the failure of the sluggers to do their stuff when he needed a few hits, but Fred never grumbled because he knew it wasn't through any indifference to his cause on the part of his mates. Other games were lost because he suddenly lost control in the late innings. Still others were shuffled away by errors.

Fred lost his genial smile and his pleasant drawl sharpened up considerably, but he took each fall unto himself and the next day would find him with a heavier sweat shirt, struggling to get on just a little finer edge.

Stopped with Pirates in 1920, Then Back to Minors.

Sheriff, who never has even run for office, was born Sept. 17, 1899 in Ansted, W. Va., which probably is near

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 1.—Guy Bush, the fallen star, continues sort of ex-officio member of the Cubs' pitching staff. After yielding only three singles in seven inning this afternoon he wilted in the eighth, and the Cincinnati Reds rushed over three runs to win the contest, 3 to 2. Capt. Charley Grimm returned to the champions' lineup after six weeks' absence with a broken hand. Charley's principal contribution was a ludicrous throw, which enabled Critz to score the winning run when he should have been out at the plate by 15 feet.

It was Bush's eighth consecutive futile effort to win a ball game, and today's fizzle dropped him from the pitching leadership of the National league, a rank he has held despite his floundering, which has persevered since he won his 18th game here on Aug. 25. In the span of eight failures he has been knocked out six times. He went through his last two games, which prevented him from dodging the losses, as he had in five of the six games from which he was knocked out.

Hitting Isn't There.

Aside from Bush's early pitching, there was little to cheer the heart of a Cub partisan in the contemplation of the impending world series. There were four infield errors, three of 'em exceedingly rank.

Red Lucas, like Bush, was out for his 19th victory, and kept improving, despite the discouragement of a 2 to 0 handicap built up by the Cubs in the second inning, when they made one show of power. In the last six innings Red held our vaulted sluggers to one single. This single, incidentally, was Hornsby's third hit of the game and his seventh in as many trips to the plate.

Cuyler started the second inning onslaught, which should have been enough to win the ball contest. He tripled off the top of the center field wall, which is 407 feet from the home plate. He scored when Stephenson singled to left. Stevie went to third when Ford permitted Grimm's grounder to pop between his heels. Gonzales flied out and Bush fanned, but McMillan signled, scoring Stephenson. That was all of the Cubs' offensive, although Hornsby and Stevie singled in the third inning.

Then That Eighth.

As previously related, Bush appeared to have returned to the land of the living during the first seven innings. Swanson opened the Reds' attack with a single in the first but immediately went down in a double play. Kelly got an infield hit with two down in the fourth and Allen immediately supplied the third out. Gooch made the third single in the fifth, but a double play again halted things.

Then came the eighth. Lucas singled to center and stopped at second when Swanson singled to right. After getting two strikes on Critz Bush grooved one and it sailed for a triple, scoring Lucas and Swanson. Walker bounced an easy one at Grimm and Capt. Charley had a cinch toss to sink Critz at the plate. But he threw the ball to the stands and the final score had been reached.

Cub Fans, Did You or Didn't YouGetYours?

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The town was divided almost evenly last night on the question of whether or not the Cub officials were a lot of great guys. Those who thought not were ready to say it with pineapples and they were in the majority because for every world series seat order accepted two were returned.

The affirmative of the above question was upheld by those who were pleasingly shocked yesterday when the mail man dropped around with a registered package containing tickets for the first, second and third of the series battles at Wrigley field. The fellows who received nothing but a card of regrets and a round trip check were the ones who had different things to say.

The Cub headquarters in the Wrigley building were hardly opened yesterday morning before the returns began to come in. A line of sad faced gentlemen formed on the right, each prepared to offer an explanation that the club must have made a mistake in overlooking such a steady customer. They were told the club officials know most of the regular patrons and that none had been overlooked.

Not a few of the disappointed applicants came to the office on the excuse that they couldn't get their money back on the post office orders that had accompanied their returned applications. Under questioning they admitted they hadn't been to the post office to determine the point. The issuing office will redeem orders not used for the purpose intended.

There still are some people who don't know the sale was closed more than a week ago. Letters, with check or money order, continue to arrive with requests for seats. The phones are kept hot by inquiries as to whether seats still can be purchased. The answer is, "No."

Coaches Learn That Some Setups Refuse to Fall Down

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 1.—Several incidents have been reported in the last few days which indicate that there is occasional hope for the pathetic bands of football players in motheaten stockings and hand-me-down uniforms who serve as more or less animated tackling dummies for the more important teams in the early games of the season.

A special dispatch from Windsor, Conn., tells of a brutal attack on a hunter by an infuriated partridge. The bird was flushed among the lavender and golden rod of the Connecticut hills, and, in a remarkable fit of irritation, attacked Mr. George N. Greene, hitting him in the face so hard that several of his teeth were loosened. Moreover, Mr. Greene was so put out by the unexpectedness of the assault that he dropped his fowling piece and, before he could recover it, the partridge had flown away, swaggering as it went.

Pheasant Runs Amuck.

Another item reports that Mr. Timothy Kennedy, a game warden, while attempting to capture a pheasant in the line of duty in order to place a band on its leg, was set upon with great ferocity and suffered bruises about the face.

As if to confirm a tendency toward this sort of thing at the start of this football season there is the official result of the football game last Saturday between Brown university and Springfield college. Brown's team is one of the important football teams of the east, and there is no doubt that Springfield was selected for the same purpose that heavyweight prize fighters nowadays select the unfortunate Mr. George Cook of Australia, who has become the successor of the equally unfortunate Mr. Quentin Romero-Rojas of Chile.

Prize fighters used to knock out Quentin Romero-Rojas, and they have lately been knocking out George Cook because these knockouts give them a sensation of being great killers, and, incidentally, some practice of dubious value, in punching for precision and power.

Mr. Tuffy Griffith of Chicago was the latest one to knock out the unfortunate Mr. Cook and it is a weird perculiarity of athletic psychology that these conquests do impart to the victors a sense of might and confidence, although they must realize that it would be a disgraceful humiliation to do any less.

Stribling a Tearing Tiger?

I have often heard managers of prize fihters admit that it is a fine thing for the spirit of a young and vigorous athlete with several sets of satin ring trunks and monogrammed bathrobes to run up a string of knockout victories over a succession of mildewed bums who fight in motheaten bathing trunks, sometimes knocking out the same bum several times under several names in several localities, and the analogy between this practice in pugilism and the football custom of abusing hopeless setups seems to me to be quite clear.

If the highly trained young men of New York U., Dartmouth, Columbia and Cornell, for example, are so credulous as to derive any confidence from huge victories over the sort of teams which they played last Saturday in their opening games, then they must have much in common after all with William Stribling the noted dry-tank barracuda who has actually convinced himself that he is a tearing tiger of the roped arena by touring the country, abusing an inexhaustible succession of scrubby and scratchy tramps without pride of the past or hope in the future. I don't believe they are that credulous or want such easy prey.

Last week Springfield college beat Brown 7 to 6 and there is a naive ad-

It Might Interest You to Know That—

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—There was considerable speculation about the identity of the three men who bought box seats for this afternoon's workout. Some said they were Connie Mack, Eddie Collins, and Kid Gleason. Although the trio obviously were disguised, one was too tall to be Gleason and another too short to be Mack. Besides the three boxholders there were 467 other paid customers in the park. It was the smallest crowd the Cubs have played to this year.

Hack Wilson is wearing a large gold star, the gift of the west park police. Pete Donohue and Ray Kolp gave him a wider berth than ever, fearing they might get jammed for resisting an officer.

Authors Wilson, Grimm, and Bush are fit to be tied. As the train was pulling out of Chicago each received a wire from his supposed literary employers advising him to cease composing, there being no editorial clamor for same. It seems sports editors are beginning to suspect the public no longer is a sap for the ghost writing racket.

CARTAGO DROPS OUT OF SKIES TO WIN BY LENGTH

Takes Hawthorne Purse at 10 to 1.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Cartago, 4 year old son of Atwell-Polly H., dropped out of the skies in the Kibitzer purse at Hawthorne yesterday and at the end of the mile and seventy yards journey was the winner by a length from Gold Mint. Flat Iron was a head back in third place.

Cartago arrived only a few hours before the race from Canada, where he has been campaigning most of the summer. He was overlooked in the betting despite the fact that he was saddled by the energetic young trainer Lloyd Gentry of Kentucky. Mr. Gentry is second in the standing among American trainers. Yet when Jockey M. Meyer skimmed the rail with Cartago coming around the last turn and into the stretch and got up to win in the final few strides he paid $21.90 in the mutuels to win, $9.30 to place, and $5.28 to show. Gold Mint was at $6.50 to place and $4.72 to show, and old Flat Iron, the real hero of the race, paid $3.60 to show.

Flat Iron Is Hero.

It was Flat Iron's supreme effort this season to stage a comeback, and the famous old gelding would have carried Stuyvesant Peabody's silks to victory with a little better break in the racing luck. He lost ground coming into the stretch, but overcame that handicap and a sixteenth from home his nose was showing in front.

He looked like the Flat Iron of old while making this drive. Then Jockey Carl Meyers became overconfident. He thought he had the race won on Flat Iron. He continued to race him wide and let Gold Mint steal into the lead. Gold Mint also was raced far out from the rail and it gave Cartago just the opportunity he was seeking. He galloped through the narrow opening and was going away as the struggle ended.

Cartago's time was 1:43. It was not far off the record, for the track was lightning fast throughout the afternoon.

Gentry Saddles Netie Pebbles.

Trainer Gentry, making his first Chicago visit of the year, made his presence known as the program opened when he sent Netie Pebbles out to capture the Woods purse at 6 furlongs. Fetish was the pronounced choice. He folded up a sixteenth out and Netie Pebbles and Jean both beat him home. Netie Pebbles paid $12.12 in the mutuels.

The George Sidney purse, also at 6 furlongs, drew some of the best 2 year olds here into action. It brought an unexpected victory for Lightning Jones by a neck from the odds-on favorite Heretiz. The latter had trimmed Lightning decisively in their last meeting at Lincoln Fields. Landolt gave Lightning Jones a rousing ride, while R. Jones was in one pocket after another with Heretiz and had little left when the challenge came within the shadows of the finish line. Lightning Jones paid $7.52 in the mutuels.

Setups Give Gridmen That Tough Feeling

mission that Springfield was chosen strictly for the same reason that the young heavyweights choose George Cook in the subsequent actions of the Brown varsity coaches. It seems that Brown should have slaughtered Springfield and, having failed to do so, the guilty athletes are being reduced from the varsity.

If Springfield had been chosen as an opponent of even class, so close a defeat would not have been taken as a reproach, but, of course, I am dissembling about this because I quite realize that all the important teams always endeavor to schedule opening games with teams which normally have no more chance to win than a partridge normally has to defeat a hunter with a loaded gun.

There used to be a George Cook football team here in the east from a school known as Alfred college. I have searched the returns of the 300-odd football games of last Saturday without finding any record of Alfred's having been mauled to an 86 to 0 defeat by any of the larger schools, and I am wondering whether this means that the big fellows have at last felt a twinge of conscience and decide to let a game but reckless little victim alone for a few years or merely that Alfred has found some equals with whom to play football.

Little Fleas Bite Big Fleas.

Alfred must have equals among the Middleburys, Vermonts, Norwiches, and Trinitys. In fact, there must even be some teams that Alfred can lick because big fleas have little fleas upon their back to bite 'em and little fleas have smaller fleas, so on ad infinitum.

Next week Harvard opens the season against a school up in Maine called Bates college, and I note in the freshman number of the bright new Harvard athletic periodical, of which Mr. Frank Ryan is editor, a note to the effect that this promises to be no very stirring contest because Bates did not score a single point in the entire football season of 1928.

This being the case, the Harvard youths, who are the least collegiate and least romantic of all, can foresee no possible phantom of satisfaction in victory as the known instances in which the partridge and the pheasant attacked the hunter are limited to the foregoing two, and the risk of defeat in this case, considering Harvard's new might, is even more remote.

I have yet to hear of a butterfly's running amuck and beating an entymologist to death with powerful blows of its wings.

Eastern Turf Stars Invade Hawthorne for Gold Cup Race

The invasion of turf stars seeking the Hawthorne gold cup and its $25,000 in added money to be run at the old west side course Monday starts from New York today.

Diavolo, the Wheatley stable's representative, and the veteran performer, Display, will be shipped from New York to Hawthorne this afternoon. Diavolo won the Saratoga cup and the Jockey club gold cup at Belmont Park. They are scheduled to reach Chicago at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

Another shipment including Mrs. John D. Hertz's Fair Ball, Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Sun Beau, the Wheatley stable's Distraction and J. R. Macomber's Petee Wrack is scheduled to leave the Havre de Grace course in Maryland tomorrow for Chicago.

Misstep, the western champion, engaged in his last serious workout for the gold cup contest yesterday when he galloped easily around the Hawthorne course at a mile and a quarter in 2:06 2-5. He carried about 130 pounds and was hard held by Jockey Barrett all the way. Trainer Lowenstein hopes to start him in an overnight handicap on Friday as the final conditioner for the rich race.

When you see the Canadian geese (like odd-shaped airplanes) coming out of the Fall sky and flying low to your decoys, then you feel the quickening of your pulses and the thrill of the anticipated shot.

That is the time when a good gun should be held in hands warm and steady. A shoulder, trembling with chill from cold feet, is a poor aid to marksmanship. No real hunter expects parlor comforts in the blind. But he should have the right clothes, cap, socks and boots for the job. And, above all, a gun and ammunition in which he has implicit trust.

The men in our Gun Department would be glad to help you in choosing guns, clothing or equipment for any kind of shooting. Our association with Abercrombie & Fitch of New York makes available to you the largest selection of sporting guns in the world from the best gunsmiths here and abroad.

PLENTY WORK TO DO YET, HANLEY TELLS WILDCATS

Prepares Men for Opener Saturday.

Floodlights were used at Dyche stadium last night, where Coach Hanley was busy at work getting his Wildcats in readiness for Butler and Cornell Saturday. Hanley still feels that his charges are a long way from being ready to start the season and contemplates strenuous scrimmage drills the remainder of the week.

Anderson Certain to Start.

Hanley is uncommunicative concerning the lineup which he will send against Butler. He has made it plain that the job of a number of regulars are in the balance after their ragged performance against the frosh Saturday.

About the only player certain of being in at the start is Capt. Henry Anderson, guard, who has been playing a steady game despite a bad knee injury which threatens to keep him out of the lineup. Rus Bergherm, at full, is also playing a bang-up game and probably will be elected to start. Hank Bruder and Bill Calderwood may be in the opening lineup, although they are getting plenty of competition from Bill Griffin and Sid Burnstein, the two speed merchants of the team.

Line Is Uncertain.

The line remains the big question mark at the present time. Both the tackle and end positions are being contested hotly, and any one of two or three combinations may start. Mickey Erickson and Bo Clark are waging a merry fight for the center position, with the odds slightly favoring the former.

Indiana Drills for Struggle with N. Dame

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Indiana's punters and ends received a hard workout today as Pat Page checked on the defensive ability of his players, who are preparing for Notre Dame in Indiana's homecoming game here Saturday. After an extensive drill on fundamentals, Page wound up the practice with a scrimmage and signal drill.

Dauer, Gary, half back; Ross, Wabash, half back, and Todd, Bedford, full back, starred in the punting. These three men did most of the punting in the opening game of the season last Saturday. Page used three sets of ends in the practice of going down under punts. Thomas of Plymouth, who retrurned to the squad this season after a year's absence, looked the best of the new ends.

Among the other ends who participated in the drill were Hansen, River Forest, Ill.; Zeller, East Chicago, Hargave, Washington; Osthimer, Wabash, and Crowe, Markle.

USE INDIANA PLAYS.

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 1.—Special.]—Notre Dame's varsity scrimmaged against a reserve team using Indiana plays this afternoon. Their Coach Rockne sent his regulars on offense against a picked team of freshmen.

Lag drive and more lunge was stressed in the forward wall at today's practice and the search for another punter besides Frank Carideo. Leahey, former star at St. Mels and Koken got off some good kicks in this work out.

Leahey, O'Connor, Savoldi, and Gebert, were used in the varsity backfield today with Koken alternating at left half with Leahey.

Assistant Coach Tommy Mills returned today and reported that Navy looks like the Navy of two years ago. He will spend this week in teaching freshmen middle plays for use in scrimmage against the varsity next week.

LOYOLA SQUAD LOSES SEXTRO FOR SIX WEEKS

Paul Sextro, Loyola university end is out of the game for at least six weeks. He injured his ankle last week and the doctor's report yesterday stated that two bones in the ankle are fractured. Sextro had been counted as a possible starter for the Oklahoma City U. game which opens the Loyola season on Saturday.

Phil Ball, guard, is out for three weeks with an injured knee. In addition there has been a long list of minor injuries which kept some of the regulars out of practice for several days.

George Weimer, a sophomore, was sent in the first squad yesterday to replace Sextro. He is a tall, well built end, but lacks Sextro's experience.

In the hour of scrimmage against the frosh the work of Les Malloy was the only bright spot. Three long runs around end and two tosses that resulted in the varsity's only scores were his contribution.

Allen Hall Takes Lead Over Willie Hoppe, 200-193

Allen Hall of St. Louis yesterday went into the lead in a three cushion billiard exhibition with Willie Hoppe, former 18.2 balkline champion, at the end of the fourth block of their series at W. F. Mussey's recreation parlor. The score is now 200 to 193. Hall defeated Hoppe in the afternoon and evening blocks. The scores were 54 to 40 in 51 innings and 50 to 45 in 45 innings.

MOON MULLINS—HELD FOR STORAGE

Purdue Drills on Defense for Kansas Aggies

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Coach Phelan gave his squad added work on defense this afternoon in preparation for Saturday's opener against the Kansas Aggies. The weight of the back field, as listed in the tentative lineup, bears out the prediction that the Aggies will depend on a typical McMillan offense of speed an deception for their ground gaining.

A sturdy freshman crew carefully drilled on forward pass plays of the type that the Aggies are expected to uncork, was kept late in the practice session to give the varsity a little work on aerial defense. Phelan used several different back field combinations during the afternoon, but a quartet made up of Ralph Welch, Glen Harmeson, James Purvis, and James White seemed likely to get the starting choice Saturday, although Purvis and White, sophomores, still seemed a little weak on aerial defense.

Considerable interest has been added to the game through the announcement that Ray McMillan, nephew and ward of Bo McMillan, will make his first bid for collegiate football fame in the game against Purdue, attempting to follow in the footsteps of the illustrous Bo, all-American quarter back, at center, and present Kansas Aggies coach. Ray is reported to show a lot of promise as quarter back on the present Aggies squad.

MICHIGAN GRID SQUAD HOLDS SECRET DRILL

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Maynard Morrison, 210 pound sophomore full back from Royal Oak, Mich., reported today for the first time in more than a week. Although his knee has apparently mended, he is not expected to see service until the Purdue game on Oct. 12.

Coach Kipke ordered secret practice today for the second time this year. He gave out a few new plays, but spent most of the time trying to whip his backs, ends, and tackles into A1 blockers.

The smallest first day turnout in years for freshman football was recorded today when only 35 reported to Coach Jim Miller. Uniforms had been issued to 100 more aspiring frosh by nightfall, but the coaches expressed themselves as much disappointed, most of the men being very light.

Miller, new yearling coach, was Wolverine quarter back two years ago. He will give the reins to Coach Fisher when the latter returns from the baseball trip to Japan, in about two weeks.

AMERICAN GIANTS WIN.

Aurora, Ill., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—The American Giants, champions of the Colored National league, defeated the Aurora Moose league club this afternoon, 15 to 0. The Giants obtained 21 hits off Wehrl, while Aurora could do nothing with Radcliffe and Foster.

Collins, Mack's Helping Hand, Is Still the Same Eddie Who Played with A's of Yore

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

One great trouble with Eddie Collins when he was playing ball for Connie Mack's old champion Athletics, who were later dispersed, was that he was just too good for his own good. He was such a good second baseman that he made the hard ones look easy. He played ball without mannerisms. He didn't fall on his face unduly, his cap didn't fly off and people got an impression that anybody could step right out of the stands and play second base as well as he was doing it.

In fact, that probably was the whole trouble with these Athletics. They played ball so neatly and efficiently and with so little exaggeration that the customers ceased to appreciate their work. So business fell off and everybody knows that when the business fell off, Connie Mack sold off his team and adjusted the quality of the baseball to the size of the receipts.

Wear and Tear Reduced His Fielding Radius.

After that, Eddie Collins played with the White Sox—played with and managed the White Sox. Starting in 1915, he served until 1926, inclusive, when the wear and tear on his legs reduced his fielding radius to the area of a small dime, and he was finally forced to take himself out of his own lineup. He was manager at the time, having assumed this extra duty in 1925, but when he finished that season he found himself a member of that numerous clan of the baseball business, the ex-managers of the White Sox.

So, in 1927, Eddie went back to Philadelphia to do chores around second base, where the man power was somewhat erratic, and help with the coaching and lend his presence. His legs revived a bit that year and he served more or less in 100 games, but he was only stealing time, as they say in their harsh language, and the shanks that used to fetch him in whirling maneuvers around the bag and ride him along like a skater when he led the league in the matter of stolen bases, failed once more, finally and for good.

Eddie's Like an Old Sergeant.

From that time on, Eddie has been lending his presence with the A's. It is a peculiar job that he has, because he is a sort of assistant manager, although he will tell you himself that the A's have only one boss, Connie Mack, and no secondary managers. He coaches the base runners, busies himself in the small jobs that have to be done, rounds up the club for Connie Mack's occasional inspirational sermons, takes the batting order out to the umpires. And yet, in the performance of a lot of small duties, Eddie seems to extend to the ball club an influence of experience, sense and confidence.

The world series is an old story to him. He played in world series shows with two of the greatest technical ball clubs ever brought together, the old A's and the White Sox in 1919, and I don't believe he will be able to inflame himself over the crises of this one because he always was slow to inflame and experience certainly hasn't livened his nature. He is a steadying character, like an old sergeant; neither hysterical nor bored.

Eddie has always had the calm, sober expression of a genteel hotel clerk and in looking at an old photograph of the last champion A's I note only the difference of a few lines around the eyes and mouth. In that expression you see the reason why Eddie was never one of the showmen of the game, but always quietly efficient, even to the point of monotony.

Same Old Eddie

EDDIE COLLINS

Came from Columbia to Mack in 1906.

He went to Connie Mack from Columbia university, the alma mater of the New York pavement bred athlete, including Lou Gehrig, in the fall of 1906 and played his first professional season in 1907. It seems a long time ago but there is another man on the same club today. Old Jack Quinn, the spitball pitcher, who began playing four years sooner and who is pretty certain to slide his slippery ball up to the hitters in at least one game of the series in 1929.

Eddie almost was a great star who never played in a minor league, but in his first year up, Connie Mack deprived him of that distinction, which is held, so far as I know, by George Sisler alone. Connie had a friend who was running the Newark club of the International league that summer. The friend needed a substitute second baseman for four days and Connie sent his Columbia recruit over to fill in. When the series ended, E. Collins, rookie infielder, rejoined the A's and from that day to the present, he has always worn the habit of the baseball aristocracy, the majors.

DE PAUL PRIMES RESERVE RANKS FOR BENEFIT TILT

Satisfied with the way his starting eleven performed at Detroit, Coach Ed Anderson of De Paul university has turned his attention to polishing the reserves for the Blue Demons' clash with Michigan State Teachers college at Soldiers' field Oct. 12.

Proceeds of the game will go to St. Vincent's orphanage. Among prominent Chicagoans sponsoring the benefit contest is George V. McClinnin, chairman of the Illinois state boxing commission.

Inability of the substitutes to fill the breach at Detroit after the first string team had held the Titans scoreless in the first half proved costly. Coach Anderson is banking on Gilbertson, Cullen, Cowhey, and Morse, line men, and McGivern, Wulff and Hartman, backs, as principal reserves.

Arrest Rooter Seeking to See Badgers Drill

Madison, Wis., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—After turning hundreds of fans away from Wisconsin's secret practice at Camp Randall during the last week, Madison police today found a rooter who insisted that he was going to see Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite's charges at work.

After police had refused him admittance six times at various entrances they called the wagon and hauled Harry Melcher, 17 years old, to the city jail. Chief of Police Frank Trostle sent Melcher home for the night, but ordered him to appear to face a disorderly conduct charge tomorrow morning in Municipal court.

Coach Thistlethwaite made two shifts in the Badger varsity lineup today, both calculated to add weight and speed to the line for the Colgate clash Saturday.

He sent Dave Tobias, Lacrosse, Wis., from tackle to guard, and moved Harold Smith, Freeport, Ill., up to fill the tackle berth. Tobias, a 195 pound husky, probably will be used regularly in the guard position.

William Exum, Gary, Ind., half back, colored, has been declared ineligible for the season, according to unofficial report, at Camp Randall today.

ILLINOIS BOXING BOARD SUSPENDS BASS FOR 30 DAYS

Benny Bass, Philadelphia boxer, was suspended for thirty days by the Illinois boxing commission yesterday for fouling Johnny Datto of Cleveland in the fourth round of a fight at Chicago stadium last Friday. Phil Glassman, Bass' manager, offered to bring his fighter back to Chicago to meet Datto without compensation in a return engagement.

Home Town Fans to Honor Glassgow at Illinois Game

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—New honors are in store for Willis A. Glassgow, captain of the University of Iowa football team. The agile little half back will be the object of a tribute by his home town of Shenandoah, Ia., when he leads the Hawkeyes against Illinois in the homecoming battle here, Oct. 19.

A special train will bring 200 residents of Shenandoah here for the game, under the auspices of the Kiwanis club. They will occupy a special section in the Hawkeye stands.

ZUPPKE EMPLOYS USEMAN AT END

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Still experimenting with new end material in preparation for the opening game of the season with Kansas Saturday, Coach Robert Zuppke gave Ernie Useman, a sophomore from Taylorville, a chance in today's workout.

Wallie Root, 154 pounds, and Clem Irwin, 145 pounds, did some fancy dodging in practice with the second set of backs. Humbert remained at his old place at full back on one eleven.

Schumacher, despite his lack of weight, has moved up to second center. Last year he weighed only 165 pounds, but has added five pounds. On account of his aggressiveness and shiftiness he makes up for the lack of beef and now has displaced Jim Lewis, who seemed slated to understudy Kawal.

KANSAS IN LIGHT DRILL.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Fearful lest hard work incapacitate his men for the opener Saturday with Illinois, Coach Bill Hargiss at Kansas ordered moderate practice for today. Jim Bausch and Paul Fisher, back field men, out several days, returned to practice. The squad will leave for Urbana Thursday night.

STAGG'S FIRST ELEVEN LOOKS GOOD IN DRILL

A. A. Stagg nominated a varsity team yesterday for the first time this season, and the eleven proceeded to demonstrate it was not the group of misfits it has been maintained.

The freshman team was stopped on all its offensive maneuvering, but the surprise came when the varsity took the ball. Previously the Maroons have failed to show an effective offense, but last night the backs tore through the freshmen for gains of eight and ten yards at a clip. Joe Temple broke off tackle 40 yards for a touchdown and later Walter Knudson duplicated the performance.

Stagg used Capt. Kelly and Jerstid at ends; Froberg and Bunge, tackles; Horwitz and Brislin, guards, and Marshall, center. Paul Stagg called signals, with Van Nice and the hard hitting Knudson at halves and shifty Temple at full back.

Red Burgess, only letter man available for the back field, probably will not see action in the double header with Beloit and Lake Forest Saturday, as he has an exam to take. However, he undoubtedly will be ready for service the first of next week.

100 Michigan City Students to See Maroons' 1st Games

Michigan City, Ind., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—One hundred of the older pupils of Michigan township schools outside of this city will be taken by Township Trustee R. C. Fedder to Chicago, Oct. 5, to witness the Chicago university football elevens in a double header against Beloit and Lake Forest colleges on Stagg field.

TRICKIEST FLYERS STUNT FOR BOB; THEY NEVER TIRE

Illinois-Michigan Canal Is "Circus" Site.

BY BOB BECKER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Upper Illinois River, Ill., Oct. 1.—Against a background of trees painted yellow and brown the "flying circus" is performing down here along the old Illinois and Michigan canal. If you have visited a marsh with an abundance of black, sticky mud around the edge you know who the performers in the "circus" are at this time of the year. Slim, whistling yellowleg snipe, sandpipers, plover, pectoral sandpipers and jacksnipe—they're all here. Noisy as ever and as tricky a bunch of flyers as ever flipped a wing.

Sitting in a duck blind at the edge of this lake which is connected with the Illinois river, we have a fine view of the "arena" watching the flyers. With the pintails and mallards not inclined to flirt with our live decoys the shore birds have run away with the show.

Inasmuch as nearly every slough and pothole has dried up, the shorebirds [all of which are protected with the exception of the jacksnipe] have massed here on the mud flats. So there is something doing every minute. A few minutes ago twenty-five yellowlegs came up the lake whistling and calling to one another as only these birds know how. Suddenly it seemed as if the leader said: "Ready, everybody, one two three—dive." And the whole bunch sideslipped, did swan dives and loop to the mud flat, white breasts flashing in the sun. That's the kind of a stunt you can watch here all day. Seemingly they never tire. Funny thing happened an hour ago. A flock of pintails came up the lake with fifteen of twenty yellowlegs convoying them, making an awful noise as if to razz them off the flyways.

Blake Knows Pitcher Must Not Get Tired

Charleston, as is his present home, Beckley.

He had a cup of coffee, as the saying goes, with the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1926 but remained only long enough to appear in three games and pitched only 13 innings. What happened in these thirteen innings has been lost to the archives forever, but in view of some of the breaks Fred has had since, it was a shame they didn't stop him at twelve innings or let him pitch 14.

The next year Fred was in the International league, with Rochester, and won his greatest number of games, 21. He had another good year with Rochester in 1922, winning 17, but the next year found him in Seattle, where he suffered a slight relapse, winning 13, but losing 20.

He came to Chicago in 1924 and has been with the Cubs continuously ever since. He won six and lost six his first year as a Cub but has not been a .500 pitcher again until last year, when he won 17 and lost 11. His record:

| Club. | Year. | G. | I.P. | W. | L. | S.O. | B.B. | H. | Avg. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Pittsburgh | '20 | 6 | 13 | | | | | | |

| Chicago | '24 | 29 | 106 | 6 | 6 | 42 | 44 | 123 | 4.59 |
| Chicago | '25 | 36 | 231 | 10 | 18 | 93 | 114 | 260 | 4.87 |
| Chicago | '26 | 30 | 193 | 11 | 12 | 95 | 92 | 204 | 3.58 |
| Chicago | '27 | 32 | 224 | 13 | 14 | 64 | 82 | 238 | 3.29 |
| Chicago | '28 | 34 | 241 | 17 | 11 | 78 | 101 | 209 | 3.46 |

Blake is married to a Chicago girl but she never has been able to sell him on our winter climate. As soon as the season ends the two of 'em jump into their car and roll away to Fred's beloved West Virginia.

Fred doesn't know what he'll do when his baseball days are over, but does know that whatever it is it will be in West Virginia, although he swears he'll never make dew in a mountain still.

"Maybe I'll go down there and run for sheriff, after all. But if one of those mine strikes come along in my county I sure will resign."

Foulis Wins State P. G. A. Title with 298

Jim Foulis Jr., assistant pro at the Hinsdale club, is the new Illinois P. G. A. champion and will have his name engraved on the Willis Marshall cup along with Jock Hutchison and Al Espinosa. Foulis yesterday won his title at Pickwick-Suburban by finishing his 72 holes in 298 strokes, ten over par. A field of sixty pros started out to dethrone Al Espinosa, but only about half of them stayed until the end. A high wind and a course that proved tough for these professionals made the balance of the field fold up.

Scores, with a few exceptions, were high and did not speak well of the Illinois professionals as a body. The younger element among the pros did well and gave some promise for the future, but the older ones showed unmistakable signs of standing still.

Arnold Third with 304.

Besides winning the Marshall Memorial cup, young Foulis collected $300 as first prize. Eddie Gayer of Twin Orchard, who shot a competitive course record of 27—33—70 in his first round, finished second and is $200 richer. His total was an even 300, for the 72 holes.

George Arnold, pro at Kildeer, took third and $150 with 304, and Al Espinosa, the dethroned champion, had to be satisfied with a tie for sixth place with three others at 306 each.

Among the amateur brigade, Gus Novotny of Edgewood Valley was an easy winner. Gus had 306 and finished well up with the pros. Don Armstrong of Aurora took second amateur prize with 318.

Three Tied at 152.

Besides the regular list of prizes, special awards were offered for the best 36 holes for professionals and their assistants. Eddie Gayer took the first day's prize with 148 and Jim Foulis that for assistants with 144.

George Arnold, 151, won the second round and Bob Stupple, Skokie, John Connell, Lake Shore, and Wallace Hutchinson, Lake Shore, tied for assistant prize with 152 and each was awarded a wrist watch by Joe Rosenman.

Of all those entered, Gayer had about the only chance to beat out Foulis after the end of the first 36 holes. However, Eddie began to flirt with traps, bunkers, the ponds, and tried three-putting some, and finally tossed away the golden opportunity by two strokes.

Foulis had two par rounds for his first 36 holes and then stumped to two 77's for his last half. The full list of prize winners and scores follow:

Jim Foulis, Hinsdale, $300; Eddie Gayer, Twin Orchard, $200; George Arnold, Kildeer, $150; Wallace Hutchinson, Lake Shore, and Joe Paletti, Pickwick, divide $175; George Dernbach, I. W. A. C., Harry Hampton, Beverly, Bob Stupple, Skokie, and Al Espinosa, Sportsmans, dived $150; and Johnny Connell, Lake Shore, $25.

Low second 36 holes for assistant pros, Bob Stupple, Skokie, Johnny Connell, Lake Shore and Wallace Hutchinson, Lake Shore, 152.

For amateurs: First, Gus Novotny, Edgewood Valley, 306; second, Don Armstrong, Aurora, 318; and for fewest putts last 36 holes, Bob Stupple, Skokie, 61.

Keep cinders out of your crankcase

Few people know that considerable carbon forms on the underside of the piston heads. When this carbon is hard and gritty, small particles chip off and drop into the crankcase oil where they are just as dangerous as a handful of cinders.

But you can keep these abrasive particles out of your crankcase by using Shell Motor Oil.

Here is one oil which has an extremely low carbon content—one-half to one third less than many otherwise fine lubricants. And the small amount of carbon which forms in a Shell-lubricated engine is soft, fluffy and talcum-like. It readily blows out with the exhaust gases.

Users of Shell Motor Oil are not bothered by scored cylinders and bearings. Shell creates no sharp-edged carbon grains to scratch their gritty way across metal surfaces. In addition, regular users report fewer carbon removal jobs, and freedom from power losses due to "frozen" piston rings and pitted valves.

Shell Motor Oil is prepared from Nature's richest lubricating crude by the Shell-developed, low-temperature refining process. And tested 259 times to certify that every quart has all four essentials of correct lubrication: Low Carbon Content, Non-Fouling Carbon, Ideal Body at All Operating Temperatures, and Low Pour Point.

FOUNTAIN OF SECURITIES IS SPOUTING HIGH

New Sept. Financing Exceeds Billion.

BY O. A. MATHER.

New securities issues continue to gush forth, whether in the form of strictly new issues or "rights" to stockholders to buy additional shares in their companies. In any event, it takes money, and then more money, to purchase them, which is one of the chief causes for the present tight credit situation.

The total for these different kinds of financing in September alone exceeded $1,100,000,000. This was the vast sum that investors and stockholders were called on to furnish. The $50,000,000 financing of the government is not included because it was more in the nature of a refunding operation than one requiring new money.

"New security financing registered a sharp increase in September, due to another huge gain in investment trust and financial offerings," Lawrence Stern & Co., investment bankers, point out in their monthly summary. "The combined total of new stock, bond, and note financing was $884,119,877, an increase of 41 per cent over August and 96 per cent more than for September, 1928. The total does not include nearly $250,000,000 of stock issues and $20,000,000 of convertible debentures privately subscribed and offered to stockholders.

Comprise 56% of Total.

"Of the given total, investment trusts and financial issues publicly offered comprised $497,261,725, which is 56 per cent of the total volume of all security offerings of the month and 80 per cent of the stock financing. Bond and note financing aggregated $263,188,94, which is 24 per cent greater than in August, but 26 per cent below the total for September, 1928.

"New investment trusts and financial issues publicly offered during the first nine months of this year now aggregate $2,051,282,822. This does not include several hundred million dollars' worth of such issues that have been subscribed privately or offered to stockholders."

Another investment trust, with capital of $15,000,000 or $20,000,000, is expected to be announced soon by the Contal Trust Company of Illinois. Two other big Chicago banks have recently launched such companies. The Contal Illinois company, which is the banks investment subsidiary, will hold a majority of the common stock of the new investment trust. Public offering of the balance of the common stock and its preferred stock in the form of units is expected.

News of trade and industry yesterday was favorable in the main. Expanding autumn trade is evidenced by the movement of commodities by the railroads. Loading of revenue freight for the week ended Sept. 21 totaled 1,166,230 cars, an increase of 11,26 over the preceding week and gains of 22,199 and 39,928 cars, respectively, over the corresponding weeks in 1928 and 1927.

Heavy Equipment Buying.

Recent heavy buying of railroad equipment was reported to have caused a sharp and unexpected increase in steel mill operations. Subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation are said to be running above 89 per cent of capacity, while Bethlehem Steel is around 90 per cent, making both showing gains of around 4 per cent over a week ago. The entire industry has improved from 82 to 85 per cent.

Petroleum production showed another decline last week, due to curtailment agreements. The daily average gross crude oil output was 3,900,-000 barrels, a decline of 24,100 barrels a day, according to the American Petroleum Institute.

Great Northern Railroad Orders 4 Locomotives

New York, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The General Electric company has received an order for four 3,000 horse power electric locomotives from the Great Northern railway to cost about $250,000 each. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe has placed orders for 97,500 tons of rails chiefly for 1930 delivery. The Colorado Fuel and Iron company will furnish 75,000 tons. Orders for 6,250 tons were placed with both the Illinois and the Inland Steel companies.

Bad Debt Losses Low in Many Lines, Survey Shows

BY SCRUTATOR.

One of the reasons often assigned for the success of chain stores is their selling for cash and avoiding bad debts. A preliminary report issued by the department of commerce, covering a survey of retail credit on a national scale, seems to indicate that losses in bad debts are comparatively low in many lines of business.

Information on which this report was based came from 440 department stores, 239 automobile dealers, and 1,097 groceries. In the aggregate these institutions had total sales in 1927, the year considered, of more than a billion and a half dollars. The amount is large enough to consider the firms as forming a representative cross section.

Percentage of Loss.

The department stores showed a loss of four-tenths of 1 per cent on bad debts arising in their regular charge accounts and 1.1 per cent on installment sales. The ratio of all bad debts to all sales, cash and credit, was only sixteen one-hundredths of 1 per cent. Automobile dealers found that they lost more on open credit accounts than on installment sales, nine-tenths of 1 per cent on the former classification and four-tenths of 1 per cent on the latter. Groceries lost six-tenths of 1 per cent on total credit sales and about four-tenths of 1 per cent of total cash and credit sales, through having credit sales arrangements.

It may be significant that the larger department stores and groceries had proportionately smaller losses in bad debts than the smaller stores. Perhaps this is due to greater restrictions in the granting of credit and more aggressive methods of collection followed by the larger stores, of which ten had annual sales of more than twenty million dollars each.

Hold Advantage.

In another field, that of goods returned after they had been purchased on open credit accounts, the smaller department stores had a decided advantage. While the stores with less than $100,000 annual sales had returns of only 2.2 per cent, the seventy-three reporting stores doing business of from one million to ten million dollars annually, stated that one-fourth of all goods bought thus were returned. The largest firms—those in the twenty million and more class—took back one-fifth of their sales.

This return and allowance system would seem to constitute a much greater source of trouble than bad debts. All the department stores in the figures averaged 6.3 per cent returns on cash sales, 21.1 per cent on open credit sales, and 13 per cent of installment sales. The conclusion to be drawn is that department store patrons pay their debts, but that they are hard to please. The store, of course, loses at best a large part of its normal profit on everything returned, and the theory that "the customer is always right" unquestionably costs retail buyers many millions a year.

Cash Auto Sales.

It may be interesting to note that 31 per cent of all the automobiles sold are paid for in cash, if the survey's limited figures apply to the entire sales field. A little more than half the cars are sold on the installment plan. Many economists believe that it would have been impossible to sell the millions of automobiles that have been sold if the buyers were compelled to wait until they had the cost price is cash. It is even seriously maintained that the economies in production possible with heavy sales have been so great that it was actually cheaper for the public to buy cars on extended credits than to pay cash for them; the reduction more than making up for carrying charges of all kinds.

Consumption credit is expensive, not so much because of the bad debts as because of the collection expense involved. It has been estimated that it costs more than $4 to send a collector after a past due payment on any installment purchase. However, credit for consumption has been so successful that it would not be surprising to find some of the chain stores, hitherto almost exclusively sellers for cash, granting their patrons time to pay for what they buy.

Says Ford Company Now Preparing for New Models

New York, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The Standard Statistics company reported today that its advices from Detroit indicate that the Ford Motor company is now cleaning up the last of its production on the present model cars and will soon cut down its output rapidly, practically curtailing production for thirty days, before production of new models gets under way.

RECEIVERSHIP IS ORDERED FOR CUBA CANE SUGAR CORP.

New York, Oct. 1.—(AP)—A receivership for the Cuba Cane Sugar corporation, with assets in excess of $110,000,000, was ordered in United States District court today.

Charles Hayden, chairman of the board and of the reorganization committee, said the plan of reorganization would be presented to the court.

Owing to inability to meet the majority of $25,000,000 in debentures due Jan. 1, a plan of reorganization was submitted last summer. The security holders, however, were slow to deposit their holdings under the plan. The final date for deposit was successively extended until Sept. 25, when only 78 per cent of the debentures and 76 per cent of the capital stock was deposited, which was deemed insufficient to attempt to carry out the plan.

The company owns or controls more than 300,000 acres of sugar producing lands and nearly 1,000 miles of railroad in Cuba. Owing to the depression in the sugar industry, recent earnings have been unsatisfactory. Net income last year was but $214,-000, and in 1926 there was a net loss of $1,982,000.

Announce Completion of $50,000,000 Radio Merger

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 1.—A merger of the Kolster Radio company and the Earl and Freed-Eisemann combination brings into existence a new $50,000,000 radio corporation with control of the second largest group of radio patents in the United States.

The merger was announced today by Rudolph Spreckels, sugar magnate and banker, who will be chairman of the board of directors of the new corporation.

The amalgamation of these radio interests brings under unified control some 700 important radio and wireless patents. The Kolster company recently acquired the wireless patents from the North America company.

Owns Other Patents.

In addition it owns among others the patents of the wireless direction finder, or radio compass, the drum dial control, the Gauthier system of chain broadcasting and remote control of radio receivers, the outstanding feature of this year's radio advances.

The Earl and Freed-Eisemann companies bring to the group licenses of the Haseltine system of neutralization [neutrodyne] and the La Tour patents covering cascade amplification and use of a common power supply for multiple tube receivers. Many other important detail patents necessary in all receivers are found in the group now pooled in the new combination.

Kolster will, in substance, be the holding company or parent organization of the new group. Each company will maintain its own identity and continue to manufacture receivers and apparatus under the existing trade names.

Basis of Exchange.

The name of the holding company has not been decided yet but will be when the stock exchange is made with the member companies at the rate of three shares of Earl stock for one of Kolster.

One of the important items in the consolidation is the contract which the Kolster company holds with the North America company, which is installing wired-wireless in the middle west, with Cleveland as its headquarters. The contract provides that at least one-third of the apparatus needed for wired-wireless installation shall be purchased from the Kolster company.

EASTERN GAS & FUEL ACQUIRES MASS. COMPANY

New York, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates, a Koppers enterprise, through an offer of exchange of securities, has already acquired more than 85 per cent of the common stock and more than a majority of the preferred stock of the Massachusetts Gas companies, it was announced today.

Empire Public Service corporation has acquired through a subsidiary the Central Texas Gas company, which retails natural gas to several communities in central Texas, and the Clarksville Gas company, serving Clarksville, Ark.

Directors of the Paragon Refining company have approved the plans to purchase the majority common stock of the Valvoline Oil company. Phillips Petroleum company has bought the Morrison Brothers chain of retail service stations in Denver, Colo.

Pennsy Railway Orders 100 Mountain Type Engines

The engines, known as class N-1, were designed by the Pennsylvania and introduced in 1923. At a speed of 41 miles an hour they develop 4,278 horse power.

New York, Oct. 1.—The stock market had a lot to contend with today.

Continued tight money; the bearish remarks of a well known Chicago financier at the bankers' convention out west; a general disinclination of the bull party to support its belabored pets under fire; reputed decisions of a big pool or two to sell out their holdings, and various minor ailments in the way of individual stock developments.

It was too much for a healthy, up and going market, even, and certainly more than one so obviously "under the weather" could bear.

Little Resistance to Selling.

So prices mostly continued to melt away—two, five, seven, fifteen points and more. Case Threshing Machine, outdoing them all, took the count for a net loss of 39 points. Standard Gas went down 17⅜; Commercial Solvents, 12; and Texas and Pacific, 13.

Except for a brief interval during the afternoon when the leaders dug in and attempted a comeback—only to give way anew in the later trading—there was not much serious resistance to the selling movement anywhere.

It was one of the worst selling waves of the present decline, now in its fourth week, and carried more than

A street car stands at a corner. An automobile, within its rights, crosses in front at right angles. A motorcycle passes the street car and runs into the automobile. The man on the motorcycle is badly injured.

The above is a brief summary of an actual case. After three costly trials a jury surprisingly assessed $10,000 damages against the owner of the automobile.

And there you are! Even with all the facts seemingly in your favor, you can come out second best in automobile litigation. The right kind of insurance coverage is the only answer.

LATE BUYING IS BOON TO AILING CHICAGO STOCKS

Traders Await Change in Credit Situation.

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.

Lower prices again prevailed on the Chicago Stock Exchange yesterday as traders awaited an easing tone in the credit situation. The declines, however, were not spectacular and toward the close some buying came into the market which narrowed the difference from the preceding day's prices.

This last minute buying came in part from some who have been on the "short" side of the market for days and who were suffering from nervousness. Short covering made its appearance in Bendix Aviation after the stock was more than a point lower. The loss was recovered and a fractional gain added.

Cord Corporation recovered from a loss of more than a point and cut the net decline to a fraction just before the close when it became known that the corporation plans to invade the aviation industry through the purchase of the Stinson Aircraft corporation.

Urges Acceptance of Offer.

Stinson stockholders have been offered one share of Cord stock for each two shares of Stinson held, or $17.50 a share in cash. Edward A. Stinson, president, mailed letters to stockholders last night urging them to accept the offer. The deal is contingent upon sixty per cent of the stock being deposited within twenty days. The plan has already been approved by directors of both the Cord corporation and the Stinson corporation.

The pool in Grigsby-Grunow sent many shorts to cover yesterday as the price was marked up 3½ points after a turnover of about 72,850 shares. The action was accompanied by rumors of record sales for September. U. S. Radio was up 1⅛ on reports that special developments will be announced tomorrow. Zenith was off a point.

General Theater Equipment and Gleaner Combine Harvester were each 3½ points lower. Q. R. S.-De Vry, selling ex dividend 20 cents, closed three points off.

Give Optional Warrants.

Middle West Utilities new was up a fraction after sales of more than 71,000 shares. Utility and Industrial reflected the drop in Standard Gas and Electric in New York with a decline of 1¼.

American Commonwealths Power was off a fraction. The directors have given class "A" stockholders optional warrants to purchase at $24 a share one additional share of "A" stock for each share now held. The warrants expire on June 30, 1930.

Losses of 2⅝ and 2¼ in Continental Chicago and Chicago Investment featured the investment trust list.

CURB EXCHANGE PRICES FALL IN SELLING DRIVE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

(New York curb list page 30.)

New York, Oct. 1.—Prices fell on the curb exchange today in an extended sales drive. Stocks in many instances were offered "for what they would bring," and resulted in declines of a point to three points between sales.

Traders who confine their activities to the forward side of the market appeared to be highly indifferent to proceedings, apparently awaiting a time when stocks begin to show signs of at least having reached a bottom. The result was a steady down swing in values.

At least two score issues established new lows for the year. The majority of these, however, were stocks which might be termed as "newcomers" to the list. Sharply lower prices were registered by prominent utilities, led by Allied Power and Light, Electric Investors, down 7; Electric Bond and Share, American Gas and Electric, American Foreign Power warrants, off 8; Central States Electric, Northern States, down 9; Middle West Utilities, down 35, and others.

News and Gossip of Stock Markets

Chance for a Good Deed.

Now is the time for all good investment trusts to come to the aid of the market.

Scheduled to Set Pace.

Resumption of bullish activities in Radio corporation fitted in with reports that the strong Chicago aggregation responsible for the stock's rise prior to the reaction in the general market had resumed their position. Cloakroom gossip had it that Radio is scheduled to set the pace in the next market upturn.

Many Hold Sack.

In few, if any stocks, have as many people been hurt as in Chrysler. The stock was a popular one during the rise last year and most small holders could not convince themselves this year that the party was over. Losses, however, are not confined to the small fellows. A broker says he knows of one man who now has 80,000 shares which average him 90. This holder has added to his original account by buying on the decline to average down.

Carries Off Honors.

United Fruit again carried off honors among the important industrial corporations in giving out quarterly earnings. Scarcely had the third quarter ended than a report of the company's third quarter results was given out. Fruit earned approximately $6,605,000 after depreciation but before taxes, compared with $4,300,000 in the second quarter and $6,600,000 in the third quarter of 1928. For the nine months the profit before taxes was $14,205,000 as against $17,700,000 in the same period of last year.

Steadiness Explained.

The steadiness of the American Rolling Mills company in this market has been due not only to the good earnings of the company but also the possibilities for profit in licensing of other steel companies to use the sheet rolling process for which American Rolling Mills has patents. United States Steel obtained a license after endeavoring to develop its own process. Now Republic Iron and Steel has been licensed. Others licensed are Wheeling Steel, Gulf States Steel, and Weirton Steel, the last named having just been included in a merger to be known as the National Steel company.

Hears Inside Story.

Wall street hears a story that the selling in the motors has not been due altogether to the state of the trade. It is admitted that the motor industry is in a slump right now but some of the selling, according to reports, is due to the dumping by a western group of stock because the group was over bought and could not furnish additional margin to carry the stock. The first stock of this group to be sold was said to have been Chrysler and now more than 100,000 shares of another motor company have been sent to New York for distribution.

Rises Against Trend.

Revival of interest in Union Oil of California is expected as a result of the stock's advance to new high ground in a generally declining market.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Cotton goods markets were quiet, with prices very firm on stronger cotton. Some pre-report coverage from larger buyers was looked for in mill circles. Quiet conditions ruled in fine goods markets, with scattered sales of small lots of several cloths. Burlaps were cabled unchanged after the downward movement of ready shipment late the previous day. Reordering on tropicals for summer of 1930 interested wool goods markets. Spot raw silks were unchanged in Japan and easier on efforts to liquidate here. Better sales of silk fabrics developed.

WHEAT BULLS ARE UNABLE TO ADVANCE PRICES

Finish Shows Net Losses of Nearly 2 Cents.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Efforts to advance wheat values met with a little success in the early trading, with fairly aggressive commission house buying, largely in the May, but the weakness in the security markets brought about a return of scattered liquidation with a drop of 3¾c from the top, and the finish was at net losses of 1⅜@1⅞c.

Winnipeg was erratic, with October strong and closing ¼c higher, while the deferred futures were off 1¼@1¾c. Buenos Aires gained 1⅜@2⅞c.

Corn showed stubborn resistance to pressure, although easing from the best figures, and closed ¼@½c lower. Oats lost ⅛@⅜c. Rye declined ⅞@1¾c in sympathy with wheat.

New Incentive Needed.

Action of the wheat market of late suggests to many operators that some new incentive is needed in order to cause any material advance or decline from the present level. Liquidation has been drastic, and the technical position has been materially strengthened in consequence, but there is not the aggressive foreign buying of the cash grain so necessary to bring about a reduction in the visible supply and stimulate speculative buying of futures. Export sales in all positions for the day were placed at 750,000 bu, mainly Manitobas.

From a crop standpoint the wheat situation is regarded as gaining strength. Cables said that the recent rains missed the large wheat area in eastern Australia, and the crop of that country is tentatively placed at 100,000,000 bu, or 60,000,000 bu less than last year. A late cable to the Northwestern Miller from Argentina said warmer weather was needed in that country. Wheat has made a good recovery over a wide area, but extreme northern Cordoba and southern Santa Fe appear almost a complete failure. Another cable said the forecast was for scattered frost.

Deliveries of 3,168,000 bu wheat on October contracts at Liverpool failed to have the depressing effect expected, and futures there closed 2@2¾d higher. World's available supplies increased 21,505,000 bu for the week, and the total is 414,998,000 bu, or 170,000,000 bu in excess of last year.

Cash Corn in Demand.

A general improvement in the demand for cash corn, with shipping sales of 150,000 bu and an advance of ½@1½c in the spot basis, brought in some buying of futures, but the bulk of the trade was of a local character, and when wheat eased corn followed. Private crop estimates to be given to the trade today are expected to show little change from the 2,456,000,000 bu suggested by the government a month ago, the smallest yield with one exception since 1913. Country offerings to arrive were fair, but sold readily, with 69,000 bu booked to come here. Charters were for 250,000 bu to Georgian Bay. Buenos Aires closed unchanged to ½c higher.

Trade in oats was not large, with commission houses buying on the dips on resting orders, while local longs took advantage of the minor bulges to reduce long lines. Charters have been made of late for 1,200,000 bu cash oats to Toledo for winter storage, and the grain will be loaded this and next week. Eastern interests were credited with buying rye futures, while selling was mainly by locals.

BUTTER SUPPLIES DECREASE

Although butter storage supplies in the 10 cities were 1,500,000 lbs less than a week ago the December future declined ¼c to 44¾c in sympathy with an easier spot market and bearish news from the four markets on storage withdrawals. Sales were 11 cars and receipts 14,768 tubs. November eggs were up ¼c to 37c on the strength of the bullish government report on the 26 markets. Decembers at 37¼c were unchanged. Sales were 61 cars and receipts 1,061 cases.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

While the foreign demand for cash grain was only fair sales of 750,000 bu wheat were claimed in all positions, mainly Manitobas. Local handlers sold 5,000 bu wheat; 150,000 bu corn; 56,000 bu oats, and 2,000 bu barley to the domestic trade. Charters were for 250,000 bu corn to Georgian Bay with 675,000 bu oats to Toledo, the latter for winter storage, making 1,200,000 bu chartered in the past few days. Deliveries on October contracts were 7,000 bu wheat.

LARD STOCKS DECREASE

Lard stocks in Chicago, 85,448,236 lbs, compared with 97,240,471 lbs a month ago and 72,886,900 lbs last year. There was a decrease for the month of 11,792,235 lbs, mostly in contract lard. Stocks of dry salted clear bellies were cut down almost 8,000,000 lbs for the month and exceed last year's. There were good decreases in hams and pickled meats during the month. Stocks of hams were materially in excess of last year. Total stocks of all meats are 103,048,075 lbs, compared with 122,946,303 lbs a month ago and 83,712,576 lbs last year.

Deliveries of lard on October contracts were about as generally expected, 9,400,000 lbs, and bellies 2,150,000 lbs. There were liberal redeliveries later in the day, which did not change the aggregate.

Liquidation in October lard was heavy and well absorbed by packing and cash interests. One house, it is said, will ship out 1,000,000 lbs. Although the market yesterday was weak for a time and hogs were 25c to 50c lower, with grains and stocks off sharply, lard prices closed 5c higher on October and December and 5c lower on January. Liverpool was unchanged to 3d higher, with export clearances of 4,282,291 lbs.

Bellies were unloaded in a liberal way and closed unchanged to 10c lower. Liverpool was 2s lower. Hog supplies were larger, exceeding those of a week ago and one and two years ago. Prices follow:

COTTON CLOSES NEAR TOP

Good buying of cotton yesterday by shorts and mill interests, based on reports of rains of 1 to 5 inches over the eastern belt, where damage is feared to the top crop both in quality and quantity, carried prices up sharply and made a close around the best of the day. There was no particular pressure of offerings and price setbacks were few. There were net gains of 26 to 39 points in practically all markets, with a more liberal trade. Liverpool closed 16 points higher with spot sales 8,000 bales.

Spot markets were strong, with middling 30 points higher in New York at 19.15c, 35 points up in New Orleans to 18.70c, with spot sales 13,121 bales. Galveston was 18.95c, and Houston 18.90c, with spot sales 438 bales. Prices follow:

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was quiet today and no sales were reported. Uncontrolled sugars were firmly offered at 4.11c delivered, but refiners showed little interest and then only at 4.02c. Inactivity in the spot market and uncertainty over developments at Washington in reference to the tariff situation was responsible for a little more selling pressure in raw futures, and prices were lower throughout the entire session, closing with net losses of 2 to 3 points. Approximate sales, 25,850 tons. Prices follow:

HAZLEWOOD SAYS BANKS LOAN TOO MUCH ON STOCKS

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 1.—(AP)—The credit situation, center of interest in the mind of America's millions of investors as well as financial leaders, was brought before the convention of the American Bankers' association in the opening address today by President Craig G. Hazlewood of Chicago.

His flat declaration that the real responsibility of the banker is to see that not too large a proportion of the country's credit goes into the stock market created a stir among the delegates.

"It is definitely known," he said, "that many of our banks and especially some institutions in our larger cities, have increased their loans on collateral securities to peaks never before attained. Some of them are over loaned—in some cases they are borrowers, and in some cases even they are not borrowers, they have exhausted their secondary reserves. I know of a considerable number of large city banks whose only recourse to meet new and extraordinary demands for withdrawal of deposits, aside from calling customers' loans would be borrowing at the Federal Reserve bank."

This condition, said President Hazlewood, has led many banks to refuse additional loans for carrying securities. Six per cent interest compared with an average of 5 per cent reflects added demand for stock market credit in addition to the usual fall commercial demands.

Hazelwood said he did not believe it the duty of the federal reserve system to assume full responsibility for the credit situation. The system helps to preserve a balance in the credit structure, he continued, and in a tight money situation, such as faces the country today, a strong reserve is maintained, able to stand any extraordinary strain. This lends confidence to the ability of the federal organization to meet any situation.

STOCK PRICES MELT AWAY AS BULLS RETREAT

fifty issues, including such big timers as Hudson Motors, Curtiss-Wright, Chrysler, International Combustion, Reo Motors, Standard Brands, Tobacco Products, Goodrich Rubber, Goodyear Tire, and Yellow Truck down to new low price levels for the year or longer.

Market Opens Lower.

It was evident at the outset that the bull element was in for more trouble. Openings were a trifle lower and began to fluctuate nervously in short order. This invited short selling and once a few weak spots had been discovered the whole list began to slip.

By the middle of the day, the leading speculative favorites, including U. S. Steel, General Electric, American Can, Westinghouse, Anaconda Copper, Atchison, N. Y. C., and the utilities as a group were ruling at levels showing declines ranging from 2 to over 20 points net. Selling had been heavy all along the line and the ease with which prices yielded indicated an utter absence of nearby, aggressive support in any group as a whole.

Make Partial Recovery.

But along toward the final hour, with money ruling a trifle easier at the day's high of 10 per cent, the recession came to an abrupt halt. In a few minutes a promising rally was in course of development under the leadership of Steel and Radio. Renewed selling cut down some of the recoveries before the closing gong could come to their rescue, but a long list of stocks managed to wind up at prices somewhat above their lows for the day.

International Combustion Engineering was perhaps the outstanding weak feature of the day as at intervals it dropped points between sales with a loss amounting at one time to 13 points on top of yesterday's four point setback. At today's low of 42 the stock showed a cumulative drop of 81½ points from the year's peak of 103½. The selling came in big blocks and almost wholly from the same source, lending color to reports which accompanied the decline that a London-New York pool, which had been sponsoring it marketwise, had decided to wind up its operations.

Weakness in Utilities.

The weakness in utilities including several issues, which until now had moved ahead rather spectacularly against the trend, was extremely disturbing to the rank and file of the speculative community.

The exclusive Auburn Auto gave its holders a dizzy feeling for most of the day, but rebounded in the afternoon and ended its song and dance on the note of a 4½ point net gain.

Publication of Montgomery Ward's September sales, showing a smaller total than had been expected, resulted in further selling of the stock, which dropped to a new low for the movement and wound up showing a net decline of nearly 3 points.

With the money market called upon to shoulder an unprecedented turnover in quarterly payments, etc., relative calm prevailed in that direction. Renewals for call loans were fixed at 9 per cent, with scattered calling estimated between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, later reflecting in an advance in the rate to 10 per cent. Funds were supplied at that level, however, and, unlike Monday, traders had little to fret about in so far as the possibility of a rate was concerned.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—(AP)—COFFEE—Futures were lower today under some near month liquidation and trade selling. No. 7 contracts closed 3 to 13 points net lower. Sales estimated, 12,000 bags. COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—(AP)—There was a little more activity in the cottonseed oil market today and prices were firmer on covering and commission house buying, influenced by the firmer cotton market and the unfavorable weather conditions in the south. Final prices were at about the best of the session and from 5 to 7 points higher on active positions. Sales, 13,200 barrels. Top yesterday, $12.90; average, $12.00.

With the exception of lambs, all classes of live stock suffered further price cuts under stress of increased offerings yesterday. Hogs averaged lowest since January at $9.35, and 95c under Monday of last week.

Cattle sold from 50c to $1.00 under the close of last week, the top going below $16.00 for the first time on Tuesday since June. The general market for lambs was steady, but the extreme top moved down 10c at $12.90, being the first top below $13.00 since December, 1926.

Hog Losses General.

Losses of 25@50c were general in the hog market, the extreme top and general average prices dropping 35c at $10.45 and $9.35, respectively, these prices comparing with $10.95 and $9.95 last Saturday. Larger houses filled fair sized orders after midsession at the full decline, leaving about 8,000 in the pens at the close, with 20,000 estimated for today.

Arrivals of hogs at Chicago during the first two days of this week at 69,100, compared with 44,432 a year ago and with 45,159 two years ago. The total at eleven leading markets during September exceeded the August total by a few thousands. Only two other September totals are larger than in August of the same year in over 20 years.

Cattle Receipts Large.

Burdened by some of the largest supplies in two years, during the first two days of the week, the cattle market slumped to the lowest level in three months, good grades sharing in the sharp break. Yesterday's supply included a number of loads carried over from Monday's actual run of 31,014, and thousands went over again last night on unsatisfactory bids.

Warmer weather has curtailed demand for meat, and coupled with the immense supply of cattle dumped on the market, has crowded the coolers with beef, according to packers. Receipts in two days show an increase of 14,000, which was partly offset by decreases at outside points. Choice steers topped the price list at $15.85, while fancy yearlings reached $15.75. Few sales passed the $15 line, with the bulk at $11.50@14.50, against $13 @15 last Thursday.

Lambs Mostly Steady.

Buyers seemed better satisfied with the level of lamb prices, and after a slow opening bulk of offerings cleared on a steady basis. The extreme top to yard traders at $12.90, however, was 10c under Monday's peak.

Packers bought bulk of natives at $12.00@12.50, and obtained "tops" from westerns at $12.25@12.50. Aged sheep showed little change, while feeders ruled stronger.

SYNDICATE PLANS 13 STORY FLATS AT 69TH-CRANDON

Acquires Large Site from F. J. Hurley Estate.

Announcement of plans for a thirteen story apartment building to be located at the southwest corner of Crandon avenue and 69th street was made yesterday by John F. Ryan, south side real estate man. The structure will occupy a site comprising the corner piece of vacant land fronting 259 feet on Crandon by 181 feet on 69th, sold yesterday by the estate of Francis J. Hurley and Lucy N. Hurley to a syndicate, for which Anne T. Ryan, wife of Mr. Ryan, took title.

Mr. Ryan declined to state the price paid for the land. He said that no architect has yet been engaged for the new building, but he expects work to get under way in about two months. The contemplated structure will not be a "co-op." Apartments are to be good sized.

Other Improvements Planned.

The site of the contemplated building will measure 110x181 feet. The balance of the land, which is adjacent to the South Shore station of the Illinois Central, will be reserved for future development with major improvements, Mr. Ryan said. J. A. Malooly & Co. were brokers in yesterday's transaction.

S. G. Savich sold the thirty-six flat building at the northwest corner of 80th street and Ingleside avenue, lot 125x121 feet, to Samuel C. Dooley. The sale was made subject to $163,173. Mr. Dooley gave in part payment eighteen flats at 3742-46 Lake Park avenue, subject to $70,000. Balford, Quinton & Shields were attorneys for Mr. Dooley.

New South Side Store.

Martin J. McNally has leased to A. R. Whitehead & Co., 7,000 square feet of space at 7917-19 Cottage Grove avenue for ten years at a reported term rental of $62,700. The lessee will open a department store in the premises sometime during October. Alvin R. Whitehead, president of the company, states this is the first of a chain of stores contemplated for Chicago and vicinity. James E. Loye was broker.

Building activities in Chicago for the first three quarters of 1929 showed a considerable drop from the same period of last year according to figures compiled by the building survey department of S. W. Straus & Co. For 1929 the figures totaled $159,021,900 against $244,586,750 for 1928. For September, 1929, the building permits totaled $11,316,200 against $19,670,700 for September, 1928, a drop of forty-two per cent.

TO BEGIN OPERATIONS.

The Chicago Mill and Lumber corporation will begin production Nov. 1 of a new insulating board fabricated from hardwood. The company plans an output of 250,000 square feet daily from its new plant at Greenville, Miss.

Such growth and success is not "a gift." It has been earned by service of real value and investment offerings which have proved safe, desirable and profitable. This company has customers from coast to coast.

H. O. Stone and Co. and affiliated corporations, under the management responsible for the recent records of growth, are being conducted along the same sound lines which have brought to this company substantial success.

Investment Counselors for over a Quarter Century

....without Fear or Favor!

Again and again otherwise sensible investors retard their progress by selling sound securities too soon. For reasons that have no logic, stocks wisely selected are disposed of. On the other hand many stocks that have declined are held because the buyers are unwilling to admit loss.

In combination, these illogical actions prevent investors from obtaining anything like the results that they can and should get.

It is the duty of your investment counselor to advise you on this very vital phase of investment. The Brookmire record:—which is available for inspection—shows that Brookmire clients are not told to "get out of" good stocks too soon nor allowed to remain in weak stocks.

Greater success can be achieved with sound counsel based upon wide research.

DETROIT EDISON PLANS RIGHTS OF $43,392,762

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 1.—Rights worth $43,392,762 are to be offered to stockholders of the Detroit Edison company this month, it was announced today. Holders of each five shares of record Oct. 23 will be given the right to acquire one additional share at $100 on or before Dec. 23, 1929. At today's price of $352 a share, the rights are worth $42 each.

With 1,033,161 shares outstanding, the new stock to be sold will provide the company with $20,663,220 additional capital and increase the outstanding stock to 1,239,793 shares. Subscriptions will be accepted for full shares only, and payment may be made in full on Dec. 23, or in four installments on Dec. 23, March 21, June 21, and Sept. 22, 1930.

May Convert Bonds.

Holders of the company's six per cent convertible debenture bonds, series of 1932, may participate in the stock offering by converting their bonds on or before Oct. 23, 1929. The last offering of rights by the company was on Oct. 15, 1928 at par, on a one for six basis and the preceding issue was Oct. 29, 1926, at par on a 1 for 10 basis.

Zonite Products declared a quarterly dividend of 40 cents, placing the stock on a $1.60 annual basis against $1 previously. Zonite directors voted to increase the common stock from 500,000 to 2,000,000 shares and called a special stockholders' meeting for Oct. 18 to approve the proposal. New shares will be used in the proposed acquisition of the Forhan company.

Rights have been offered to stockholders of the Pittsburgh Steel company to subscribe to additional stock at $10 a share in the ratio of one new share for every share held of record Sept. 30.

Year's Second Extra.

A second extra dividend for this year was declared by directors of the Sparta Foundry company, manufacturers of piston rings, when they voted yesterday to pay an additional disbursement of 50 cents a share besides the regular quarterly payment of 75 cents. In the previous quarter an extra of 25 cents was declared.

Directors of the New River company, holding corporation for several coal mining companies in West Virginia, reduced the arrears in dividends on the preferred stock by voting a disbursement of $1.50 a share for the quarter which came due on May 1, 1922.

S. H. Kress company declared an extra of 50 cents a share on the common, payable in special preferred stock. Pittsburgh Forging company declared an initial quarterly dividend of 40 cents. The Superheater company declared an extra dividend of $1 per share.

3 new records

RECENTLY we announced an advertising gain of 258 pages in Collier's for the first eight months of this year. Now, we are privileged to publish three new records in advertising patronage:

41% Total linage the first 9 months of this year—through September—was 41% greater than in the same period last year.

75% The first four September issues this year carried 75% more advertising than the corresponding issues in 1928.

Moreover, Collier's now has more than 2,000,000 circulation—which means an excess of 450,000 families per issue to those advertisers who ordered space prior to November 24, 1928.

It is very gratifying to receive from our clients this definite evidence of the advertising action they are securing in Collier's. And we wish to express our appreciation of their endorsement.

By ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS.

Douglas Dorling, a young British peer, is sent to Dartmoor prison on the perjured testimony of Cora Sefton, an unscrupulous woman in love with him. In revenge, because he snubbed her advances, she swears she saw him kill a policeman in a night club raid. Dorling is a famous aviator, but to keep this knowledge from his mother and spare her worry, he has been using the assumed name of Douglas Harris; and as Douglas Harris he is tried and convicted.

He is rescued from prison in spectacular fashion, right under the eyes of his guard, by persons unknown; is shaved, dressed in new clothes, and driven to the Gunter hotel where, to his amazement, he is greeted by Cora. She has registered as his wife.

Cecily Warren, the girl Douglas loves, is also staying at the Gunter. She sees Dorling embraced by Cora on his arrival, and jumps to the conclusion he must be secretly married. Disillusioned and heartbroken, she leaves for London.

Douglas meets his father's old friend, Sir Aylmer Granston, in the lobby, and accepts his invitation to drive to London. He escapes from Cora, leaving a note. Immediately she wires Jules Malleron, well known amateur connoisseur of the arts and a neighbor of the Granstons. As Malleron is decoding the wire, Martha Perraile, Cecily's maid, calls. She is obviously in his employ. He directs her to bring her mistress within a few days to a town called Mortvaig, in Scotland.

That night, while Dorling is dining with the Granstons, Malleron calls. Later Cecily comes in, not knowing Doug is there. She greets him frigidly, and creates a sensation by announcing she hears he is married.

Doug goes to see Cora, and asks her to explain all the mystery. She refuses, but tells him he is to go to Mortvaig, Scotland, to meet her chief. He agrees, but first visits his mother at Dorling Towers. Cecily's father, Charles Warren, who lives on the fringe of the Dorling estate, calls, and remarks casually that his daughter has taken a job, furnishing a Mortvaig millionaire's house. Doug is struck by the coincidence in names. At Mortvaig Doug can only learn that, in return for his freedom, he is being blackmailed into a mysterious service as an airplane pilot. He takes off for his first trip, little dreaming Cecily is on board, drugged.

Charles Warren, who is in the government secret service, though this is not known to his friends, takes a holiday at home. Detective Inspector Rason of Scotland Yard calls for a conference. He believes Harris' escape from prison was a carefully planned one, and links it with a gang of smugglers whom he and Warren are pursuing. He has traced the car in which Doug was rescued to a London furniture company. Warren says this same company sent Cecily to Scotland. Rason suspects trouble, and wires the Mortvaig police.

Landing at his inland base, Doug is shown about by another pilot, Lieut. Beresford. On his return to Mortvaig he is permitted to go down to London for a few days and he decides to shake himself free of the gang. He calls on Cecily to explain everything to her, but is told by Mr. Warren that Cecily has disappeared from Mortvaig. Her maid returned without her and could shed no light on the disappearance. When Douglas sees Cecily's maid he remembers that he had seen her at the Mortvaig airdrome and suspects that she is one of the gang. With a shock he realises that he must have carried Cecily to the island and that she is being kept a prisoner there by the chief. He decides to return there at once, but does not tell Mr. Warren of his suspicions.

Arrived at the island he asks to see Miss Warren and greatly to his surprise he is allowed to see her. He arranges for her escape and manages to land her in England. He is pursued by a navy plane, however. He flies inland, then heading the plane again toward the sea he drops in a parachute. His plane is shot down in flames and Douglas Harris is presumed to be dead. He hurries to London expecting to see Cecily, but is amazed to learn that in some way his plans miscarried and that she has again been captured by the gang.

Dorling meets Cora at a night club in answer to a request to meet her there, hoping to obtain news of Cecily.

INSTALLMENT XXXIII.

DOPED!

Dorling relaxed the hostile attitude he had hitherto maintained. The gang was clever—too clever to bluster. They saw the strength of his position. In short, he was winning and was disposed to be generous.

"Luck, you mean, old man," he corrected. "By chance I happened to be in a pretty strong position. You've got to have that chart back—you can't afford to have the airdrome raided. Miss Warren is given up in return for the chart and, with the best will in the world toward you personally, I can tell you all to go to blazes. If you put me back in Dartmoor I put the police on to Mortvaig." He sipped his whisky. "Vice versa, of course. If I put them on to the airdrome you put me back. We needn't be afraid of each other. And any day of the week I'm ready to pay back the expenses of rescuing me. So I don't think your crowd can accuse me of doing the dirty on them."

"There's no question of that," Beresford assured him. "The chief will probably make the best of a bad job and back out, as far as you are concerned. Put that down and have another while we're waiting for Cora."

"Quite so, sir. What name, please?"

Dorling drained his glass and put it down.

"I won't have another, thanks. . . . Cora won't be long, I suppose."

"I think I hear her now." He offered a cigaret which Dorling took. Beresford held a match.

"What's the news?" Beresford rapped out as the door opened.

"The chief just laughed," answered Cora. "He accepts the ultimatum, Doug, but you've got to make it forty-eight hours instead of twenty-four—owing to the trains, I gathered."

"Good enough!" said Dorling. "I'll meet any of you anywhere you like and hand over that chart as soon as I hear Miss Warren is with her father."

He rose with the intention of going—rose unsteadily, with one hand on the back of the arm chair.

He took his hand from the chair—then, nearly losing his balance, put it back again. He looked down at the floor. It seemed to be curved slightly.

"One whisky and soda," he said to himself. "Absurd, of course! Perhaps it's the air of this place." He was a little faint, that was all. Had the others noticed?

Cora was chattering and Beresford was apparently attending to her. The smoke from his cigaret made his eyes sting. He put up his hand to remove the cigaret. He held the cigaret for a moment between two fingers, felt it slipping and saw it drop on to the floor.

"Beresford!" he shouted hoarsely. "That whisky was doped."

"Yes, old man, I'm afraid it was," came the answer with a queer tenderness. "We aren't going to hurt you—don't get the wind up, Doug."

He was standing by Dorling's side, taking his arm. Dorling tried to shake himself free but could not.

"We're going to keep you under for about twenty-four hours." Beresford's voice seemed now to be coming from a long way off. "You'll be none the worse. Better sit down for the moment or you'll probably fall."

Power of resistance had already gone from him. He felt himself lifted and lowered into the armchair. From the fact that he could no longer see he knew that his eyes must have closed, though part of his brain was still awake.

"Take his gun away first in case of accident," he heard Cora say.

Then came the answer, close to his ear, as it seemed to Dorling.

"The chief has promised me. And he's never broken his word yet. . . . Why don't the others hurry up? It will be light in four hours."

Cora's words, it seemed, were followed by a numbing roar. The house, he supposed, had been blown up. He himself was rolling, swaying indefinitely, in darkness and space.

The numbing roar that had seemed to follow Cora's words had indeed followed them—but some eighteen hours later.

The roar came again, but this time it was more definite. He was still in darkness, swaying, and there was added now a feeling of suffocation.

The roar came a third time—and it sounded now like the horn of a motor car, only it was longer and louder. . . . The feeling of suffocation was growing unbearable. With his hands he fought for air—and was suddenly looking in daylight.

He forced himself to a sitting position while his faculties slowly returned.

Five minutes or more had passed before he came to his first definite conclusion.

"I am on the floor of a car—probably that car I saw in the yard. This thing was over me and it must have slipped down."

That, at least, was abundantly clear. There was no possible doubt that he was inside a large limousine. They were moving, too, for the car was swaying—yet he could hear only the faintest hum of vibration of the engine.

He was about to struggle to his feet when there came again the roaring sound, but he recognised it at once now as the siren of a steamer.

He struggled to his feet, then dropped on to the divan. Quickly now he took in his full surroundings and their significance.

He was alone inside a large car—which itself was between decks on a steamer. It was easy to guess that he had been shipped with the car while lying unconscious beneath the rug.

He lowered the window of the car, and the fresh air rapidly revived him.

He was still in evening dress and from the fact that even his shirt was scarcely rumpled he concluded that they had handled him gently.

The looking glass told him that he badly wanted a shave. That annoyed him. In whatever ordeal lay before him he would be at a disadvantage.

"They've used this car to smuggle me aboard a ship," he told himself. He listened and knew now by the throb of the engines and the swaying of the ship that they were not crawling out of harbor. They were on the sea.

"Why leave me in the car?" he asked, and then determined to find the answer.

His overcoat, neatly folded, was on the divan, but his silk hat was missing. He slipped on the coat, then stepped out of the car.

There were two other cars in the hold. He had half a mind to examine them on the chance of their being occupied by drugged sleepers. Instead, he climbed by an iron ladder to a gangway that gave on to a corridor.

As he turned into the corridor a door opened and a steward appeared.

"Steward, I want to see the captain at once."

"Quite so, sir. What name, please?"

"I am Lord Dorling."

"O, yes." The steward glanced in the direction of the hold. "Just a moment, my lord. I'll have to see the chief steward, first."

GASOLINE ALLEY—MAKE IT SNAPPY

Marine Band Has Situation Well in Hand

Chicago Applauds Noted Military Musicians.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

The United States Marine band, now making a tour outside of its wonted headquarters in Washington, visited Orchestra hall yesterday, giving a concert in the afternoon and another in the evening. Under the direction of Capt. Taylor Branson, it demonstrated that considerable can be done in the popular concert field through a medium of brass and wood winds, that it possesses considerable range in tone colorings, and an even greater range in expression and range of tempo.

Capt. Branson, it is assumed, plays the sort of program that he has found to be popular among audiences by and large. He is generous with encores, always an excellent quality among band leaders. An operatic selection, the overture to "The Flying Dutchman," for instance, will be followed by a Sousa march, and that by a popular song hit of the moment. A cornet soloist will play a brilliant first number and then two lyric melodies. A bit of descriptive music will be followed by a transcription for band from orchestra or piano. Thus it goes, and always to the loudly expressed satisfaction of the patrons.

The afternoon program was planned for the benefit of school children, and was therefore of a somewhat lighter character than that of the evening, both, however, fulfilling their purpose excellently. A pair of soloists appeared each time, Arthur S. Whitcomb, cornetist, and also the second leader of the band, and Wilber D. Kieffer, xylophonist, in the afternoon, John P. White, another cornet soloist, and Robert E. Clark, trombonist, in the evening.

The management of the Chicago Symphony orchestra tells by letter that its announcement of the new course of music appreciation in the Chicago public schools has aroused a number of inquiries as to whether children not taking the course should find it advisable to attend the orchestra's series of young people's concerts.

The answer, says Manager Voegeli, is emphatically yes. The arrangement made with William J. Bogan, superintendent, and Dr. J. Lewis Browne, music director of the public schools, for a course of music appreciation in conjunction with the orchestra's young people's concerts, establishes for the first time a definite course for the concerts. They will cover a period of four years, and will make a complete course in themselves.

The plan is that Mr. Stock and the school officials will collaborate in the preparation of the course, and the order in which the various divisions will be taken up. Mr. Stock then will prepare his own programs accordingly, and the works chosen by him will be used in class room study. The programs will be played immediately following the allotted time for the study of each subject. The tentative schedule for the first season will take up rhythm in dance music, strings, woodwinds, brass, and percussion, melodic development, structure, and a general program, each with illustrative examples.

The concerts will be divided into two series with identical programs, the first to be given on the first Thursday afternoon of each month beginning Nov. 7, the second on the third Thursday beginning Nov. 21. As the need for more concerts is demonstrated, another series will be established.

The American Opera society has approved a plan to provide scholarships for American music students in American opera. Annual scholarships, determined on the basis of competitive excellence throughout the nation, will be arranged, and Mrs. Waller Borden, president of the society, states that a definite outline for the endowment of the scholarships is expected before the opening of the next annual season.

Missouri Governor Invites 8 Others to Dinner—Milk!

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Gov. Caulfield is inviting the governors of eight neighboring states to St. Louis for a banquet to be given Oct. 16 by the directors of the dairy show. The executives invited are Govs. Harvey Parnell of Arkansas, Louis L. Emmerson of Illinois, John Hammill of Iowa, Flem D. Thompson of Kentuckey, Arthur J. Weaver of Nebraska, H. S. Johnston of Oklahoma, Henry H. Horton of Tennessee, and Clyde M. Reed of Kansas.

Ruth H. McCormick Lauds Girl Scouts, Favors Larger Funds

Congresswoman Ruth Hanna McCormick was appointed honorary commissioner for the Chicago Council of Girl Scouts yesterday. That was announced by Mrs. Charles R. Lindsay, deputy district commissioner, at a luncheon at the Chicago Woman's club where Mrs. McCormick was a guest and principal speaker.

It was the initial meeting of the Chicago council and workers for the annual budget for $100,000 to carry on the work of the Girl Scouts in Chicago. Miss Elizabeth G. Baker, commissioner, presided. Among those attending the luncheon were Mrs. George Farnsworth, treasurer; Mrs. John P. Kellogg, secretary; Miss Elizabeth J. Mundle, local director; Mrs. Richard Bentley, Mrs. James H. Douglas Jr., Mrs. Clarence Bartelme, Mrs. Nathan S. Davis.

"The Girl Scout movement is the only movement I know that challenges the imagination of the youth of today and makes it think," Mrs. McCormick declared. "The youth of this country never was as hopeful and vital as it is today. I have been wondering why women of my age worked so hard for suffrage if we weren't to carry the ball down the field by bringing up the younger generation on the same vital principles for which we fought.

"But it is ridiculous for a city the size of Chicago to raise only $100,000. The Girl Scout movement is one of the healthiest and best contributions we can give to America, and estimating the Girl Scout movement in Chicago at only $100,000 is an outrage. It ought at least to equal the amount put on the Boy Scouts."

Clifford W. Barnes Back to Renew Sunday Services

Clifford W. Barnes, president of the Chicago Sunday Evening club, returned from a tour of the English lakes region yesterday. He will complete final arrangements for the opening of the sessions of the club next Sunday evening in Orchestra hall. Bishop Charles P. Anderson, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago, is the preacher at the opening meeting. Mr. Barnes announced the appointment of various department leaders in the work of the club. Harry A. Wheeler is the chairman of the executive committee; David R. Forgan, chairman of the finance committee; Albert W. Sherer, of the publicity committee, and William Goodman of the ushers committee.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send your name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Elsie M. Detmer, 7751 Emerald avenue, was awarded $5.

The Question.

The Answers.

M. A. Owen, 728 Sheridan road, salesman.—I would not be in favor of that because it would have a tendency to delay or block traffic. The shortest way is the best way. Where no left turns are allowed one has to meet himself coming back a few minutes later. With a left turn one can get out of the way of others.

Victor Elting Jr., Winnetka, Ill., investment banker.—My experience leads me to believe that within the loop district the traffic conditions demand that there should be no left hand turns. On the outskirts any such restrictions cause added congestion of traffic.

Mrs. Mary Devine, 520 Surf street, housewife.—My experience at the wheel makes me believe traffic rules are very satisfactory as they are. There always appears to be a sound reason, based on practical experience, for each general rule. No drastic changes in regulations are needed.

Adolph Selz, Edgewater Beach hotel, retired.—The left turn ought to be abolished. Just today I noticed a near accident on Adams street due to confusion among drivers. Left turns often place the driver in a quandary, due to his being hedged in on all sides. In these cases the policeman has to undo the tangle.

John M. Smith, 4253 Logan Square, banker.—Left hand turns are convenient and save time. Enforced right hand turns cause a trip around a block. That is equivalent to four extra blocks. At a few corners the no left turn may be advisable, but not throughout the city.

Scots Uniting Two Principal Churches Today

Rivalry of Presbyterian Groups to End.

[Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.]

EDINBURGH, Oct. 1.—The climax of the twenty year old movement to unite the two great branches of Scottish Presbyterianism was reached today. The general assemblies of the Established and Free churches met separately for the last time. They completed the final stages for tomorrow's historic act of union.

Any expectation of a final and spectacular demonstration by the dissentient minority of the United Free Church of Scotland—the "Wee Frees"—who are not entering the union with the "auld kirk," were not fulfilled. For at the final session of the United Free church assembly only 22 members among the 500 stood with their right hands extended in support of an amendment proposing "that this assembly do not proceed to the consummation of the union with the Church of Scotland."

Twenty years of debate and careful negotiation have preceded this amalgamation. It will rank as the biggest event in Scotland since the disruption, and were it not for the present condition of his health King George would have attended the legal conclusion of the union in the hall of assembly tomorrow afternoon.

At 10 a. m. the two assemblies will march from their respective meeting places to St. Giles' cathedral, uniting on the way, for a devotional service. In the afternoon, in the hall of assembly, after the uniting acts have been adopted, Dr. John White will be elected as first moderator. The duke of York will present his commission as lord high commissioner and a letter from the king will be read.

Tag Day Monday for 50 Charities Aiding Children

Two million tags are to be sold on Chicago streets on Monday in an effort to raise $150,000 for fifty charities comprising the Chicago Children's Benefit league. This amount will be gathered by 6,250 women workers, according to Mrs. George C. Carrothers, president of the league.

One of the charities, the Bethlehem creche, 235 West 53d street, was founded by Mrs. Thomas Wells in memory of her son, There, 75 children of working mothers are cared for.

THEATER

"SHOW-BOAT":

Play with songs and dances, in two acts, based by Oscar Hammerstein on Edna Ferber's like-named novel; music by Jerome Kern; made known in Chicago (by Florenz Ziegfeld) October 1, 1929, in the Illinois Theater, with this cast:

| | |
|---|---|
| Cap'n Andy | Charles Winninger |
| Parthy, his wife | Edna May Oliver |
| Magnolia, their child | Irene Dunn |
| Kim, her child | Miss Dunn |
| Kim (as a tot) | Edna Hagan |
| Steve Baker | Charles Ellis |
| Julie, his wife | Margaret Carlisle |
| Gaylord Ravenal | Howard Marsh |
| Frank Schultz | Sammy White |
| Ellie, his wife | Eva Puck |
| Joe, a deckhand | Jules Bledsoe |
| Queenie | Aunt Jemima |
| Windy | Allan Campbell |
| Steve | Charles Ellis |
| Pete | Bert Chapman |
| Rubber-Face | Francis X. Mahoney |
| Vallon | Thomas Gunn |
| A faro-dealer | Phil Sheridan |
| A gambler | Mr. Sheridan |
| A backwoodsman | Jack Daley |
| Jeb | Mr. Sheridan |
| La Belle Fatima | Dorothy Denese |
| An old sport | Mr. Chapman |
| A landlady | Annie Hart |
| Jake | Robert Farley |
| Jim | Mr. Daley |

CHICAGO had a long wait for "Show-Boat": it has been through a London run and one in Paris since Mr. Ziegfeld first disclosed it in New-York; but it now is on view and in hearing, and proves to be well worth the wait. Not only is it unlike any other song-and-dance play so far staged: it is also the most elaborate entertainment in kind yet exhibited in this or any other land. And you have my assurance that it has not been over-touted: whatever your expectations (assuming that they are within reason), they are met in the text, the tunes, the performing, and the mise-en-scene.

Mr. Hammerstein, Mr. Kern (whose idea this dramatization of Edna Ferber's novel is said to be), and Mr. Ziegfeld have made an admirable selection of matter from the printed tale. You get the story of Captain Hawks and Parthenia-Ann, of Magnolia and Ravenal, of Julie, Steve, and Kim from the ample libretto. This is not by way of saying that the arrangement of material from the novel made for "Show-Boat" would be just the thing for a "straight" dramatization; and it is by way of saying that, with songs and dances in mind, the job could not have been done in better fashion.

Mr. Kern's music consists of something else than "Old Man River,"—a tune which as I may have noted in THE TRIBUNE ere now, is mainly a transcription of the old jubilee or camp-meeting melody we all used to know as "One More River to Cross." This score is, far-and-away, the best of Mr. Kern's: that is, the best yet heard in Chicago; for I've been told that he has turned out another high-class piece of work for one of the new shows in New-York: "Sweet Adeline," perhaps. There isn't a dull or lifeless tune in all the pages Mr. Kern has written for "Show-Boat"; and it is not my recollection that I could truthfully have said that for any of his earlier scores.

As to the performance, it is much as when I saw the diversion in New-York. Miss Helen Morgan is gone; and I like her successor, Miss Carlisle, to whom falls "Can't Help Lovin' That Man" and "Bill," with its capital text by P. G. Wodehouse. Miss Norma Terriss, who was Magnolia (and Kim) down there, also is gone; and I prefer Miss Dunn, who now has the rôles. Otherwise, the actors are as I recall them from the nights when "Show-Boat" was so new that you had to order seats two months in advance.

You will find no fault with Mr. Winninger, easy, sure, and expert; with Mr. Marsh, singing at least as well as he did when "Blossom-Time" was new in Chicago; with Mr. White, who does the clowning, and Miss Puck, the most intelligent and intelligible of all our song-and-dance soubrettes; nor with Mr. Bledsoe, whose way with "Old Man River" is a triumph of gorgeous singing. The numerous "bits" are acted well; the girls are pretty and well-drilled; the Negro quiristers are immense when permitted to use the voice; and the whole thing is far out of the common and the commonplace.

News-Notes of the Stage.

The good crime-and-inquest play named "The Perfect Alibi" will be taken from the Garrick at the end of next week; and "My Girl Friday," which has been through a run in New-York, will be put in there the night of the 13th.

And "Little Accident," an amusing and sprightly comedy about an unmarried father, will be taken from the Selwyn the 19th, and will be succeeded in that theater, the night of the 20th, by "Paris," a song-and-dance piece which has Miss Irene Bordoni as the principal performer.

Homes, Autos Major Perils, Expert Avers

Safety Conference Finds Danger in Bathtubs.

One out of every 60 accidents in the home results from a slip in the bathtub.

This was announced yesterday before the eighteenth annual Safety congress at the Stevens hotel by E. S. Fallow, actuary of the Travelers Insurance company. He maintained that in the results of the company's research fully 25 per cent of accidents occurring to men are found to be in their homes rather than in industries or on the streets.

"Although men are in their homes only a comparatively short time each day, one-fourth of the accidents to them occur at home," he said. "The number of home accidents annually is nearly three million in this country, second only to the automobile toll. Falls are responsible for nearly 40 per cent. Rugs and shiny floors cause the injuries in one out of 15. Stairs and steps cause one out of seven. One out of every 60 are caused by slips in the tub, and one out of 115 come from missteps getting in and out of bed."

The discussion at the Safety congress varied yesterday from the necessity of tagging icebergs, to the amount of preventive accident conversation advisable from a nurse while dressing a wound. During the day one leader declared that speed is not the main problem in highway regulation; another named the modern flapper as the menace of loop traffic.

A permanent committee will carry on the job of cutting down accidents when the drive of Safety week now on closes Saturday, it was decided yesterday at a meeting held in the office of Police Commissioner William F. Russell, presided over by Leslie J. Sorenson, city traffic engineer. Commissioner Russell will serve as chairman.

Others on the committee are: Chief Justice Harry Olson of the municipal court; Judge George Holmes, Capt. A. Smith of the motorcycle division; Capt. Frank Matchett of the traffic division; Ald. Thomas J. Bowler; Capt. Timothy Howard of the south park police; Sergt. Robert W. Hannah of the west park police; Dr. Miller McClintock, director of Erskine bureau; Robert H. Nau, vice president of Western Electric company and president of Chicago Safety council; George G. Traver, secretary of the Chicago Safety week committee, and Sidney J. Williams, director of public safety of the National Safety council.

The committee will have a subcommittee of Ald. Bowler, Mr. Sorenson, and Mr. Traver, which will set weekly drives by the police against various dangerous traffic rule violations, the first to be the strict enforcement of the ordinance on traffic signal lights, they announced.

Chicago loop traffic moves twice as fast as it did five years ago, as the result of automatic signals and the elimination of left hand turns, Mr. Nau pointed out before the taxicab section of the safety congress.

New York Dealer Offers to Repair Italian Relics

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Oct. 1.—Declaring he had great admiration for Italy and its government, Samuel H. Kress, a New York art dealer, this morning during an audience at the Palazzo Venezia, offered to Signor Mussolini to undertake the restoration of several illustrious Italian monuments at his own expense. Il Duce voiced his warm thanks for this generosity, and later accompanied Mr. Kress to the audience room door.

The monuments to be restored by Kress are: A sixth century Doric column from the Hera temple at Cotrone in southern Italy; the rebuilding of the basilica of Saint Euphemia at Spoleto in central Italy; work on different parts of the Mantuan ducal palace; restoration of the pavement in the crypt of the church of St. John the Evangelist at Ravenna.

WOTTA LIFE! WOTTA LIFE!

Great, Big, Strong He-Man, but He Is Misunderstood

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Streak" Smith's wife is no longer the faithful, home-loving body she once was, according to "Streak." When he arrives home each night he finds the house not clean, the beds not made, and the three children neglected.

"Streak" complains, too, that he has no privacy in his home. His wife opens all his mail and pries into all of his personal affairs. He asked for a divorce, but wifey wouldn't oblige.

"There is a sweet young girl on the other hand," "Streak" tells me, "who I know would make the proper guardian for my children. She does not know that I am married and because of the fact that I love her, I am afraid to tell her. She might refuse to see me. It seems to me that I shall go crazy unless some solution is reached."

Shall go crazy, "Streak"! You'd better be careful or somebody will be leading you up for examination as it is. You don't sound bright to me.

Is there any reason why a wife should play the faithful, home-loving rôle to a man who is philandering around with a young woman? I'd like to hear her side of the case. I'd be willing to wager the house, the beds, and the children aren't as neglected as you make out. They never are with your kind of a alibi-er.

And about the young girl on the other hand! Isn't that a pretty picture you're making of yourself? Big, strong he-man! Misunderstood at home, of course, which, of course again, you're getting ready to tell the sweet young girl when you have to admit the three children. The kids don't understand you either, I'll bet. Nobody understands big, brave man. Only the little girl who doesn't know yet he is married.

Wait until she hears the news about the children and the swell guardian job you have mapped out for her! You won't know what being misunderstood means until she begins on you, which, I hope for her sake, will be soon.

You are my idea of less than a treak. I was going to put an adjective in front of streak. But why should a woman get het up over a smudge within a sex that has so many honorable representatives? I don't know why I should have taken up so much space with you, I'm sure, unless it was that I thought it better to get it out of my system before some worthy human hove in view.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

That's as It Should Be.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 15. My friend goes out with me for pastime. What shall I do? ALICE.

Alice, dear, accept the attentions as pastime both for yourself and the boy. It shouldn't be anything else at your tender age.

A Little Encouragement.

"Dear Miss Blake: A young fellow to whom I am greatly attached is bashful. How can I get to know him better? BABE."

When they're bashful you have to give them more than the ordinary amount of encouragement, Babe.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Melting Brown Sugar.

To the numerous people who have applied to me for an English taffy or toffy recipe, I want to say that I am working on the subject, have bought many different specimens of something that has this name, and I am sending far, far away for other specimens. Just at present it is my opinion that we can get something approximating English taffy by merely melting brown sugar.

It is a little difficult merely to melt sugar, whether white or brown, but it is a way to make a great number of the easiest and most accessible candies, all of which have the nature of brittle. In the case of brown sugar melting without any addition whatever, we must be exceedingly careful to barely melt it because if it bubbles it will burn quickly. Just melted it may have a marshmallow-like consistency, which consistency we would mention as a test of its rightness. It is also a lighter shade than it was before it was melted and when cold will be brittle. If we have melted one cup of the sugar we may add to it then and there one-half cup of finely chopped nuts. If the mixture of nuts and sugar is dropped on a buttered plate, we will get something much like the old fashioned penoche and something much more easily made than that was. If we like, we can add some flavoring.

It is worth emphasizing that the melted of brown sugar is something that is well worth while knowing how to do. The getting of candy in so simple a fashion seems easy, and is, yet we can use very nice care in doing this piece of work. When the brown sugar is melted at just the right stage, and not burned, the least trifle, then we can add the nuts as mentioned, and make the little candy drops which are called kisses.

Perhaps this is the best technique: Put the sugar in a thick bottomed frying pan, warm it slowly and stir until it seems to crawl of itself. Then increase the heat and, if it seems to be going too fast, lift the pan from the fire, and lower the heat. The reason for heating the sugar slowly is that it will be too much dried out and rocky if it is heated rapidly.

Society Owns Fine Homes in Berkshires

BY THALIA ——.

The tax statistics concerning property in the Berkshire Hills owned by Chicagoans and former Chicagoans are enlightening and interesting. Mr. and Mrs. E. Parmalee Prentice [Alta Rockefeller] have in Mount Hope farm at Williamstown the most valuable estate in the Hills. It is listed on the books of the assessors at $705,-710. The property includes 1,000 acres of land and a mansion occupied this season for the first time, on which the assessed valuation is $400,000.

Mr. Prentice, a former Chicagoan, recently bought 92 acres of mountain land in South Williamstown and surrounded it with a wire fence for the protection of the celebrated Indian springs, the water of which, according to a legend of the red men, prolonged life.

Mr. Prentice went back 113 years to secure title to the land.

Mrs. Warren M. Salisbury has the most valuable estate in Pittsfield. It is listed at $141,560. Mrs. Salisbury left last week to visit her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Kimball, at Rumford Falls, Me., and Mrs. Kimball Salisbury returned to Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. West's Court Hill, one of the oldest country places in Pittsfield, is listed at $34,475. The George Higginsons' Lenox property, The Ledge, adjoining the Lenox Golf club, has an assessed valuation of $39,100.

The Wests are closing their place tomorrow, and leaving for a stay in Boston before coming back to Chicago. Miss Kate S. Buckingham's Bald Head property is valued at $53,-60, and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Mets pay on a valuation of $32,700.

Walter B. Smith was a guest of Miss Buckingham last week, and Dr. and Mrs. Mets have been entertaining Gen. and Mrs. Von Bülow and Mrs. De Oliveira Lima of Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Carter H. Harrison Jr., Miss Edith Harrison, Mrs. Benjamin Carpenter, the Telfer MacArthurs, and the John Jay Abbotts were among the Chicagoans who visited in the Berkshire towns during last week.

The Arts club welcomed its members back to town yesterday afternoon with the opening tea of the season. From 4 until 6 o'clock visitors streamed through the lovely rooms and expressed delight at the recent alterations made to enhance the club's sophisticated charm. Tea was served in the art gallery at a long, narrow table decorated with two huge clusters of white gladioli, silver candelabra and white tapers.

The dining room windows have been newly hung with yellow taffeta curtains and red velvet drapes and the windows of the small room adjoining it have been covered with Venetian blinds. Cushioned wall seats of tangerine satin have been built on the stage to facilitate the serving of meals when the dining rooms are crowded and the tall windows above the stage have yellow curtains and tangerine drapes.

The sofa facing the fireplace in the lounge has been covered in moire shading from brown to tan and the two chairs flanking it are upholstered in citron satin. The sofas in the reception rooms have been done in Verona velvet. The club also has acquired half a dozen lovely screens of gold and silver lacquer.

Boxholders for the benefit concert to be given by the Chapel Guild of the Cenacle on Sunday afternoon at the Auditorium include Mrs. Edward F. Carry, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Armour, Mr. and Mrs. William Roy Carney, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Edward I. Cudahy, Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Hurley Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Cudahy, and Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Jelke Jr. should be delighted to know that next year's summer season at fashionable Newport probably will transcend in brilliance and activity the last period, which has been the gayest known in recent years. This is according to the eastern newspapers that announce that the number of sales and rentals already made for next year indicates that there won't be enough villas to go around. The Jelkes have purchased Greystone, the former Wysong villa in Ochre Point avenue, and will join the colony for the first time next year.

Chicagoans who arrived in New York on Monday on the Bremen include Mr. and Mrs. Tracy C. Drake of the Blackstone; Mr. and Mrs. Louis G. Caldwell of 2305 Commonwealth avenue; Mrs. Edward A. Leight of 2400 Lake View avenue, and Samuel Insull.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bard, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Nelson Plamondon, all of Winnetka, returned home last Friday from a ten day sojourn at Longs Peak, Rocky Mountain National Park, Colo., and Colorado Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey McCormick, who have spent the summer at their Wheaton estate, will move into their town residence at 2450 Lake View avenue on Monday.

THEY SAIL FOR CUBA

MRS. JOSEPH F. TWOMEY.
[Ray-Huff-Richier Photo.]

Miss Ruth Elson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Elson of 2210 Estes avenue, and Joseph F. Twomey, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Twomey of Wilmette, were married yesterday morning at St. Margaret Mary church. The ceremony was followed by a breakfast at the residence of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Twomey have left for a two months' honeymoon in Cuba.

Work Is Started for 11 Story Addition to St. Elizabeth Hospital

Ground was broken yesterday for an eleven story addition of St. Elizabeth's hospital on North Claremont avenue between Hirsch and Le Moyne streets. The central structure will cost over $1,000,000, according to Sister Baptiste, mother superior of the hospital. Later two additional wings will be built.

The first shovel of earth was turned by William L. Runzel, chairman of the board. The Rev. Father George Niekamp, hospital chaplain, Dr. W. C. Sanford, member of the hospital staff for the last 39 years, W. S. Hausman, president of Noel State bank, and the Rev. Father William I. Collins, chaplain of St. Ann's hospital, took part in the ground breaking ceremony.

Empty Jail Building Sought as School to Teach Trades to Boys

The old county jail, empty, on North Dearborn street, could be turned, with little trouble, into a criminal saving industrial school, according to Mrs. Ernest R. Graham, 25 Banks street. Her avocation during recent years has been rescue work among first offenders.

Mrs. Graham urged such a conversion of the building yesterday after claiming success for one of her recent experiments, that of accepting responsibility for the future of Robert O'Brien, 21 years old, who in August tried to hang himself in a police cell while being held for stealing a leather jacket. O'Brien, she declared, is going to night school and making good wages as a machinist.

DEAN INGE QUOTES SHAKESPEARE FOR WEDDING IN LONDON

[Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Shakespeare was quoted by Dean W. R. Inge of St. Paul's today, officiating at the wedding of Prof. Linetta Castelvecchio, daughter of Countess Castelecchio, of New York to the Rev. Robert D. Richardson, vicar of Four Oaks, Warwickshire. The lines were:

Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediments: love is not love

Millions of Christmas Seals Ready to Use in Tuberculosis Fight

Although the Yuletide season is nearly three months away, Christmas seals—millions of them—have been received by the Chicago Tuberculosis institute, 360 North Michigan avenue, Mrs. Theodore B. Sachs, superintendent, said yesterday. These seals will be used in the annual campaign from Thanksgiving to New Year's to raise funds for the institute's public health work in Chicago and Cook county.

The seals are obtained from the National Tuberculosis association, New York, of which the Chicago institute is one of 1,400 branches. The seal this year is in the design of a medieval youth ringing a church bell.

WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Charlotte Elizabeth Rich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Rich of Evanston, to William Walton Knight Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Walton Knight of Evanston, took place at 8:30 last evening at the First Congregational church of Evanston. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the Evanston Country club.

The bride was attended by Mrs. George Hall Willis as matron of honor and by Miss Marian Knight, Miss Elizabeth Anne Hughes, Miss Helen Scudder, all of Evanston, Miss Eleanor Rich of New York City and Mrs. Louise Mitchell McKaig of Buffalo, as bridesmaids.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover have as house guests at the White House the American ambassador to Mexico, Dwight W. Morrow, Frederick E. Murphy of Minneapolis, John L. McNab of San Francisco, and Mrs. Large, sister of Mrs. Hoover, and her son and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Chapin of Detroit who were guests at the White House returned today to their home. President and Mrs. Hoover had among other guests dining with them last night Senator and Mrs. Tasker L. Oddie, George W. Wickersham, former attorney general; Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Casper Miller, formerly of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gallagher. They had some other guests at dinner tonight to meet their house guests.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Oct. 1.—[Special.]—Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, who have closed Beaulieu, their Newport villa for the season, returned here on their yacht O-We-Ra and went to their home on 5th avenue.

Princess Viggo of Denmark is at the Forges, Ringwood Manor, N. J., with her aunt, Miss Sarah Cooper Hewitt.

JOIN THIS HAPPY CIRCLE—WITH PEBECO

One reason why you see so many happy, healthy young girls today with such lovely, healthy-looking teeth is because there IS a dentifrice that does more than clean. It is Pebeco. Pebeco works three ways—it cleans, it whitens and it checks "acid-mouth", the forerunner of cavities and decay. Discover it for yourself! ## Know Your Child and Accept Him for What He Is

By Miss Gladys Huntington Bevans

"Bill has quite perfect manners," you may think to yourself. "I wish my Jim wasn't so excessively natural." And you envy Sally her Chesterfieldian spouse.

Or you meet Arch on the street and later you think, "Arch certainly knows how to wear his clothes. I wonder why Jim's clothes always look as if he'd slept in them."

Or you have a gay evening and on the way home you regret that Jim is so sober—that he can't swing a party the way Sam can and keep everyone amused or even uproarious.

But most of the time you forget all this because it's Jim you love, and his genuineness and sweet temper and steadiness are pretty nice to live with.

Unless a mother is blinded by her love for her children she will have times when she'll compare them with other children to their disadvantage. She wants her children—even though she knows it's unreasonable—to be perfect. At times she wishes they were like her sister Mary's or her cousin's or her neighbor's. Mary's daughter is so helpful around the house, her cousin's boy always looks so spruced up and has such beautiful table manners, and her neighbor's children are always so docile and even tempered.

Don't you find yourself thinking things like this once in a while? Don't you have times when you wish your children were like this one or that one in some particular?

And then—just as surely as you do—have you ever noticed how that feeling is swept aside by some act or quality of your own child that suddenly makes you glad he or she is just as he—or she—is?

This is in a way a realization of the integrity of their personality—a recognition of their identity. Your child is himself. He is exactly like no one else in the world, just as no fingerprint is exactly like any other that has ever been taken.

So, for the reason that he is so much himself, don't wish him to be like anyone else. Don't try to make him over, to remodel him. Love him and help him to make the most of himself as he is, appreciating that he has the defects that complement his virtues. As an instance, perhaps you think you'd like him quiet and clean—but he's so well and so vital that instead he's noisy and is always getting dirty. Instead of trying to throttle him down, give him every outlet for that energy as well as directing it, too, and dress him—or her—in clothes that allow for unhampered activity.

HAROLD TEEN—FUNNY GOINGS ON HERE

Long, Supple Lines in Boudoir Costumes

BY JEANETTE EATON.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—At last the restoration of Empire styles has taken place! Patou, long a royalist in politics of mode, has made many subtle attempts to have this restoration publicly and completely recognized. And finally, in one department of costume, his dream has come true. In the boudoir the Empire line has definitely been established.

Behold the model we are showing today and make obeisance! Nothing could be more utterly charming for a negligee than this long, supple line which permits entire freedom of movement and yet conforms to the ruling theory of high waisted effects. Peach velvet executes this creation and peach chiffon the long sleeves split at the elbow. A grouping of peach and pink roses indicates the waistline in the back and together with the revers front and back constitutes the only ornamentation. High heeled sandals of pink velvet are selected here.

Velvet in fruity or pastel shades is being strongly stressed as a medium for the negligee. Moreover, together with lamé, this fabric is a great favorite in the execution of jackets for the lounging pajama. The latter has participated in the great urge to more feminine effects which influences every department of the costume. Its accompanying gilet is likely to be frilly or finished with lacy and elegant effects.

One of the most boyish among the collections is a pajama inspired to develop a Spanish theme. Heavy black satin is used for the flaring trousers and bolero jacket and the long sleeved blouse is of orange crêpe. The latter tucks under a wide sash of orange and black. The crêpe lines the bolero and faces the trousers.

A small neighbor lad, who recently reached the age of 6, has not greatly enjoyed being obliged to spend his days in school. Realizing that he must go, he has not made much fuss about it, but he has felt very keenly the curtailing of his freedom. The other night his mother overheard him talking to himself when he was getting ready for bed. Wearily he sighed and remarked, "O, I wish I was just a boy again." E. A.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Wants Art Materials.

"Is there any one among your readers who has any artists' materials to give away? I am a student in the public schools and have been studying art in my spare time, attending free lectures and classes when I can. My father is a poor man, unable to buy us all the things we need, and, although he would like to have me complete my education in art, it is impossible unless I can get these materials through you. L. R."

I have no doubt that this boy possesses artistic ability and a talent that should be developed. His eagerness, alone, proves how deserving he is.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

Clean out the flower garden and borders in the fall and do not wait for the urge of the first warm days in spring, if you would have beautiful, healthy flowers and shrubs.

Prof. H. H. Whetzel of the plant pathology at Cornell university says most diseases of perennial flowers are caused by fungi which live over the winter in the old tops and leaves that are usually left to decay about the crowns of the plants. Even a thorough cleanup in the spring will not prevent the infection of the new shoots from these fungi. It is necessary to cut off the old plants close to the ground and burn them not later than October to destroy the disease carrying tissues.

Prof. Whetzel cites three common perennials as examples of plants subject to diseases which can be controlled by the fall cleanup. The peony, which is seen in nearly every dooryard, is afflicted with the common Botrytis blight, a fungus disease. The spores which live over the winter in the old stems and leaves germinate in the spring and cause many of the new shoots to wilt and rot off at the base. Later, ants carry the spores to the developed buds and gradually the whole plant may be affected with the blight. It is not enough to cut off the tops of the peony in the fall to control this disease. The soil should be dug away from the crown and the stems should be cut off close to the new buds to remove all of the diseased tissue. The crowns should then be covered with fresh soil from another part of the garden. It is also important to remove the diseased shoots during the spring.

Another plant which responds to the fall cleanup is the iris. Iris is susceptible to a fungus which causes leaf spot. This disease is so common that many believe it to be the natural summer condition of iris rather than a disease. The spores of the fungus live over winter in the dead diseased leaves and then germinate and infect the tender new leaves in the spring. Only watery areas are noticed at first, but by June or July the plants look as if they had been swept by fire. All the diseased parts should be cut away in early autumn and burned. The iris leaf spot not only ruins the leaves but it so weakens the plant that it affects the quality of the blooms the following year.

Phlox is the third perennial flower which Prof. Whetzel mentions. Several diseases attrack the foliage of this plant and leave it naked of leaves halfway up from the ground before the flowers open. The result is that the clusters of blossoms are often small and unsatisfactory, to say nothing of the unsightly appearance of the plants as a whole. Two or three fungi, of which the mildew is the most common, may cause this condition, and they can live over the winter in the fallen leaves, débris, and even in the standing stalks. The tops should always be removed before winter comes and badly diseased plants should be cut out during the summer.

Religious Paper Editor Lauds Kellogg Pact Against Warfare

C. B. Grubb of Bloomington was re-elected president of the Illinois Christian Missionary society and Mrs. William H. Hart of Benton was elected president of the woman's branch of the society. All other officers of both societies were reelected. This was announced at the annual convention of the Churches of the Disciples of Christ, meeting this week in their 69th session at Oak Park.

Dr. Charles C. Morrison, editor of the Christian Century, who recently drew censure from Senator Carter H. Glass of Virginia for his defense of Bishop James Cannon, speaking yesterday before the convention, told of his emotional reactions when he saw the signing of the Kellogg peace pact in Paris. Dr. Morrison declared that the great need before the country now in regard to the continuation of peace is to teach every man, woman, and child the meaning of the Kellogg treaty. He declared that school histories should not be allowed to teach the glories of war, but rather they should plant the idea of war's destructiveness and horrors.

Potatoes All Over Street.

An embarrassing moment came to me one day when I was going uptown. I had to get quite a few groceries so I thought I would take the small wagon. I had to cross a busy street on the way back. I was nearly half way across when the potato bag broke. There were potatoes rolling all over the street. The traffic was stopped and I had to go back over the street and pick up my potatoes. And to make it worse some one called out, "when do we eat?" S. H.

FOR some time the young wife had realized that things were changing between herself and her husband. They went out rarely, they did not enjoy the companionship they had at first.

AAA1 SALESMEN. THE FASTEST SELLING ARTICLES IN AMERICA.

Full page advertising in the Chicago Tribune starts next Sunday. We furnish salesmen merchandise in dozen lots at a lower price than they could probably buy it from the manufacturer in 100,000 lots. It is the fastest moving, most salable merchandise in America.

We made approximately 7,000 sales a day within thirty days from the time we started in business. Our business is only a few weeks old, but hundreds of men have made from $25 to $150 a day with our merchandise.

We will give exclusive territorial franchises to men who can produce a reasonable volume of sales.

We just got in three new lines, each of which is the biggest flash and the biggest eye value you have ever seen in direct selling. Come in and see and judge for yourself. ## REAL ESTATE LOANS.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

If you had the opportunity of meeting our customers and talking over the details of a "mere trifling $500" loan, you would certainly be impressed with the importance of that loan to the borrower and how big a figure it cuts in his financial affairs.

Our second mortgage loans are naturally of larger denomination. Yet as real estate transactions go they are not what you would call big loans. Think of this—if a $500 loan made through the Personal Loan & Savings Bank is of big importance to the average family in shaping up its financial affairs, how much more important must be a loan of even larger amount which has to do with the home the family lives in?

It is the business of the Personal Loan & Savings Bank to do small things BIG. It is the business of our real estate loan department to be even bigger in its handling of loans backed by the home.

Our rates and terms are extremely fair. You may pay as low as 2% of the principal per month, plus interest which does not exceed 6½%, and a commission deducted at the time the loan is made as follows:

90.00 per 1,000 for 3 years.
